Attachment A

Response to Comments on the December 6, 2011, Public Notice

I. Information/Background: On December 6, 2011, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Los Angeles District (SPL), issued a public notice for the U.S. Forest Service (USFS) Notice of Availability of the Draft Environmental Impact Statement (EIS), and request for comments on the proposal by Rosemont Copper Company (RCC) to discharge dredged and/or fill material into waters of the U.S. for the construction of a proposed copper mine approximately 30 miles southeast of Tucson, Arizona. The public notice comment period was identified as ending on January 5, 2011. As a result of the public notice, SPL received 7,030 letters or emails dated prior to the end of the public comment period. Of these comment letters or emails, 449 were in support of the proposed action, and the remaining 6,581 provided information or expressed concerns with, or opposition to, the proposed action. On January 6, 2011, SPL extended the public notice comment period to January 19, 2011.

Since the close of the public comment letter, 367 letters or emails have been submitted to SPL and the South Pacific Division (SPD) related to the proposed action. Of those, 149 were in support of the proposed action, and the remaining 218 provided information or expressed concerns with or opposition to, the proposed action. Since the public notice was issued in December 2011, a total of 7,397 comment letters/emails have been received, 598 in support of the proposed action, and 6,799 providing information or expressing concerns with, or opposition to, the proposed action. All comments on the proposed action are located in the administrative record. Appendix A of this document contains the December 11, 2011, public notice issued by the Corps. Appendix B of this document contains comment matrixes for all comment letters/emails received during and following the public notice comment period. The comment matrix contains the date(s) the letter/email was received, name of the commenter, agency/organization (if applicable), whether the comment was a form letter, and, the name of the form letter (if applicable).

Of the 594 comment letters/emails supporting the proposed action, 19 (received after the close of the public notice comment period) were form letters that provided the same, or very similar comments and six commenters provided comments on two separate occasions. Comments in the 594 total comment letters/emails supporting the proposed action primarily related to the economic benefits of the proposed action as a result of a direct and indirect increase in employment through the life of the mine and increase in state and local taxes; comments related to future job opportunities for the commenter;

the ability of the proposed action to contribute to the increased need for copper in the United States; a reduction in the need to rely on foreign import of copper; and avoidance and minimization measures incorporated by the applicant, which the commenters believe would allow for a more environmentally sustainable project than previous and existing copper mining operations. The comments in support of the proposed action are noted. The environmental effects, both beneficial and detrimental, of the proposed action under the Corps' scope have been fully discussed within the EIS, Supplemental Impact Reports (SIR), and are further identified in the Record of Decision (ROD), and therefore these comments will not be further discussed.

Of the remaining 6,799 comment letters/emails received, 6,347 were one of two form letters (Say No to the Rosemont Mine and Deny Augusta Resources' permit) and emails that provided the same, or very similar comments. Of the form letters, 125 commenters provided the same letter/email twice, seven commenters provided the same letter/email three times, and two commenters provided the same letter/email four times. If a comment was received by an individual with the same name and home address and/or email address, it was assumed to be the same individual. For duplicate form letters, if the name of the commenter was the same but the home address was not provided or was different, or if the email address was different, it was assumed to be a different individual. A number of commenters also provided both versions of the form letter, although these have not been quantified. In addition, 61 of the comments/emails consisting of the same postcard were received in January 2019, requesting denial of the proposed action, with no substantive comments not already received. The remaining 391 comment letters/emails were identified as unique. On February 8, 2012, SPL provided the comment letters/emails received during the public notice comment period to the applicant to solicit their response and additional information. On July 10, 2012, the applicant provided a response to the comments (herein referred to as the applicant's/their response to comments), which is located in the record. In addition, the applicant has provided a number of responses to subsequent comments received by agencies or organizations since the public notice, which are also located in the administrative record.

All comments of concern or opposition from form letters and unique comment letters, including those received both during and following the public notice comment period, fall within 32 topic areas, as identified in Table 1.

On January 5, 2012, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Region 9 (USEPA), submitted a letter identifying that per Part IV, paragraph 3(a) of the August 11, 1992, Clean Water Act Section 404(q), Memorandum of Agreement Between the Environmental Protection Agency and the Department of the Army (USEPA-DA 404(q) MOA), the proposed action may result in substantial and unacceptable effects to aquatic resources of national importance (ARNIs). On February 13, 2012, USEPA submitted a letter identifying that per Part IV, paragraph 3(b) of the USEPA-DA 404(q) MOA, the proposed action will result in the significant degradation of waters of the U.S., including substantial and unacceptable effects to ARNIs. Because the February 13, 2012, letter from USEPA was submitted within the timeframe identified in Part IV, paragraph 3(b) of the USEPA-DA 404(q) MOA (i.e. 25 days after the close of the public notice or extended public notice comment period), if the decision of the Corps is to issue a permit for the proposed action, the Corps will follow Part IV, paragraph 3(c) of the USEPA-DA 404(q) MOA. In addition, since the close of the public comment period, USEPA has submitted a number of additional comments letters related to the proposed action as well as the proposed compensatory mitigation. Responses to all of the comment letters submitted by USEPA fall within the topic areas identified above, and are fully addressed below.

On January 19, 2012, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS), Arizona Ecological Services Office, submitted a letter identifying that per Part IV, paragraph 3(a) of the December 21, 1992, Clean Water Act Section 404(q), Memorandum of Agreement Between the Department of the Interior and the Department of the Army (USDOI-DA 404(q) MOA), the proposed action may result in significant and unacceptable effects to ARNIs. On February 17, 2012, the USFWS, Southwest Region submitted a letter identifying that per part IV, paragraph 3(b) of the USDOI-DA 404(q) MOA, the proposed action will have substantial and unacceptable effects on ARNIs. Because the February 17, 2012, letter from USFWS was not submitted within the timeframe identified in Part IV, paragraph 3(b) of the USDOI-DA 404(q) MOA (i.e. 25 days after the close of the public notice of extended public notice comment period, which should have been no later than February 13, 2012), the Corps has determined that the USDOI-DA 404(g) MOA is not applicable, and therefore, if the decision of the Corps is to issue a permit for the proposed action, the Corps will not follow Part IV, paragraph 3(c) of the USDOI-DA 404(q) MOA. However, the Corps has reviewed the letter submitted by USFWS, and determined the specific comments fall within the topic areas identified in Table 1, and are fully addressed below.

This response to comments document responds to all comments received before and after the close of the public notice comment period, all of which fall into the topic areas identified above. However, comments and their responses received from federally-recognized Native American tribes or their representatives as part of the government-to-government consultation conducted by the Corps are not included in this response to comment document. The attorney for the tribes raised non-tribal issues during the government-to-government consultation. The Corps has reviewed those comments and determined they fall within the topics identified in Table 1, and have been addressed. See Section VI.i of the ROD for information related to the government-to-government consultation conducted with Native American tribes.

The following is a summary of the general concerns for each of the topic areas identified above, and the Corps' response to those comments.

II. Response to Comments: Table 1 identifies the 32 topic areas relevant to the comments submitted since the December 11, 2011, public notice issued by SPL.

1. Concerns Related to the Environmental Impact Statement:

- a. Comments: A number of commenters indicated the Final EIS prepared by the USFS is inadequate.
- b. Corps Response: The USFS is the lead federal agency for preparation of the EIS for compliance with NEPA. The Corps was a cooperating agency on the preparation of the EIS. Following release of the Final EIS, the USFS released two SIRs responding to new information that had been received. As identified in Section III of the ROD, the Corps' scope of analysis under the CWA is limited to the discharge of dredged/fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with clearing, grubbing, and grading prior to the operations associated with extraction of copper and other material, as well as the discharge of fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with construction of off-site infrastructure. The Corps' scope of analysis also includes any permittee-responsible compensatory mitigation actions required to compensate for the loss of waters of the U.S. The Corps, as a cooperating agency on the EIS, provided review and assistance to the USFS during the completion of the EIS, and has reviewed the two SIRs prepared by the USFS. The Corps has determined the Final EIS sufficiently describes the effects of the proposed action within the Corps' scope of analysis. The effects of the proposed action under the Corps scope are substantially smaller than the effects under the scope of the USFS, as the Corps does not have control or responsibility over the proposed mining operations. While commenters have provided additional information related to the effects of the proposed action, these comments relate primarily to activities outside of the Corps' scope (e.g. groundwater drawdown and downstream effects to Outstanding Arizona Waters (OAWs) as a result of the operations of the proposed mine), or would not result in new potentially significant effects not already analyzed in the EIS.

2. General concerns regarding the proposed action and concerns regarding the public interest review:

- a. Comments: A number of commenters expressed concern that the economic and community benefits of the proposed action do not outweigh the potential environmental effects. A number of commenters also stated they believe the project is not in the public interest or contrary to the public interest.
- b. Corps Response: In making a determination on whether to issue a permit for the proposed action, the Corps must make two fundamental determinations: (1) whether or not the proposed action is contrary to the public interest; and (2) whether or not the proposed action complies with the USEPA's Section 404(b)(1) Guidelines for the Specification of Disposal Sites (Guidelines). The Corps must also ensure the proposed action is in compliance with NEPA and other Federal laws, regulations, guidance, and executive orders (e.g. Section 7 of the Endangered Species Act (ESA), Section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act (NHPA)).

The Corps regulations at 33 C.F.R. 320.4 identify that "The decision whether to issue a permit will be based on an evaluation of the probable impacts, including cumulative impacts, of the proposed activity and its intended use on the public interest. Evaluation of the probable impact which the proposed activity may have on the public interest requires a careful weighing of all those factors which become relevant in each particular case." The Corps regulations further identify that "all factors which may be relevant to the proposal must be considered including the cumulative effects thereof," and includes, but is not limited to, 20 potential resource areas where direct, indirect, and cumulative effects should be considered and evaluated, if applicable. When weighing the effects of the action for the public interest review, the Corps must determine the importance and relevance of a factor to the particular proposal, and must give full consideration and appropriate weight to all comments. While considered, effects that are more "attenuated" (i.e. would occur further away in distance or later in time), are given less weight than those effects that are near the project site and would occur in the near future. Only those effects that would occur as a result of the proposed action requiring a permit from the Corps (i.e. the discharge of dredged and/or fill material into waters of the U.S.), are considered in conducting the public interest review (See Section III.b of the ROD, as well as Regulatory Guidance Letter 88-13, Subject: National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) Scope of Analysis and Alternatives). As further described in Corps regulations at 33 C.F.R. 320.4, provided an activity subject to Section 404 of the CWA complies with the Guidelines, and any other applicable guidelines and criteria, a permit will be granted unless the Corps determines that the proposed action would be contrary to the public interest.

As identified in Section III of the ROD, the Corps' scope of analysis for the public interest review and Guidelines is limited to the effects associated with the discharge of dredged/fill material into waters of the U.S. as a result of clearing, grubbing, and grading prior to the operations associated with extraction of copper and other material, as well as the discharge of fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with construction of off-site infrastructure. The Corps' scope of analysis also includes any permittee-responsible compensatory mitigation actions required to compensate for the loss of waters of the U.S. Therefore, comments related to impacts associated with operations of the mine are outside of the Corps' scope and jurisdiction. Any direct, indirect, and cumulative effects associated with the discharge of dredged or fill material into waters of the U.S. and adjacent upland areas, including those to any applicable resource areas identified within the EIS, or required for the Corps public interest review or determination on compliance with the Guidelines are within the Corps scope.

In conducting the public interest review, the Corps utilized the June 2011 Draft EIS, December 2013 Final EIS, May 22, 2015, SIR, the July 20, 2016, Second SIR, comments submitted by the public, agencies, and other organizations, as well as other information submitted by the applicant. See Section VIII and IX of the ROD for the Corps' public interest review. The Corps' final decision on whether or not the proposed action is contrary to the public interest is located in Section IX of the ROD.

3. Groundwater Quality and Quantity:

- a. Comments: The majority of comments submitted related to effects to water, from potential groundwater drawdown to seepage effects on groundwater, to effects to specific aquatic resources. A number of comments received were regarding potential effects to groundwater quantity and quality, including: future availability of Central Arizona Project (CAP) water as a source for aquifer recharge; effects to private and public wells from drawdown and contamination; creation of a hydraulic "sink" from the proposed pit lake; effects from population growth; potential for contamination from tailings, waste rock, and heap leach pad facilities; treatment of seepage post-mine closure; potential for leaching of contaminated pit lake water into the aquifer; the ability for liners to prevent leaks; the validity of the groundwater models used to characterize water quality; the potential for exceeding Arizona Aquifer Water Quality Standards; and potential effects to cave resources as a result of seepage. Comments were also received after the close of the public notice comment period, identifying the reasons the commenters believed the effects from groundwater drawdown should be within the Corps' scope of analysis.
- b. Corps Response: As identified in Section III of the ROD, the Corps' scope of analysis for the public interest review and Guidelines is limited to the effects associated with the discharge of dredged/fill material into waters of the U.S. as a result of clearing, grubbing, and grading prior to the operations associated with extraction of copper and other material, as well as the discharge of fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with construction of off-site infrastructure. The Corps' scope of analysis also includes any permittee-responsible compensatory mitigation actions required to compensate for the loss of waters of the U.S. Therefore, comments related to impacts associated with operations of the mine are outside of the Corps' scope and jurisdiction.

Any direct, indirect, and cumulative effects associated with the discharge of dredged or fill material into waters of the U.S. and adjacent upland areas, including those to any applicable resource areas identified within the EIS, or required for the Corps public interest review or determination on compliance with the Guidelines are within the Corps scope. The evaluation of the effects of the proposed action on groundwater, including those effects outside of the Corps scope associated with mining operations, has been analyzed in Chapter 3, Groundwater Quantity and Groundwater Quality and Geochemistry, of the Draft EIS and Final EIS. The Corps, as a cooperating agency on the EIS, was involved in the preparation and review of the Draft and Final EIS. In addition, the Corps has reviewed the SIR and Second SIR, and believes these documents incorporate the best available information on the effects of the proposed action on groundwater.

See Section VIII and IX of the ROD, for a discussion of the effects of the proposed action on the physical, chemical, biological, and human use characteristics of the aquatic environment and the effects on the public interest, as it relates to the Corps' scope of analysis. The final decision on whether or not the proposed action complies with the Guidelines is located in Section VIII of the ROD; the Corps' final decision on whether or not the proposed action is contrary to the public interest is located in Section IX of the ROD.

With regards to comments identifying reasons the commenters believe the effects from groundwater drawdown should be within the Corps' scope of analysis under the CWA, the Corps disagrees with these commenters as described in Section III and Section VIII of the ROD. Commenters identified that because the groundwater is hydrologically connected to surface waters, the Corps must analyze the effects to groundwater. Section 404 of the Clean Water Act (33 U.S.C. 1344) authorizes the Secretary of the Army, operating through the Chief of Engineers, to issue permits, "after notice and opportunity for public hearings for the discharge of dredged or fill material into the navigable waters at specified disposal sites." The Corps' 1986 regulations at 33 C.F.R. 328.3, which are currently being utilized in Arizona, define waters of the U.S., which does not include groundwater. Therefore, groundwater is not a water of the U.S. The Corps acknowledges that under the Section 404(b)(1) Guidelines, the Corps must evaluate the direct, secondary, and cumulative effects of the proposed discharge on the aquatic ecosystem. The aquatic ecosystem is defined in 40 C.F.R. 230.3(c) to mean waters of the U.S., including wetlands, that serve as habitat for interrelated and interacting communities and populations of plants and animals. As identified previously, waters of the U.S. do not include groundwater, and therefore groundwater is not considered to be part of the aquatic ecosystem. Secondary effects of the proposed discharge on the aquatic ecosystem have been fully considered as described in Section VIII of the ROD. To the extent there are impacts to groundwater, they are the result of activities that do not require a permit under Section 404 of the CWA, including the operation of the mine. Commenters suggested that a secondary effect of the discharge is the operation of the mine, which will result in groundwater drawdown, which in turn could have a secondary effect on waters of the U.S. Simply put, this is too attenuated a connection. The Guidelines require the analysis of secondary impacts of the discharge on the aquatic ecosystem, not an analysis of the possible third, fourth or fifth order effects. Moreover, the fact that surface water may drain into ground water does not render groundwater jurisdictional. Additionally, any effects of the groundwater drawdown on hydrologically connected waters are the effects of the removal of the groundwater for the operation of the mine, not of regulated discharges into the groundwater. Suggestions that the Corps must consider whether groundwater drawdown adversely affects hydrologically connected surface waters miss the point that groundwater impacts are not due to discharges regulated under the CWA. They are due to the operation of the mine. Therefore, regardless of whether recent studies have shown that the groundwater is hydrologically connected to the surface waters, the effects caused by groundwater drawdown associated with operations of the mine are not within the Corps' scope of analysis under the CWA.

4. Surface Water Quality and Quantity:

a. Comments: A number of commenters, including commenting agencies, tribes, and organizations, expressed concerns related to surface water effects, including changes in surface flow related to drought, projected climate change and flooding, alteration of surface flows, potential for acid rock drainage, and general water quality concerns. Many comments also related to the effects to surface water quality and quantity as a result of groundwater drawdown from operations of the proposed mine. Following the end of the public comment period, Pima County provided a comment letter identifying previous mining activities in the area may have already adversely affected water quality of the region, and stated the applicant should be held accountable for investigating and remediating areas where previous mining activities have occurred.

Comments were also provided on the Section 401 Water Quality Certification (WQC) issued by the Arizona Department of Environmental Quality (ADEQ), with USEPA commenting regarding other water quality concerns related to the proposed action, and Pima County commenting that ADEQ did not follow proper procedures when issuing the 401 WQC. Following the end of the public comment period, Pima County provided comments that ADEQ has not correctly identified livestock watering as designated uses in many of the ephemeral drainages in Pima County. Within their letter, Pima County identified that as a result of not identifying the correct uses of ephemeral drainages, a less stringent standard to evaluate the Rosemont mine was used than what is required (1.3 mg/L used instead of 0.5 mg/L).

b. Corps Response: As identified in Section III of the ROD, the Corps' scope of analysis for the public interest review and Guidelines is limited to the discharge of dredged/fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with clearing, grubbing, and grading prior to the operations associated with extraction of copper and other material. The Corps' scope of analysis also includes any permittee-responsible compensatory mitigation actions required to compensate for the loss of waters of the U.S. Therefore, comments related to impacts associated with operations of the mine, including those related to surface water quality and quantity as a result of groundwater drawdown, are outside of the Corps' scope and jurisdiction. Any direct, indirect, and cumulative effects associated with the discharge of dredged or fill material into waters of the U.S. and adjacent upland areas, including those to any applicable resource areas identified within the EIS, or required for the Corps public interest review or determination on compliance with the Guidelines are within the Corps scope. However, the evaluation of the effects of the proposed action on surface water and climate change, including those effects outside of the Corps scope related to mining operations, has been analyzed in Chapter 3, Air Quality and Climate Change, Surface Water Quantity, and Surface Water Quality of the Draft EIS and Final EIS, and is further discussed in the SIR and Second SIR. The Corps, as a cooperating agency on the EIS, was involved in the preparation and review of the Draft and Final EIS. In addition, the Corps has reviewed the SIR and Second SIR, and believes these documents incorporate the best available information on the effects of the proposed action. The Corps does not believe it is appropriate to analyze changes in surface flow related to drought, as these effects would not be caused by the proposed action, and are therefore outside of the scope of the regulatory program. See Section VIII and IX of the ROD, for a discussion of the effects of the proposed action on the physical, chemical, biological, and human use characteristics of the aquatic environment and the effects on the public interest, as it relates to the Corps' scope of analysis. The final decision on whether or not the proposed action complies with the Guidelines is located in Section VIII of the ROD; the Corps' final decision on whether or not the proposed action is contrary to the public interest is located in Section IX of the ROD.

With regards to the comments related to previous mining activities on the project site, these comments are noted. Any water quality effects as a result of previous mining activities are not within the Corps' scope of analysis, and the Corps does not have the authority to require the applicant to undertake any clean-up or remediation for previous mining activities that did not require a Corps permit and for which the applicant did not undertake.

With regards to USEPA's comments advising of other water quality aspects to be taken into consideration, Corps regulations at 33 C.F.R. 320.4(d) identifies the Section 401 WQC will be considered conclusive with respect to water quality considerations unless the Regional Administrator, USEPA, advises of other water quality aspects to be taken into consideration. Section VIII of the ROD includes the Corps final determination on the USEPA's other water quality aspects to be considered, and whether or not the proposed action will violate state water quality standards. The USEPA Regional Administrator did not advise of other water quality aspects associated with the proposed compensatory mitigation site, and therefore in accordance with 33 C.F.R. 320.4(d), the Section 401 WQC is considered conclusive for water quality considerations, including maintenance of designated uses under the authority of the state. With regards to Pima County's comments related to the process by which ADEQ issued their Section 401 WQC, the Corps is not the responsible agency to determine whether or not ADEQ followed appropriate procedures in issuance of the Section 401 WQC. Therefore, this comment is outside of the scope of the Corps' Regulatory Program.

With regards to comments related to designated uses for livestock watering, these uses for the purpose of water quality standards are determined by the state, not the Corps. However, even if water quality standards for agricultural livestock watering were used as the standard in the Final EIS, as identified in Table 105 of the Final EIS (pg. 475), the predicted water quality of runoff for copper is far less than the 0.50 mg/L Pima County identified should have been used as the standard, as the maximum predicted runoff for copper would be 0.0085 mg/L, occurring from waste rock. Therefore, even if agricultural livestock watering and their subsequent water quality standards were utilized, runoff would not exceed those standards, and this comment does not change the analysis.

5. Outstanding Arizona Waters and Special Aquatic Sites

- a. Comments: Commenters expressed concern about downstream effects to Davidson Canyon and Cienega Creek related to surface water quantity and quality, and groundwater drawdown. Some specific concerns included reduction of sediment delivery to Davidson Canyon Wash and Cienega Creek; potential increases in suspended sediments due to channel scouring; reduction of surface flow in Davidson Canyon; groundwater drawdown reducing stream flow and affecting surface water quality; alteration of the geomorphic characteristics of the channels; and overall reduction in groundwater recharge functions in Davidson Canyon. Following the end of the public notice comment period, Pima County also provided a comment indicating the applicant has requested the State remove the designation of Davidson Canyon as an OAW. USEPA also commented that the proposed action would adversely affect three special aquatic sites (wetlands, sanctuaries and refuges, and riffle and pool complexes).
- b. Corps Response: As identified in Section III of the ROD, the Corps' scope of analysis for the public interest review and Guidelines is limited to the discharge of dredged/fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with clearing, grubbing, and grading prior to the operations associated with extraction of copper and other material. The Corps' scope of analysis also includes any permittee-responsible compensatory mitigation actions required to compensate for the loss of waters of the U.S. Therefore. comments related to impacts associated with operations of the mine are outside of the Corps' scope and jurisdiction. Any direct, indirect, and cumulative effects associated with the discharge of dredged or fill material into waters of the U.S. and adjacent upland areas, including those to any applicable resource areas identified within the EIS, or required for the Corps public interest review or determination on compliance with the Guidelines are within the Corps scope. The evaluation of the effects of the proposed action on OAWs, including those effects outside of the Corps scope related to mining operations, has been analyzed in Chapter 3, Surface Water Quantity; Surface Water Quality; and Seeps, Springs, and Riparian Areas in the Draft and Final EIS, and is further discussed in the SIR and Second SIR prepared by USFS. The Corps, as a cooperating agency on the EIS, was involved in the preparation and review of the Draft and Final EIS. In addition, the Corps has reviewed the SIR and Second SIR, and believes these documents incorporate the best available information on the effects of the proposed action on OAWs. The Corps has also reviewed and evaluated information submitted in the comments received, including those submitted by the USEPA regarding other water quality considerations, the Section 401 WQC issued by the Arizona Department of Environmental Quality (ADEQ), responses by ADEQ to USEPA, and information submitted by the applicant to determine whether significant degradation to the aquatic environment would occur from potential effects to surface water quality or quantity. See Section VIII and IX of the ROD, for a discussion of the effects of the proposed action on the physical, chemical, biological, and human use characteristics of the aquatic environment and the effects on the public interest, as it relates to the Corps' scope of analysis. The final decision on whether or not the proposed action complies with the Guidelines is located in Section VIII of the ROD; the Corps' final decision on whether or not the proposed action is contrary to the public interest is located in Section IX of the ROD.

With regards to the comment related to attempts by the applicant to remove the OAW designation for Davidson Canyon, this comment is outside of the scope of the Corps' regulatory program. The designation of OAWs is made by the State and any changes to that designation will be made by the State.

With regards to comments related to the project adversely affecting special aquatic sites, the Corps has conducted an analysis of the potential direct and secondary affects to special aquatic sites as a result of the proposed action on the mine site, as described in Section VIII.a.4 of the ROD. As described in Section VIII.a.4 of the ROD, the proposed action would not adversely affect special aquatic sites. Any indirect effects to waters of the U.S., as a result of activities outside of the Corps' scope have been evaluated in the EIS prepared by USFS.

6. Extent of waters of the U.S.:

- a. Comments: Pima County and USEPA expressed concern that the extent of waters of the U.S. within the project area may have been under-mapped, and the extent of waters of the U.S. may be greater than was identified in the Corps preliminary jurisdictional determination (PJD). Comments from Pima County included the following: (1) method for identifying the ordinary high water mark (OHWM) was not provided in the PJD; (2) extent of headwaters streams was underestimated based on a review of stereo-paired aerial photographs; and (3) the width of the OHWM was not reflective of the 10-year flood event. USEPA's comments were similar to those by Pima County, and added a concern that the PJD has not been verified by the Corps. It was also suggested that an approved jurisdictional determination (AJD) be completed because of a perceived limitation to the PJD. Following the end of the public comment period, Pima County submitted comment letters asserting that Barrel Canyon and Davidson Canyons are not ephemeral, and have intermittent flow reaches.
- b. Corps Response: On November 1, 2010, SPL issued a PJD for the proposed Rosemont open pit copper mine site, Sycamore Canyon, and the proposed Santa Rita Road waterline alignment. The PJD conducted by the Corps included multiple field visits between 2006 and 2009, and review of information sources, including maps prepared by the applicant, U.S. Geological Survey Maps, ground photographs, and aerial photographs.

The determination of ordinary high water mark for potential waters of the U.S. is made utilizing Corps regulations at 33 C.F.R. 328.3. The August 2008, A Field Guide to the Identification of the Ordinary High Water Mark (OHWM) in the Arid West Region of the Western United States, prepared by the Corps Engineer Research and Development Center – Cold Regions Research and Engineering Laboratory (ERDC-CRREL), provides additional guidance for the determination of the OHWM in the arid west. The Corps understands that Pima County utilized stereo-photographs to identify over 100 miles of streams that would be affected on the Rosemont Copper site. However, aquatic resources that would be identified as potential waters of the U.S. by the Corps include only those features that meet the criteria as wetlands (as identified in the 1987 Corps of Engineers Wetlands Delineation Manual and September 2008 Regional Supplement to the Corps of Engineers Wetland Delineation Manual: Arid West Region (Version 2)), or would be other waters (e.g. ponds, lakes, rivers, streams, etc.) that contain an OHWM. Unless a potential feature is considered a wetland, or contains an OHWM, the feature will not be identified by the Corps as a potential water of the U.S. In many cases, especially in mountainous areas in the arid west, topographical linear depressions occur, which may be erosional features, or features with a steep gradient where an OHWM is not present. While these may be considered aquatic resources by other agencies, these are not considered by the Corps to be aquatic resources, and therefore would not be identified as potential waters of the U.S. subject to Section 404 of the Clean Water Act. No information has been received by the Corps to support a determination that the 100+ miles of streams identified by Pima County contain an OHWM and are considered to be aquatic resources that are potential waters of the U.S. Therefore, the Corps does not believe it appropriate to revise the PJD based on the comments.

With regards to the width of the OHWM, the Corps does not have standards or guidance that the OHWM is equal to a 10-year flood event. As identified above, the OHWM is identified in the Corps regulations at 33 C.F.R. 328.3, which defines the OHWM as "that line on the shore established by the fluctuations of water and indicated by physical characteristics such as clear, natural line impressed on the bank, shelving, changes in the character of soil, destruction of terrestrial vegetation, the presence of litter and debris, or other appropriate means that consider the characteristics of the surrounding areas." The Corps Engineer Research and Development Center - Cold Regions Research and Engineering Laboratory (ERDC-CRREL), has developed the August 2008, A Field Guide to the Identification of the Ordinary High Water Mark (OHWM) in the Arid West Region of the Western United States, a delineation manual used by the Corps in delineating the OHWM of intermittent and ephemeral streams in the Arid West. The Corps disagrees that the OHWM, as defined by regulation, necessarily corresponds to any particular flood event.

With regards to the comment that an AJD should have been conducted instead of a PJD, the determination of the location and extent of aquatic resources does not differ between an AJD and a PJD. The difference between an AJD and a PJD is that with an AJD, the Corps makes a determination on whether the aquatic resources within the review area are or are not waters of the U.S., and under a PJD, the Corps determines only that the identified aquatic resources are potentially waters of the U.S. Therefore, conducting an AJD for the proposed mine site would not result in a different determination regarding the location or extent of aquatic resources within the review area.

With regards to the assertions by Pima County that portions of Barrel and Davidson Canyons are intermittent, the PJD issued by the Corps in 2010 identifies that the project area contains only ephemeral drainages and springs, with two of the springs being wetlands. Within their comments, Pima County did not specify the exact locations for the portions of Barrel Canyon they asserted are intermittent, although the comments indicated these areas were east (downstream) of State Route (SR) 83, which is not located on the proposed project site, and is not included in the review area of the PJD issued by the Corps. Because the Corps has not reviewed an aquatic resources delineation for any portions of Barrel or Davidson Canyons off of the proposed mine site, the Corps is unable to make a final determination on whether there are portions of Barrel Canyon that contain intermittent flow downstream of the proposed mine site. As identified on Figure 67 and Table 106 of the Final EIS, Barrel Canyon and three reaches of Davidson Canyon are considered ephemeral. On the project site, the Corps utilized the definition for ephemeral and intermittent streams as used by the Corps for the Nationwide Permit (NWP) program since 2000. While the proposed action is not being evaluated under a Nationwide Permit, the Corps has determined this definition is appropriate for use in reviewing and verifying aquatic resource delineations. These definitions were also utilized in the Final EIS, as identified on page 491. As defined in Section F on page 2006 of the Federal Register (FR) notice for the 2017 NWPs (82 FR 1860), an ephemeral stream "has flowing water only during, and for a short duration after, precipitation events in a typical year. Ephemeral stream beds are located above the water table year-round. Groundwater is not a source of water for the stream. Runoff from rainfall is the primary source of water for streamflow." An intermittent stream, as defined in the NWPs, "has flowing water during certain times of the year, when groundwater provides water for streamflow. During dry periods, intermittent streams may not have flowing water. Runoff from rainfall is a supplemental source of water for stream flow."

Between 2013 and 2015, the applicant installed a groundwater well in Barrel Canyon, at a stream gage approximately 0.28 miles upstream from the SR 83 bridge. Data from that well, when compared with streamflow data from the stream gage, indicates the water table is more than 40 feet below the surface of the Barrel Canyon. In addition, stream gage data between January and November 2017 also indicates flows within Barrel Canyon upstream of SR 83 only occur in response to rain events (see Response to Pima County (2017 a & b)), New Information: Rosemont Copper Mine, Section 404 Clean Water Act, prepared by Westland Resources and Water & Earth Technologies, dated January 24, 2018, located in the administrative record). The comments from Pima County did not provide evidence that the PJD issued by the Corps in 2010 is incorrect or that intermittent drainages exist within the project area.

7. Riparian Vegetation

a. Comments: A number of commenters expressed concern about effects to riparian vegetation downstream of the proposed Rosemont copper mine site, particularly those effects caused by groundwater drawdown.

b. Corps Response: As identified in Section III of the ROD, the Corps' scope of analysis for the public interest review and Guidelines is limited to the discharge of dredged/fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with clearing, grubbing, and grading prior to the operations associated with extraction of copper and other material, as well as the discharge of fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with construction of off-site infrastructure. The Corps' scope of analysis also includes any permittee-responsible compensatory mitigation actions required to compensate for the loss of waters of the U.S. Therefore, comments related to impacts associated with operations of the mine are outside of the Corps' scope and jurisdiction. Any direct, indirect, and cumulative effects associated with the discharge of dredged or fill material into waters of the U.S. and adjacent upland areas, including those to any applicable resource areas identified within the EIS, or required for the Corps public interest review or determination on compliance with the Guidelines are within the Corps scope. Based on available information, the discharge of fill material into the ephemeral drainages and springs as a result of clearing and grubbing activities will result in direct, and potentially indirect, effects to riparian vegetation on the project site. The evaluation of the effects of the proposed action on riparian areas, including those effects outside of the Corps scope related to mining operations, has been analyzed in Chapter 3, Seeps, Springs, and Riparian Areas in the Draft and Final EIS. The Corps, as a cooperating agency on the EIS, was involved in the preparation and review of the Draft and Final EIS. In addition, the Corps has reviewed the SIR and Second SIR, and believes these documents incorporate the best available information on the effects of the proposed action on riparian vegetation.

The direct and indirect effects to riparian vegetation from the proposed discharge of dredged/fill material into waters of the U.S. would be less than those discussed in the Final EIS, as the Final EIS also identified the effects as a result of mining operations outside of the Corps scope.

8. Springs and Seeps

- a. Comments: Several commenters expressed concern regarding effects to springs and seeps within and near the proposed Rosemont copper mine site, primarily as a result of groundwater drawdown. The comments ranged from those regarding the value of these features as aquatic resources, important habitat for native (and sensitive) species, and as cultural resources important to local tribal communities.
- b. Corps Response: As identified in Section III of the ROD, the Corps' scope of analysis for the public interest review and Guidelines is limited to the discharge of dredged/fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with clearing, grubbing, and grading prior to the operations associated with extraction of copper and other material, as well as the discharge of fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with construction of off-site infrastructure. The Corps' scope of analysis also includes any permittee-responsible compensatory mitigation actions required to compensate for the loss of waters of the U.S. Therefore, comments related to impacts associated with operations of the mine are outside of the Corps' scope and jurisdiction. Any direct, indirect, and cumulative effects associated with the discharge of dredged or fill material into waters of the U.S. and adjacent upland areas, including those to any applicable resource areas identified within the EIS, or required for the Corps public interest review or determination on compliance with the Guidelines are within the Corps scope.

As identified on Figure 2 in the ROD and Attachment B to the ROD, three springs would be directly affected as a result of the proposed discharge of fill material into waters of the US. The evaluation of the effects of the proposed action on springs and seeps, including those effects outside of the Corps scope related to mining operations, has been analyzed in Chapter 3, Seeps, Springs, and Riparian Areas in the Draft and Final EIS. The Corps, as a cooperating agency on the EIS, was involved in the preparation and review of the Draft and Final EIS. In addition, the Corps has reviewed the SIR and Second SIR, and believes these documents incorporate the best available information on the effects of the proposed action on springs and seeps. See Section VIII.a.4, for a discussion of the effects of the proposed action under the Corps' scope on springs. The final decision on whether or not the proposed action complies with the Guidelines is located in Section VIII of the ROD; the Corps' final decision on whether or not the proposed action is contrary to the public interest is located in Section IX of the ROD.

9. Characterization of the Barrel Alternative

- a. Comments: Pima County commented they believe that the Barrel Alternative (Alternative 4 in the DEIS and proposed action in the Corps public notice was incompletely characterized and that an adequate evaluation could not be completed. Pima County recommended that additional plans (e.g. grading and drainage plan, and stormwater management plan) be completed before the 404 permit decision is made.
- b. Corps Response: This comment is noted. Since the public notice, the applicant has modified the proposed design to remove the proposed heap leach pads and flow-through drains, and has prepared revised figures, a revised stacking plan, stormwater management plan, and reclamation plan. The revised figures are located in Attachment B of the ROD, and the updated description of the proposed action is located in Section IV of the ROD. The Final EIS provided a full description of the Barrel Alternative. The proposed action evaluated in the ROD is fully described in Section IV.c.2 of the ROD, and includes a reduction in the proposed discharge of fill material into waters of the U.S. as compared to the Barrel Alternative evaluated in the Final EIS.

10. Stormwater Sizing:

a. Comments: Several commenters expressed concern regarding the sizing of stormwater features, and whether they are sufficient, with a number of commenters indicating they believe sizing to the 100-year, 24-hour storm event is inadequate.

b. Corps Response: The comments provided relate to how stormwater would be handled during operations of the proposed mine, which, as identified in Section III of the ROD, is outside of the Corps' scope of analysis. However, as identified in the Final EIS (pg. 45-46), stormwater from the mine pit, ore processing facilities, and mine maintenance plant areas would be prevented from surface discharge. Other stormwater would be routed to sediment control structures where discharge would be monitored for chemical and sediment content in accordance with the ADEQ mining stormwater general permit. In their response to comments, the applicant has identified that their design of the stormwater conveyance structures considered a combination of the 100- year, 500-year, 1000-year, and Local and General PMP storms in addition to the nature of the structure (i.e. permanent or temporary). In their response to comments, the applicant also identified that supporting analysis documents state that the selection of the design flood is based on a number of factors such as size of the contributing watershed, whether the structure will be used for temporary or permanent containment. In their response to comments, the applicant also stated that, while design of permanent conveyance structures will use a 500-year, 24-hour storm temporary or sediment-control structures may be designed using smaller storm events. According to the applicant in their response to comments, sizing of the structures is covered under Rosemont's Site Water Management Plan. Final review and approval of the design of the structures rests with the USFS as part of the overall approval of the MPO. .

11. Method to Assess Sediment Yield:

- a. Comments: A number of commenters, including Pima County, BLM, and Save the Scenic Santa Ritas, expressed concern about the use of the 1968 Pacific Southwest Inter-Agency Committee (PSIAC) method to assess sediment yield, including concerns with the date of development of this method, and application of this method in watersheds smaller than 10 square miles in size.
- b. Corps Response: As described in Section 3 of the Final EIS, the analysis of changes in surface water quality as a result of the proposed action included expected changes in sediment yield. These changes in sediment yield were estimated using the 1968 PSIAC method. The potential for downstream scour or aggradation cause by changes to upstream sediment yield was assessed qualitatively, based on two independent analyses and field observations (Final EIS, pp. 446). According to the Final EIS, these studies were used in conjunction with modeling to analyze impacts on surface water quality. The Final EIS also identifies that USFS investigated using other models, but determined that given the type of system that exists in Barrel Canyon and the difficulty of applying sediment transport models to ephemeral systems, running these other models would not further inform the decision. The Corps has not received any information from the commenters to indicate that utilizing other models would have revealed additional impacts not already discussed in the EIS. Based on our review of the applicant's response to comments, and the Final EIS, the Corps believes this issue has been satisfactorily considered and addressed and no further analysis by the Corps is warranted. In addition, the effects to water quality as a result of suspended sediments are primarily under the purview of the ADEQ. However, because the USEPA advised the Corps of "other water quality aspects," to be considered (See Section VIII of the ROD), the Corps did not consider the Section 401 WQC to be conclusive for the evaluation of compliance with the Guidelines or public interest review, and instead conducted an independent review to determine whether the proposed action would violate state water quality standards, as described in Section VIII of the ROD. The final decision on whether or not the proposed action complies with the Guidelines is located in Section VIII of the ROD; the Corps' final decision on whether or not the proposed action is contrary to the public interest is located in Section IX of the ROD.

12. Flow-Through Drains:

- a. Comments: Pima County expressed concern about the long-term functionality of the flow-through drains beneath the tailings impoundment, expressing concern that the stormwater attenuation ponds associated with the flow-through drains are undersized, and that the flow-through drains will clog and require long-term maintenance.
- b. Corps Response: Since the public notice for the proposed action, the applicant has revised the proposed action to eliminate the flow-through drains. Therefore, this comment is no longer applicable.

13. Stormwater Chutes:

- a. Comments: Pima County commented that the design for the proposed stormwater chutes is inadequate and therefore the proposed chutes may not be stable. The specific comment provided by Pima County expressed concern regarding the use of Agricultural Research Station (ARS) methods using rocks greater than the 0.6 to 11 inch diameter used in the ARS methods study, and commented that the applicant should provide qualitative analysis to show the proposed riprap protection will not fail.
- b. Corps Response: The proposed stormwater chutes are proposed to be installed following all proposed discharges of dredged/fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with clearing, grubbing, and grading of waters of the U.S. on the proposed mine site. No discharge of dredged/fill material into waters of the U.S. would occur as a result of the construction of the stormwater chutes. Therefore, comments related to the stormwater chutes are outside of the Corps jurisdiction and scope.

However, the applicant has identified that, in proposing the size of proposed rock-slope protection using rip-rap for stormwater chutes, they utilized the ARS methods, incorporating a factor of safety for the proposed size. Pima County did not provide an alternative method for calculating the appropriate size of rip-rap.

14. Dry Stack Tailings:

- a. Comments: A number of comments, including one comment in a form letter suggested that the proposed dry-stack tailings method was untested in the arid southwest.
- b. Corps Response: As identified in Section III of the ROD, the Corps' scope of analysis for the public interest review and Guidelines is limited to the discharge of dredged/fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with clearing, grubbing, and grading prior to the operations associated with extraction of copper and other material, as well as the discharge of fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with construction of off-site infrastructure. The Corps' scope of analysis also includes any permittee-responsible compensatory mitigation actions required to compensate for the loss of waters of the U.S. Therefore, comments related to impacts associated with operations of the mine are outside of the Corps' scope and jurisdiction, including comments related to dry-stack tailings. Any direct, indirect, and cumulative effects associated with the discharge of dredged or fill material into waters of the U.S. and adjacent upland areas, including those to any applicable resource areas identified within the EIS, or required for the Corps public interest review or determination on compliance with the Guidelines, are within the Corps scope.

While comments related to dry-stack tailings are outside of the Corps' scope and jurisdiction, in their response to comments, the applicant has identified that the creation of dry-stack tailing involves dewatering mining tailings using large-capacity pressure filters to remove the majority of water from the tailings to create a dry cake with a moisture content to 12 to 18 percent. The filtered tailings are then conveyed to, and placed in the dry-stack tailings disposal facility, while the water would be recycled (FEIS, Chapter 2). While this is a relatively new process, it has been used for other mine sites, including those in Chile, Alaska, Canada and Mexico. As identified in Chapter 2 of the Draft and Final EIS, dry-stack tailings have advantages over traditional slurry tailings, including, but not limited to the following: eliminating the need for an engineered embankment and seepage containment system; increasing water conservation; reducing the footprint and associated effect to resources; and allow concurrent reclamation and covering for dust control.

15. 404(b)(1) Alternatives Information:

a. Comments: Several commenters, including Pima County, and the USEPA, commented on the 404(b)(1) alternatives information including in Appendix B of the Draft EIS. The comments mainly concerned the identification of the least environmentally damaging practicable alternative (LEDPA), and comments that additional information is needed regarding off-site alternatives in order to complete the determination of the LEDPA. The comments also identified the Corps should examine other on-site and off-site alternatives not previously evaluated in the EIS or the applicant's 404(b)(1) Alternatives Information, including alternatives based on the financial standing of the current applicant.

b. Corps Response: These comments are noted. Appendix B of the Draft EIS, contained the September 2011 CWA Section 404(b)(1) Alternatives Analysis (SPL-2008-00816-MB, Draft Deliberative Work Product, Rosemont Copper Project, prepared by WestLand Resources, Inc., for the applicant, which contains information regarding alternatives to the proposed action, including those that would reduce effects to the aquatic environment. Based on comments received on the public notice and from the Corps, the applicant revised the alternatives information, and submitted the September 2013, Rosemont Copper Project, CWA Section 404(b)(1) Alternatives Analysis (SPL-2008-00816-MB), prepared by WestLand Resources, Inc., which was included as Appendix B of the Final EIS. It is important to note that, despite the name, the document prepared by the applicant is not a final alternatives analysis for compliance with the Guidelines, but is only a document containing information on the practicability of alternatives. Information from the September 2013, alternatives information has been utilized by the Corps in developing the Section 404(b)(1) Alternatives Analysis, located in Section VIII of the ROD. While information submitted by the applicant is utilized by the Corps, the Section 404(b)(1) Alternatives Analysis is an independent evaluation made by the Corps of the proposed action's compliance with the Guidelines.

With regards to comments related to analyzing additional alternatives not identified in the EIS, the EIS evaluated a number of alternatives to the proposed action, including alternatives that would reduce the proposed discharge of dredged and/or fill material into waters of the U.S. The EIS also considered but rejected a number of onsite and off-site alternatives that would further reduce effects to waters of the U.S., as described in Section IV of the ROD. In total, 11 off-site alternatives, 3 alternatives owned by Rosemont Copper Company, and 9 on-site alternatives were evaluated. The on-site alternatives also considered various configurations of dry stack tailings, waste rock dumps, and heap leach pads. The Corps has evaluated the practicability of the alternatives in the Final EIS, utilizing information provided in the applicant's September 2013, Rosemont Copper Project, CWA Section 404(B)(1) Alternatives Analysis (SPL-2008-00816-MB) and determined there are no practicable alternatives that would have fewer adverse effects to the aquatic environment and would meet the overall project purpose, as described in Section IV of the ROD. The Corps has determined the alternatives considered and considered but rejected from further analysis in the EIS are sufficient to ensure an evaluation of a reasonable range of alternatives, as required by NEPA, and are sufficient to ensure evaluation of practicable alternatives, as required by the Guidelines. The Corps has also determined it is not reasonable or practicable to identify multiple alternatives throughout the review process, as this places an unreasonable burden on the applicant, and is not necessary to meet the requirement of either NEPA or the Guidelines. With regards to comments suggesting the Corps should analyze alternatives based on the applicant's current financial standing, as the current applicant has a higher market capitalization than the previous owner of Rosemont Copper Company (Augusta Resources), the preamble to the Guidelines identifies (45 FR 85339) the evaluation of practicable alternatives is based on cost, not economics, stating "Our intent is to consider those alternatives which are reasonable in terms of the overall scope/cost of the proposed project. The term economic might be construed to include consideration of the applicant's financial standing, or investment, or market share, a cumbersome inquiry which is not necessarily material to the objectives of the Guidelines." Therefore, the Corps has determined it is not appropriate to take into consideration the applicant's financial standing.

16. Pit Backfill Alternative:

a. Comments: Several commenters, including Pima County and the USEPA, suggested that an additional alternative be considered that included the backfill, or partial backfill, of the mining pit with waste rock, tailings, heap leach material, or a combination thereof.

b. Corps Response:

As described in Chapter 2 of the Draft and Final EIS, an alternative consisting of configuring the mine pit to allow "continuous" back fill was considered but rejected from further analysis as this would require a substantially larger pit, which would result in greater effects, while reducing the economic feasibility of the proposed action. As also described in Chapter 2 of the Draft EIS, an alternative of complete backfill of the mining pit, without changing the configuration of the mining pit by changing the footprint of the facilities to reduce effects and placing the waste rock and tailings near the pit and away from sensitive resources was also considered but rejected from further analysis, due to concerns regarding extending adverse environmental effects by an additional 16 years (or more), financial effects, and safety concerns. Chapter 2 of the Draft EIS also identified that an evaluation of partial pit backfill was currently being investigated by the USFS. As a result of the further investigation and comments on the Draft EIS, Chapter 2 of the Final EIS discussed two methods of partial backfill of the mining pit: (1) downhill haulage into the pit with loaded trucks, and (2) dumping over the pit rim. Due to safety concerns that would be caused by extended partial backfill of the mining pit (e.g. lack of safety pullouts, ramps, and redesign of switchback turns, risk of overturning equipment, rock avalanches, and burial by unstable material), partial backfill of the mining pit using these methods was eliminated from further consideration in the Final EIS. Because these alternatives were evaluated in the Draft and Final EIS, and would not result in a reduction in the direct or indirect adverse effects as a result of the placement of fill material into waters of the U.S., the Corps has determined that further evaluation of complete or partial backfill of the mining pit is not necessary or appropriate.

17. Reduced Pit Configuration

- a. Comments: Pima County and the Arizona Game and Fish Department recommended that additional evaluation be completed on a smaller mining pit alternative, or an alternative that combines a smaller mining pit with an underground operation in later mine stages.
- b. Corps Response: Appropriate alternatives to reduce the size of the mining pit have been evaluated by the Corps, as described in Section IV of the ROD. As described in Response to Comment 15, the Corps has determined additional analysis of alternatives is not necessary or appropriate.

18. Threatened and/or Endangered Species:

- a. Comments: A number of commenters expressed concern regarding the direct and indirect effects to Federally-listed threatened and/or endangered species, stating that a biological assessment had not yet been conducted; that not all species present in Davidson Canyon had been thoroughly considered; that the most current information regarding some species was not considered; and an overall concern regarding effects to habitat supporting these species. Following the end of the public comment period, commenters identified the Corps should reiniitate consultation for effects to federally-listed threatened and/or endangered species as a result of the proposed permittee-responsible compensatory mitigation.
- b. Corps Response: Concerns regarding the effects of the proposed action on Federally-listed threatened and/or endangered species are noted. The proposed action is in compliance with Section 7 of the ESA, and would not jeopardize the continued existence of federally-listed threatened and/or endangered species. See Section VI.c of the ROD for a complete discussion of compliance with Section 7 of the ESA.

19. Wildlife:

a. Comments: Commenters expressed concerns regarding the potential adverse effects to wildlife and wildlife habitat associated with the proposed action. Specific concerns related to the identification of Davidson Canyon as a Biological Core area, and, along with Cienega Creek, as an Important Riparian Area, by Pima County's Sonoran Desert Conservation Plan. Commenters also expressed concern that the effects of the proposed action will disrupt wildlife movement corridors connecting the Empire, Santa Rita, and Rincon mountain Ranges, and the potential increase in wildlife fatalities from increased traffic on SR 83. Further comments suggested that changes and disruption to life stages of fish and wildlife may occur as a result of affects to groundwater and surface water quantity and quality and riparian habitat. Concerns were also raised regarding effects to migratory birds, lack of detail regarding mitigation measures to protect wildlife from construction and operations, lack of mitigation related to wildlife mortalities, and concern for specific, non-listed species that may occur in the project area.

b. Corps Response: Comments and concerns regarding the effects of the proposed action on wildlife are noted. As identified in Section III of the ROD, the Corps' scope of analysis for the public interest review and Guidelines is limited to the discharge of dredged/fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with clearing, grubbing, and grading prior to the operations associated with extraction of copper and other material, as well as the discharge of fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with construction of off-site infrastructure. The Corps' scope of analysis also includes any permittee-responsible compensatory mitigation actions required to compensate for the loss of waters of the U.S. Therefore, comments related to impacts associated with operations of the mine are outside of the Corps' scope and jurisdiction, including those effects related to wildlife and wildlife habitat. Any direct, indirect, and cumulative effects associated with the discharge of dredged or fill material into waters of the U.S. and adjacent upland areas, including those to any applicable resource areas identified within the EIS, or required for the Corps public interest review or determination on compliance with the Guidelines are within the Corps scope.

However, effects to wildlife, including those effects outside the Corps' scope of analysis, have been fully evaluated in Chapter 3, Biological Resources of the Draft and Final EIS. See Section VIII and IX of the ROD, for a discussion of the effects of the proposed action on the physical, chemical, biological, and human use characteristics of the aquatic environment and the effects on the public interest, as it relates to the Corps' scope of analysis, including an analysis of the effects to fish and wildlife. The final decision on whether or not the proposed action complies with the Guidelines is located in Section VIII of the ROD; the Corps' final decision on whether or not the proposed action is contrary to the public interest is located in Section IX of the ROD. The comments provided do not provide additional detail or information that has not been evaluated.

20. Visual Effects on SR 83:

- a. Comments: Several commenters expressed the opinion that the proposed action would result in unacceptable visual effects along SR 83, which has been designated by the Arizona Department of Transportation as a scenic corridor.
- b. Corps Response: The comments and concerns regarding effects to aesthetics along SR 83 are noted. As identified in Section III of the ROD, the Corps' scope of analysis for the public interest review and Guidelines is limited to the discharge of dredged/fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with clearing, grubbing, and grading prior to the operations associated with extraction of copper and other material, as well as the discharge of fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with construction of off-site infrastructure. The Corps' scope of analysis also includes any permittee-responsible compensatory mitigation actions required to compensate for the loss of waters of the U.S. Therefore, comments related to impacts associated with operations of the mine are outside of the Corps' scope and jurisdiction, including visual effects. Any direct, indirect, and cumulative effects associated with the discharge of dredged or fill material into waters of the U.S. and adjacent upland areas, including those to any applicable resource areas identified within the EIS, or required for the Corps public interest review or determination on compliance with the Guidelines are within the Corps scope.

However, effects to aesthetics, including those associated with mining operations outside of the Corps scope, have been fully evaluated in Chapter 3, Visual Resources of the Draft and Final EIS. See Section VIII and IX of the ROD, for a discussion of the effects of the proposed action on the physical, chemical, biological, and human use characteristics of the aquatic environment and the effects on the public interest, as it relates to the Corps' scope of analysis, including those effects to aesthetics. The final decision on whether or not the proposed action complies with the Guidelines is located in Section VIII of the ROD; the Corps' final decision on whether or not the proposed action is contrary to the public interest is located in Section IX of the ROD. The comments provided do not provide additional detail or information that has not been evaluated.

21. Traffic

- a. Comments: A number of comments expressed concern that increases in traffic during construction and operations, and the subsequent potential effects to safety, increased drive time, and/or degradation to SR 83.
- b. Corps Response: The comments and concerns regarding effects to traffic along SR 83 are noted. As identified in Section III of the ROD, the Corps' scope of analysis for the public interest review and Guidelines is limited to the discharge of dredged/fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with clearing, grubbing, and grading prior to the operations associated with extraction of copper and other material, as well as the discharge of fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with construction of off-site infrastructure. The Corps' scope of analysis also includes any permittee-responsible compensatory mitigation actions required to compensate for the loss of waters of the U.S. Therefore, comments related to impacts associated with operations of the mine are outside of the Corps' scope and jurisdiction, including comments related to traffic.

Any direct, indirect, and cumulative effects associated with the discharge of dredged or fill material into waters of the U.S. and adjacent upland areas, including those to any applicable resource areas identified within the EIS, or required for the Corps public interest review or determination on compliance with the Guidelines are within the Corps scope. Effects to traffic, including those related to mining operations outside of the Corps scope, have been fully evaluated in Chapter 3,

Transportation/Access of the Draft and Final EIS. It is anticipated that construction activities as a result of the discharge of dredged/fill material into waters of the U.S. would result in temporary traffic effects from equipment accessing the project site. Effects to traffic are not a specific evaluation factor for compliance with the Guidelines, but have been evaluated as part of the Corps public interest review evaluation (see Section IX of the ROD). The comments provided do not provide additional detail or information that has not been evaluated.

22. Historic and Cultural Properties

- a. Comments: Comments, including those from Pima County and the Tohono O'odham Nation, expressed concern regarding effects of the proposed action on historic and prehistoric cultural resources. These comments focused primarily on effects to identified cultural resources determined eligible for listing on the National Register of Historic Place, as well as the proximity of the proposed action site within and near Ce:wi Duag.
- b. Corps Response: These comments are noted. The Corps' evaluation of the proposed action complies with Section 106 of the NHPA. See Section VI.f of the ROD for a full description of compliance with Section 106 of the NHPA. See also Section IX.c.6 of the ROD for the Corps' analysis of the effects of the proposed action on historic properties related to the public interest review.

23. Economics

- a. Comments: A number of commenters expressed concern that the proposed action may have adverse economic effects, including a reduction in property values, economic effects from a loss of recreation and tourism, and the sustainability of jobs created by construction and operations of the proposed mine.
- b. Corps Response: As identified in Section III of the ROD, the Corps' scope of analysis for the public interest review and Guidelines is limited to the discharge of dredged/fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with clearing, grubbing, and grading prior to the operations associated with extraction of copper and other material, as well as the discharge of fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with construction of off-site infrastructure. The Corps' scope of analysis also includes any permittee-responsible compensatory mitigation actions required to compensate for the loss of waters of the U.S. Therefore, comments related to impacts associated with operations of the mine are outside of the Corps' scope and jurisdiction, including comments related to economics. Any direct, indirect, and cumulative effects associated with the discharge of dredged or fill material into waters of the U.S. and adjacent upland areas, including those to any applicable resource areas identified within the EIS, or required for the Corps public interest review or determination on compliance with the Guidelines are within the Corps scope. Temporary and beneficial effects to economics would be expected during construction activities, as a result of increased employment and sales. Effects to economics, including effects related to mining operations outside of the Corps scope, have been fully evaluated in Chapter 3, Socioeconomics and Environmental Justice of the Draft and Final EIS.

Effects to economics are not a specific evaluation factor for compliance with the Guidelines, but have been evaluated as part of the Corps public interest review evaluation (see Section IX of the ROD). The comments provided do not provide additional detail or information that has not been evaluated.

24. Light Pollution

- a. Comments: Several commenters expressed concern that an increase in lighting associated with the proposed mine has the potential to adversely affect the astronomy industry in the Santa Rita Mountains. Other commenters noted that the light may affect wildlife species in the Area.
- b. Corps Response: These comments are noted. As identified in Section III of the ROD, the Corps' scope of analysis for the public interest review and Guidelines is limited to the discharge of dredged/fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with clearing, grubbing, and grading prior to the operations associated with extraction of copper and other material, as well as the discharge of fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with construction of off-site infrastructure. The Corps' scope of analysis also includes any permittee-responsible compensatory mitigation actions required to compensate for the loss of waters of the U.S. Therefore, comments related to impacts associated with operations of the mine are outside of the Corps' scope and jurisdiction, including comments related to light pollution. Any direct, indirect, and cumulative effects associated with the discharge of dredged or fill material into waters of the U.S. and adjacent upland areas, including those to any applicable resource areas identified within the EIS, or required for the Corps public interest review or determination on compliance with the Guidelines are within the Corps scope. Effects to wildlife from lighting and effects to dark skies, including effects related to mining operations outside of the Corps scope have been fully evaluated in Chapter 3, Biological Resources, and Chapter 3, Dark Skies of the Draft and Final EIS. Effects from light pollution are not a specific evaluation factor for compliance with the Guidelines, but have been evaluated as part of the Corps public interest review evaluation (see Section IX of the ROD). The comments provided do not provide additional detail or information that has not been evaluated.

25. Noise

- a. Comments: Commenters expressed concern regarding potential noise effects and the effect on nearby property owners.
- b. Corps Response: These comments are noted. As identified in Section III of the ROD, the Corps' scope of analysis for the public interest review and Guidelines is limited to the discharge of dredged/fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with clearing, grubbing, and grading prior to the operations associated with extraction of copper and other material, as well as the discharge of fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with construction of off-site infrastructure. The Corps' scope of analysis also includes any permittee-responsible compensatory mitigation actions required to compensate for the loss of waters of the U.S. Therefore, comments related to impacts associated with operations of the mine are outside of the Corps' scope and jurisdiction, including comments related to noise. Any direct, indirect, and cumulative effects associated with the discharge of dredged or fill material into waters of the U.S. and adjacent upland areas, including those to any applicable resource areas identified within the EIS, or required for the Corps public interest review or determination on compliance with the Guidelines are within the Corps scope. Effects from increased noise, including effects associated with mining operations outside of the Corps scope, have been fully evaluated in Chapter 3, Noise of the Draft and Final EIS and the Corps' public interest review evaluation (see Section IX of the ROD). Temporary effects from noise would be expected during construction activities within the Corps scope. The comments provided do not provide additional detail or information that has not been evaluated.

26. Wildfire Hazards:

- a. Comments: Several commenters expressed concern that the proposed action would result in an increase in wildfire hazards.
- b. Corps Response: These comments are noted. As identified in Section III of the ROD, the Corps' scope of analysis for the public interest review and Guidelines is limited to the discharge of dredged/fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with clearing, grubbing, and grading prior to the operations associated with extraction of copper and other material, as well as the discharge of fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with construction of off-site infrastructure. The Corps' scope of analysis also includes any permittee-responsible compensatory mitigation actions required to compensate for the loss of waters of the U.S. Therefore, comments related to impacts associated with operations of the mine are outside of the Corps' scope and jurisdiction, including comments related to wildfire hazards. Any direct, indirect, and cumulative effects associated with the discharge of dredged or fill material into waters of the U.S. and adjacent upland areas, including those to any applicable resource areas identified within the EIS, or required for the Corps public interest review or determination on compliance with the Guidelines are within the Corps scope.

Effects from increases in wildfire hazards, including effects related to mining operations outside the Corps scope, have been fully evaluated in Chapter 3, Fuels and Fire Management of the Draft and Final EIS. The comments provided do not provide additional detail or information that has not been evaluated.

27. Hazardous Materials:

- a. Comments: A number of comments expressed concern regarding the safety of the public and mine employees as a result of increase in the potential for release of hazardous materials.
- b. Corps Response: These comments are noted. As identified in Section III of the ROD, the Corps' scope of analysis for the public interest review and Guidelines is limited to the discharge of dredged/fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with clearing, grubbing, and grading prior to the operations associated with extraction of copper and other material, as well as the discharge of fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with construction of off-site infrastructure. The Corps' scope of analysis also includes any permittee-responsible compensatory mitigation actions required to compensate for the loss of waters of the U.S. Therefore, comments related to impacts associated with operations of the mine are outside of the Corps' scope and jurisdiction, including comments related to hazardous materials. Any direct, indirect, and cumulative effects associated with the discharge of dredged or fill material into waters of the U.S. and adjacent upland areas, including those to any applicable resource areas identified within the EIS, or required for the Corps public interest review or determination on compliance with the Guidelines are within the Corps scope. Effects associated with hazardous materials, including effects related to mining operations outside the Corps scope, have been fully evaluated in Chapter 3, Hazardous Materials of the Draft and Final EIS. The comments provided do not provide additional detail or information that has not been evaluated.

28. Public Health and Welfare

- a. Comments: Several commenters expressed concern regarding effects to public health, including exposure to radioactive elements in the mined ore and other potential cancer causing agents; increased health risks related to the disturbance of amphibole materials (asbestos); and effects related to potential contamination of public drinking water.
- b. Corps Response: These comments are noted. As identified in Section III of the ROD, the Corps' scope of analysis for the public interest review and Guidelines is limited to the discharge of dredged/fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with clearing, grubbing, and grading prior to the operations associated with extraction of copper and other material, as well as the discharge of fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with construction of off-site infrastructure. The Corps' scope of analysis also includes any permittee-responsible compensatory mitigation actions required to compensate for the loss of waters of the U.S. Therefore, comments related to impacts associated with operations of the mine are outside of the Corps' scope and jurisdiction, including comments related to public health and welfare. Any direct, indirect, and cumulative effects associated with the discharge of dredged or fill material into waters of the U.S. and adjacent upland areas, including those to any applicable resource areas identified within the EIS, or required for the Corps public interest review or determination on compliance with the Guidelines are within the Corps scope. Effects to public health, including those related to mining operations outside the Corps scope, have been fully evaluated in Chapter 3, Human Health and Safety of the Draft and Final EIS. Effects to water quality, including those related to mining operations outside the Corps scope, have been fully evaluated in Chapter 3, Groundwater Quality and Geochemistry, and Surface Water Quality of the Draft and Final EIS.

Based on the applicant's response to comments, although uranium is a naturally occurring radioactive element in bedrock material throughout Arizona, it is not characteristic of the geologic host formations at the proposed action site. A technical report published by the USEPA, titled Technologically Enhanced Naturally Occurring Radioactive Materials in the Southwestern Copper Belt of Arizona (EPA 402-R-99-002), identified the leaching and solvent extraction-electrowinning processes at copper mines as potentially concentrating the radionuclides that occur naturally at some mines. The applicant has removed the leaching circuit from the proposed Barrel Alternative, so this potential source of technologically enhanced naturally occurring radioative material will not be a part of the proposed action. In addition, with regards to the potential for amphibole material, the applicant and their consultants have conducted studies to characterize the mineralogy of the deposit at the proposed action site. Tremolite-actinolite was observed in very minor and locally limited occurrences. Silky fibers or aggregate mats characteristic of asbestiform materials have not been observed in any of the drill cores evaluated to date, and tremolite-actinolite was only found to occur as local disseminations near a contact in acicular crystals (non-asbestiform). Minerals classified as nonfibrous or nonasbestiform do not fall within Mine Safety and Health Administration (MSHA) or Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA), or USEPA regulatory definitions for asbestos (see 30 C.F.R. Parts 56, 57, and 71, 19 C.F.R. Part 1910.1001, and 40 C.F.R. Part 61). See Section IX of the ROD for the Corps' evaluation of the effects of the proposed action on safety.

29. Air Quality

- a. Comments: Comments were received expressing concern regarding the ability of the proposed action to comply with applicable air quality regulations; potential increase in dust and overall particulate matter emissions; absence of air quality monitors in residential areas closest to the proposed mine; effects to the air quality in Tucson; and effects to climate change and greenhouse gasses. Pima County provided a later comment letter identifying additional rock would be mined, potentially increasing air quality impacts, and requested the Corps conduct an independent review of air quality impacts.
- b. Corps Response: These comments are noted. As identified in Section III of the ROD, the Corps' scope of analysis for the public interest review and Guidelines is limited to the discharge of dredged/fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with clearing, grubbing, and grading prior to the operations associated with extraction of copper and other material, as well as the discharge of fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with construction of off-site infrastructure. The Corps' scope of analysis also includes any permittee-responsible compensatory mitigation actions required to compensate for the loss of waters of the U.S. Therefore, comments related to impacts associated with operations of the mine are outside of the Corps' scope and jurisdiction, including comments related to air quality. Any direct, indirect, and cumulative effects associated with the discharge of dredged or fill material into waters of the U.S. and adjacent upland areas, including those to any applicable resource areas identified within the EIS, or required for the Corps public interest review or determination on compliance with the Guidelines are within the Corps scope. Effects associated with air quality and climate change, including those effects related to mining operations outside of the Corps scope, have been evaluated in Chapter 3, Air Quality and Climate Change of the Draft and Final EIS. Effects associated with air quality and climate change are not a specific evaluation factor for compliance with the Guidelines, but are further evaluated as general environmental concerns, and where they affect other resources being evaluated, as described in Section IX of the ROD.

With regards to potential changes to air quality identified by Pima County, as identified above, indirect effects to air quality associated with mining operations are outside of the Corps' control and responsibility. Therefore, an independent review and determination on these air quality effects by the Corps is not appropriate.

30. Mitigation:

- a. Comments: A number of comments related to concern that conservation and mitigation measures were not described in the public notice, and therefore the commenter was not able to provide a comment. In addition, many of the commenters urged that the USFS and Corps must ensure that adequate bonding and/or financial assurances be established prior to permitting the proposed action. Commenters providing comments after the Final HMMP was submitted to the Corps provided discussion on the adequacy of the plan to offset impacts to waters of the U.S., the appropriateness of the Sonoita Creek channel design, whether the mitigation would require further evaluation under NEPA and the ESA, and requesting water quality monitoring at the downstream end of the mitigation project.
- b. Corps Response: These comments are noted. The Corps regulations at 33 C.F.R. Part 332 establishes standards and criteria for compensatory mitigation, including on-site and off-site permittee-responsible mitigation, mitigation banks, and inlieu fee compensatory mitigation to offset unavoidable effects to waters of the U.S. authorized through the issuance of a Department of the Army (DA) permit pursuant to Section 404 of the Clean Water Act and/or Section 9 or 10 of the Rivers and Harbors Act of 1899. The Corps has utilized these regulations, including those at 33 C.F.R. 332.3(n), related to sufficient financial assurances. In order to determine the amount of compensatory mitigation required, the Corps has completed the South Pacific Division

Mitigation Ratio Setting Checklist. A discussion of the required compensatory mitigation including information responding to the comments provided on the Final HMMP can be found in Section VII of the ROD, with additional information located in the Supplemental EA completed for the proposed compensatory mitigation, which is located in Attachment G of the ROD. The Corps' response to comments related to the Corps' review process, including the need for additional evaluation under NEPA and the Section Guidelines can be found in Response to Comment 32, below. As identified in Section VI.c of the ROD, the proposed action is in compliance with Section 7 of the ESA.

31. Significant Degradation:

- a. Comments: During and following the end of the public comment period, the USEPA commented the proposed discharge would result in significant degradation of waters of the U.S. Several other commenters referenced USEPA's comments within their comment letters.
- b. Corps Response: The Guidelines contain a number of restrictions on discharge, one of which is related to significant degradation as a result of a proposed discharge of dredged and/or fill material into waters of the U.S. Specifically, the Guidelines identify no discharge of dredged or fill material shall be permitted which will cause or contribute to significant degradation of the waters of the U.S. The determination on whether or not a proposed discharge would result in significant degradation to the waters of the U.S. is based upon appropriate factual determinations, evaluations, and tests. The evaluations include a determination on the potential shortterm or long-term direct, secondary (indirect), and cumulative effects to the physical, chemical and biological components of the aquatic environment. In making a determination on whether or not a proposed discharge into waters of the U.S. would result in significant degradation, the Corps takes into account any minimization and compensatory mitigation. As discussed in Section III of the ROD, the evaluation of significant degradation to waters of the U.S. includes only the effects of the proposed discharge of dredged and/or fill material into waters of the U.S. For the proposed action, the operations of the mine, including construction of the mine pit and discharge of waste rock and mine tailings, would not result in a discharge of dredged and/or fill material into waters of the U.S. Therefore, the effects of mine operations are outside of the Corps scope under Section 404 of the Clean Water Act and not relevant to the determination of whether or not there would be significant degradation of waters of the U.S.

See Section VIII of the ROD, for a discussion of the effects of the proposed action on the physical, chemical, biological, and human use characteristics of the aquatic environment, which was used by the Corps in making the factual determinations required for a determination on whether the proposed discharge into waters of the U.S. would result in significant degradation. The final decision on whether or not the proposed action complies with the Guidelines is located in Section VIII of the ROD; the Corps' final decision on whether or not the proposed action is contrary to the public interest is located in Section IX of the ROD.

32. Corps' Review Process:

a. Comments: Following the end of the public notice comment period, several commenters expressed concerns regarding the Corps permit review process, specifically identifying that the Corps should prepare a supplemental EIS and issue a new public notice. The commenter's stated new information regarding the proposed action, specifically, related to the submittal of the Final Habitat Mitigation and Monitoring Plan (HMMP) by the applicant, as well as new information related to the proposed mine site. With regards to the HMMP, commenters stated the 859-page Final HMMP represents substantial new information that requires the issuance of a new public notice as well as preparation of a supplemental EIS. Other commenters identified the proposed compensatory mitigation requires authorization under Section 404 CWA from the Corps. Comments were also received identifying that the Corps should evaluate alternatives to the proposed compensatory mitigation, for compliance with the Guidelines at 40 C.F.R. 230.10.

With regards to the mine site, commenters identified their belief the Corps needs to prepare a supplemental EIS due to either additional effects not previously identified, or an inadequate analysis in the EIS prepared by the USFS. The alleged deficiencies identified in the EIS prepared by the USFS were primarily related to what the commenters thought was an inadequate analysis of effects, inadequate mitigation measures to minimize adverse effects, and, other than alternatives, failure to incorporate the requirements of the Guidelines into the analysis.

b. Corps Response:

Mitigation Site: With regards to comments stating the Final HMMP requires the Corps to issue a public notice and Supplemental EIS, the Corps disagrees. Corps' regulations at 33 C.F.R. 332.4(b)(1) require the public notice for a standard permit address, to the extent that such information is provided in the mitigation statement required by 33 C.F.R. 325.1(d)(7), the proposed avoidance and minimization and amount, type, and location of any proposed compensatory mitigation, or indicate an intention to use an approved mitigation bank or in-lieu fee program. The regulations at 33 C.F.R. 332.4(b)(1) further identify the public notice shall not include information that the district engineer and the permittee believe should be kept confidential for business purposes, such as the exact location of a proposed mitigation site that has not yet been secured. Corps' regulations at 33 C.F.R. 325.1(d)(7) state the application must include a statement describing how impacts to waters of the U.S. are to be avoided and minimized, and must include either a statement describing how impacts to waters of the U.S. are to be compensated for or a statement explaining why compensatory mitigation should not be required for the proposed impacts.

Within the December 6, 2011, public notice for the proposed action, the Corps identified the applicant's proposed compensatory mitigation. In addition, Appendix B of the Final EIS, which was made available to the public for review and comment by the USFS, contained a conceptual mitigation and monitoring plan proposed by the applicant. The conceptual mitigation plan included transfer of water rights secured at the Pantano Dam parcel to a Corps-approved ILF sponsor for use in the development of an ILF project downstream of the Pantano Dam, for which the applicant anticipated receiving mitigation credits; potential compensatory mitigation at the Sonoita Creek Ranch parcel; and, if additional compensatory mitigation is required, preservation at the Mullberry parcel. Since the publishing of the Final EIS, the proposed compensatory mitigation at the Pantano Dam parcel was determined to be not feasible. To address concerns by the Corps that the proposed compensatory mitigation was not adequate, the applicant has modified the proposed compensatory mitigation to that described in Section VII of the ROD. Contrary to the comments provided, the Corps and USEPA 2008 Compensatory Mitigation Rule (33 C.F.R. 332) does not require a public notice for a final mitigation and monitoring plan, nor does it require a public notice for any changes to the proposed compensatory mitigation. The preamble to the 2008 Compensatory Mitigation Rule (73 FR 19640) states:

We have clarified in the final rule that the mitigation statement in the public notice is to be based on the information submitted by the applicant, in accordance with the new requirement at 33 C.F.R. 325.1(d)(7). As discussed in the section of this preamble that addresses § 325.1(d)(7), this should be a brief statement because this occurs in the early stages of the evaluation process, and the evaluation of mitigation options is an iterative process. As district engineers conduct their evaluations in accordance with applicable Corps regulations, the 404(b)(1) Guidelines, and regulations governing other applicable laws (e.g., section 7 of the Endangered Species Act), additional avoidance and minimization may be required, and compensatory mitigation requirements will be determined in greater detail to offset the permitted impacts to the extent appropriate and practicable...We do not believe it is necessary to reword this subsection to clarify that the mitigation statement contains preliminary mitigation measures proposed by the permit applicant. It is understood that these preliminary measures may be revised in response to public comment and other input to the permit process.

In addition, as identified in the Corps' 2009 Standard Operating Procedures (pp. 13-14), "if the applicant substantially modifies the project so that either the project or its reasonably foreseeable impacts to the aquatic environment are substantially different from those described in the original public notice, then a new public notice may be appropriate or necessary for proper evaluation of the proposal....If project impacts are similar to or less than the original submittal (e.g. if expected impacts are reduced as a result of modifications to the project through efforts to avoid and minimize a proposed actions' adverse effects), as a general rule the district should proceed with a decision without issuing another public notice." Proposed permittee-responsible compensatory mitigation at Sonoita Creek Ranch was identified within the Final EIS issued by the USFS, and was available for public review and comment (see Section 1.f of the Supplemental EA for a discussion of the history of the proposed compensatory mitigation). Because proposed permittee-responsible compensatory mitigation was identified in the original public notice and there was not a substantial change in the reasonably foreseeable impacts associated with the proposed action requiring the issuance of a public notice (i.e. the proposed Rosemont Copper project), the Corps has determined a new public notice is not necessary. NEPA regulations require an agency prepare a supplement to a draft or final EIS if (1) the agency makes substantial changes in the proposed action that are relevant to environmental concerns; or (2) there are significant new circumstances or information relevant to environmental concerns and bearing on the proposed action or its impacts. Other than additional avoidance of waters of the U.S., the only changes to the proposed action after the publishing of the Final EIS are modifications to the proposed compensatory mitigation to include refinement of the proposed activities at Sonoita Creek Ranch, and the removal of four stock tanks. In order to ensure compliance with NEPA, the Section 404(b)(1) Guidelines, and public interest review, the Corps has prepared a supplemental Environmental Assessment, 404(b)(1) Guidelines Analysis, and public interest review (Supplemental EA), which is located in Attachment G to the ROD, to determine whether the proposed compensatory mitigation will result in significant adverse effects that require the preparation of a supplemental environmental impact statement. Although the proposed compensatory mitigation at the Sonoita Creek Ranch property and removal of the Gunsight Pass and McCleary Canyon stock tanks were identified in the Final EIS, in order to ensure a full evaluation of the potential environmental effects associated with the compensatory mitigation, the Corps has included all proposed compensatory mitigation in the Supplemental EA. It should be noted, also, that although the Corps has determined a new public notice is not necessary for the final proposed compensatory mitigation, a number of comments have been received regarding the proposed compensatory mitigation, which have been evaluated and considered by the Corps within this response to comments document as well as the Supplemental EA located in Attachment G of the ROD.

The Corps agrees with commenters that identified the proposed compensatory mitigation requires authorization under Section 404 CWA for the proposed discharge of fill material into waters of the U.S. The Corps also agrees with the commenters that the loss of 8.93 acres of Sonoita Creek channel and tributaries should be accounted for in determining whether the compensatory mitigation is sufficient and appropriate. The Corps has incorporated the loss of 8.93 acres of Sonoita Creek channel and tributaries into the total acreage of waters of the U.S. requiring compensatory mitigation, as shown in the SPD Mitigation Ratio Setting Checklist located in Attachment C of the ROD. The Corps also determined the construction of the new Sonoita Creek channel, identified by the applicant as re-establishment in the Final HMMP, is more appropriately classified as rehabilitation, given Sonoita Creek currently exists on the site and the construction of the new channel would not result in an increase in aquatic resource area (although there would be an increase in aquatic resource functions and services), as further described in the Supplemental EA located in Appendix G of the ROD. As described in the ROD and Supplemental EA located in Attachment G of the ROD, the proposed compensatory mitigation would result in a permanent discharge of fill material into 9.15 acres, and a temporary discharge of fill material into 0.33 acres of waters of the U.S. associated with the proposed compensatory mitigation, as follows:

- (1) Permanent discharge of fill material into 8.90 acres of waters of the U.S. associated with rehabilitation and enhancement of Sonoita Creek and ponds on the Sonoita Creek Ranch site.
- (2) Permanent discharge of fill material into 0.25 acre of ephemeral drainages for the removal of the Gunsight Pass stock tank.
- (3) Temporary discharge of fill material into 0.33 acre of ephemeral drainages for the removal of the Barrel Canyon East stock tank (0.13 acre), McCleary Canyon stock tank (0.16 acre), and Rosemont Crest stock tank (0.05 acre)

The proposed discharge of fill material into waters of the U.S. associated with the proposed compensatory mitigation is included in the Corp's final decision on whether or not to issue a permit for the proposed action, with an analysis of the effects of the proposed compensatory mitigation under NEPA, the Guidelines, and public interest review, located in the Supplemental EA prepared and located in Attachment G of the ROD.

With regard to comments identifying that the Corps must evaluate alternatives to the proposed discharge associated with the required compensatory mitigation for compliance with 40 C.F.R. 230.10(a), alternatives to the proposed compensatory mitigation have been evaluated, as identified in the Supplemental EA located in Attachment G, through evaluation of the type and location options in the order presented in 33 C.F.R. 332.3(b)(1) through (b)(6). During the evaluation of the proposed action, the Corps considered the availability of the appropriate type and amount of mitigation bank credits and in-lieu fee credits as the preferred compensatory mitigation option. Because there are not available mitigation banks with the amount and type of credits necessary to compensate for the proposed loss of waters of the U.S., the Corps determined permittee-responsible compensatory mitigation (PRM) is necessary. In the evaluation of the proposed PRM, the Corps utilized the requirements of 33 C.F.R. 332, as well as the South Pacific Division Mitigation and Monitoring Guidelines, to determine whether the proposed compensatory mitigation is appropriate and sufficient to compensate for the loss of waters of the U.S. In addition, on-site alternatives to the proposed compensatory mitigation were evaluated, and resulted in modifications to the proposed design for the compensatory mitigation. The Guidelines at 40 C.F.R. 230.10(a) state "no discharge of dredged or fill material shall be permitted if there is a practicable alternative to the proposed discharge which would have less adverse impact on the aquatic ecosystem, so long as the alternative does not have other significant adverse environmental consequences." In addition, the Guidelines state, at 40 C.F.R. 230.6(b), that "The Guidelines user, including the agency or agencies responsible for implementing the Guidelines, must recognize the different levels of effort that should be associated with varying degrees of impact and require or prepare commensurate documentation. The level of documentation should reflect the significance and complexity of the discharge activity." The proposed compensatory mitigation would result in long-term, beneficial effects to the aquatic environment. The only proposed compensatory mitigation that would result in a discharge of fill material into a special aquatic site is the proposed enhancement of fringe wetlands associated with the ponds. Given the flexibility afforded by the Guidelines, and the long-term beneficial effects that would occur as a result of the proposed compensatory mitigation, the Corps has determined that, with the exception of an evaluation of the no action alternative, and evaluation of the compensatory mitigation hierarchy, an evaluation of additional alternatives to the proposed compensatory mitigation is not required or necessary.

Mine Site: With regards to the comments stating the Corps must prepare a supplemental EIS for the proposed mine site, the Corps disagrees with the commenters that the Final EIS does not fully analyze the direct, indirect, and cumulative effects of the construction and operations of the proposed mine. The USFS continued to evaluate new information and comments following publishing of the Final EIS, within the SIR and Second SIR prepared, affirming that the new information did not change the analysis provided in the EIS. Additional comments received by the Corps after the publishing of the Final EIS did not provide new information necessitating the preparation of a supplemental EIS. Disagreement among experts does not invalidate an EIS. In addition, the effects associated with the proposed mine under the Corps' scope of analysis for the public interest review and Guidelines, as described in Section III of the ROD, are limited to direct, indirect, and cumulative effects to the environment as a result of the discharge of dredged/fill material within the project footprint and off-site infrastructure area. Therefore, the effects under consideration by the Corps are substantially less than the effects evaluated in the Final EIS, as the USFS also evaluated the effects of operations of the mine associated with excavation of the mine pit, discharge of waste rock and mine tailings, and processing of ore.

The review area for the analysis of effects identified by the USFS in the EIS for each resource area of concern extended to those areas where direct, indirect, or cumulative effects would occur. For biological resources and seeps, springs and riparian areas, the review area extended upstream to the west, and more than 20 miles downstream, to Pantano Dam. One commenter indicated the review of indirect effects should extend further downstream of Pantano Dam, however, no information was submitted to support a determination that any effects, let alone significant effects, below Pantano Dam would occur as a result of the proposed action. Other comments indicated the Corps should prepare a supplemental EIS to analyze effects outside of the Corps scope and authority, such as effects to water rights, decisions made by other agencies regarding antidegradation standards, dewatering of the regional aquifer and groundwater drawdown associated with operations of the mine. Another comment identified a supplemental EIS was required as, in a technical report, the applicant has disclosed that an additional 591 million tons of rock-bearing copper could be economically mined in the future. The Corps does not have any jurisdiction over the amount of material mined during operations of the proposed action, therefore, a supplemental EIS would not be required by the Corps to evaluate additional mining, even if this were being proposed by the applicant, which it is not. If, however, future proposed activities result in a modification that would change the effects under the Corps' scope as evaluated, additional evaluation, including a supplemental EIS may be required.

Comments received also indicated the belief that the Corps should prepare a supplemental EIS that includes an inventory of all waters of the U.S. that may be within the analysis area. The Corps disagrees that it is reasonable or possible to conduct an inventory of all waters of the U.S. within the analysis area. While it may be possible to complete remote sensing (e.g. aerial/satellite imagery, light detection and ranging (LiDAR)) to identify potential aquatic resources within the 146,163 acre (Final EIS, page 573) analysis area for biological resources, the costs of such an endeavor would be exorbitant and inaccurate. In addition, even if remote sensing were conducted in order to attempt identification of aquatic resources, a determination of whether or not an aquatic resource is a water of the U.S. is conducted by the Corps only within an approved jurisdictional determination. The Corps does not conduct jurisdictional determinations or aquatic resource verifications without a request from an interested party, nor can the Corps conduct an approved jurisdictional determination without site-specific information, which cannot be obtained through remote sensing.

With regards to comments that the mitigation measures identified in the Final EIS are insufficient to reduce impacts to less than significant, this comment is noted. Under NEPA, a Federal agency is not required to identify that effects of a proposed action have been minimized to a less than significant level in an EIS. The EIS is intended to identify potentially significant impacts, as well as identify mitigation measures that will avoid, minimize, rectify, reduce or compensate for adverse effects occurring as a result of the proposed action. The USFS acknowledges that, despite a number of mitigation measures being imposed, there is a potential for significant impacts to the quality of the human environment from the proposed construction and operation of the mine. As identified above and in Section X of the ROD, the Corps' scope and jurisdiction over the proposed action does not extend to mining operations, and therefore, in general, the effects would be less than those identified within the EIS.

With regards to comments that the Final EIS does not incorporate the requirements of the Guidelines, with the exception of the discussion on alternatives, this comment is noted. When the Corps is the lead Federal agency on the preparation of an EIS, the Corps strives, to the extent possible, to integrate the requirements of the public interest review and Guidelines into the EIS, in particular the discussion of alternatives, as well as an analysis of direct, indirect, and cumulative effects on the public interest review Factors and physical, chemical, biological, and human use characteristics in the Guidelines. However, the final decision on whether a project is contrary to the public interest or is in compliance with the Guidelines, is not made until the ROD. The EIS is intended only to disclose potentially significant impacts and mitigation, and is not the appropriate location for a final permit decision. As a cooperating agency on the EIS, the Corps provided substantial review and comment on the EIS. The Corps has also reviewed the two SIRs prepared by the USFS. After review of all information, the Corps has determined the analysis of effects in the Final EIS is sufficient to conduct the public interest review and make a final determination on compliance with the Guidelines within the ROD, for the proposed action on the mine site, even though the Final EIS did not specifically identify all of the components of the Corps public interest review or Guidelines. See above for the Corps' response to comments stating a supplemental EIS for the proposed compensatory mitigation is needed.

Evaluation Factors

The decision whether to issue a permit will be based on an evaluation of the probable impact, including cumulative impacts of the proposed activity on the public interest. That decision will reflect the national concern for both protection and utilization of important resources. The benefit, which reasonably may be expected to accrue from the proposal, must be balanced against its reasonably foreseeable detriments. All factors that may be relevant to the proposal will be considered, including the cumulative effects thereof. Factors that will be considered include conservation, economics, aesthetics, general environmental concerns, wetlands, cultural values, fish and wildlife values, flood hazards, floodplain values, land use, navigation, shoreline erosion and accretion, recreation, water supply and conservation, water quality, energy needs, safety, food production and, in general, the needs and welfare of the people. In addition, the evaluation of the activity will include application of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) Guidelines (40 CFR 230) as required by Section 404 (b)(1) of the Clean Water Act.

The Corps of Engineers (Corps) is soliciting comments from the public; Federal, state, and local agencies and officials; Native American tribes; and other interested parties in order to consider and evaluate the impacts of this proposed activity. Any comments received will be considered by the Corps to determine whether to issue, modify, condition, or deny a permit for this proposal. To make this decision, comments are used to assess impacts on endangered species, historic properties, water quality, general environmental effects, and the other public interest factors listed above. Comments are used in the preparation of necessary documentation pursuant to the National Environmental Policy Act. Comments are also used to determine the need for a public hearing and to determine the overall public interest of the proposed activity.

Preliminary Review of Selected Factors

EIS Determination – A draft Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) for the proposed Rosemont Copper Project has been prepared by the U.S. Forest Service (USFS), Coronado National Forest. A Notice of Availability of the Draft EIS was published by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency in the Federal Register on October 21, 2011 (76 FR 65509). The USFS is accepting comments on the Draft EIS through January 18, 2012. The Corps and the Bureau of Land Management are Federal cooperating agencies for this Draft EIS. The information provided in the Draft EIS will provide a basis for the Corps to make a decision regarding the Section 404 permit for the proposed Rosemont Copper Project. The draft EIS is available online at http://www.rosemonteis.us.

Water Quality – The applicant is required to obtain water quality certification, under Section 401 of the Clean Water Act from the Arizona Department of Environmental Quality. Section 401 requires that any applicant for an individual Section 404 permit provide proof of water quality certification to the Corps.

Cultural Resources – Formal consultation under Section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act has been initiated by the USFS on behalf of the Corps and the BLM with the State Historic Preservation Office (SHPO) and the appropriate Native American Tribes regarding the proposed project's effect on cultural resources. The USFS will ensure that all requirements of the Memorandum of Agreement and the Historic Properties Treatment Plan will be completed.

Endangered Species –Formal consultation under Section 7 of the Endangered Species Act will be conducted by the USFS on behalf of the Corps and the BLM with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (FWS). The FWS will issue a biological opinion regarding the project's effects to federally listed species and designated critical habitat.

Public Hearing – Any person may request, in writing, within the comment period specified in this notice, that a public hearing be held to consider this application. Requests for public hearing shall state with particularity the reasons for holding a public hearing. Public meetings are currently being held for the Draft EIS, described above. A schedule for future public meetings for the Draft EIS can be found at http://www.rosemonteis.us/public-meetings.

Proposed Activity for Which a Permit is Required

Overview

The applicant has submitted a Section 404 permit application for the Barrel-only Alternative (Alternative 4 under the Draft EIS), which has been identified as the preferred alternative in the Draft EIS. Additional detail on the original proposed action, preliminary Mining Plan of Operation (MPO), as well as other alternatives considered, is provided in the Draft EIS referenced above.

The proposed Rosemont Copper Project is a copper mining project that will produce more than 230 million (M) lbs of copper per year (roughly 10% of annual US production) for 20 years. Average annual production of molybdenum and silver will be 5 M lbs and 3.5 M oz, respectively. Past and recent exploration activities have confirmed or identified the availability of approximately 600 million tons (MT) of ore. This schedule estimates a mill through-put of approximately 75,000 tons per day, which translates into an annual mill through-put of approximately 27 MT per year.

Mining of the ore will be through conventional open-pit mining techniques. Waste rock will be blasted and transported by haul truck to the waste rock storage area. Ore will be blasted and either transported by haul truck to the leach pad and processed by leaching (if it is oxide ore), or crushed and loaded onto a conveyor for transport to the mill for processing by conventional sulfide milling (if it is sulfide ore). Tailings will be stored using a dry stack tailings technique minimizing airborne releases and water seepage. The placement of waste rock will be initiated with perimeter buttresses, including placement on the perimeter of the dry-stack tailings storage areas to provide structural and erosional stability of the tailings pile.

The copper concentrates from the milling operations will be shipped off-site to a smelter. Leach ore (oxide material) will be placed on the heap leach pad. Solutions from the pad will be collected in a solution pond and then processed through the solvent extraction-electrowinning (SX/EW) plant. Copper cathodes generated from the SX/EW plant will be transported off site for further processing.

The proposed project will involve the construction and operation of various mine features, associated structures, and anticipated infrastructure necessary to support these facilities. These constructed features include: the mine pit, waste rock storage areas, heap leach area, dry-stack tailings facility, ancillary facilities and structures, mine haul roads, access roads, and off-site water and power transmission lines (Figures 2 and 3). The nature of the activities associated with each of these mine features is described below.

Mine Pit

The design of the open pit and internal mining phases incorporates geotechnical recommendations for safe slope angles, internal ramp development for access to all working areas, and pit wall smoothing to enhance stability and operator safety. Pit slope angles between ramps will vary according to rock strength, lithology and structural controls, but are expected to range from 28° to 48° between ramps. Where possible, catch benches will be spaced on 100-ft vertical intervals to maximize the effective widths for containing scree (loose rock debris). At the rim, the ultimate open pit will be approximately 6,500 ft across north to south, 6,000 ft across east to west (totaling about 950 ac in area), and will be approximately,800 to 2,900 ft deep. The pit bottom elevation is projected at 3,150 ft above mean sea level (amsl).

Impacts to potential WUS in the pit will result from the initial blasting and excavation of ore and waste rock (Figure 4). Following a blast, rubblized material, including that found in potential WUS, will be picked up with a loader, placed into a haul truck, and then deposited on the leach pad, the primary crusher stockpile, or within the waste rock storage area.

Waste Rock

The waste rock storage area, approximately 1,460 acres in size, will be constructed south of the tailings facility (Figure 5). It is designed to accommodate approximately 750 million tons of material, with an additional 540 million tons of waste rock dedicated to construction of the perimeter buttress and other facilities. The waste rock storage area will receive pit-run, or run-of-mine (ROM), waste rock consisting largely of limestone and skarn rock types, with some andesite, quartz monzonite porphyry, and arkose. The presence of substantial quantities of limestone and skarn will provide a large buffering capacity within the waste-rock storage areas to minimize the generation of acid rock drainage (ARD).

Site preparation of the waste rock storage areas will involve clearing and grubbing the existing topsoil in preparation of construction of the perimeter buttress. Impacts to potential WUS within the waste rock storage area will result from the placement of ROM waste rock. Flow-through drains, designed to pass overflows from the areas upgradient of the waste rock and tailings facility during construction and post closure, will be constructed within the major drainages to facilitate stormwater flow through the waste rock storage area and dry stack tailings facility (Figure 5). During operations, stormwater may report to the flow-through drains during severe storm events, but diversions, impoundments, and other water management features in the Plant Site area will restrict the volume of stormwater that would report to the drain system. Maintenance is not anticipated to be required for the flow-through drains. The drains will be fed from stilling or sediment ponds, which act to reduce the sediment discharging into the drains. In addition, the drains are segregated from the surrounding waste rock by a geotextile layer that prevents migration of fine sediments from the waste rock into the flow-through drains.

The placement of waste rock on the south and east sides of the waste rock facility will be initiated with perimeter buttresses designed to minimize the visual effects of the project for travelers on SR 83 and for viewers in the surrounding area. The outside face of the buttresses will be revegetated and reclaimed as soon as practicable after they are completed. Waste rock in the remaining portions of each phase will then be deposited west and/or north of (behind) these buttresses. Waste rock will also be placed in the dry-stack tailings storage areas to provide structural and erosional stability.

Concurrent with the starter buttress construction, waste rock will be deposited in lifts internal to the waste rock storage area in the upper Barrel Canyon and Trail Canyon drainages. This concurrent development is necessary to minimize congestion and improve safety and equipment productivity in the buttress areas. The ultimate crest elevations of the waste rock storage areas at the end of mining operations will be about 5,600 ft amsl for the Barrel Canyon drainage and 5,300 ft amsl for the Trail Canyon drainage.

Heap Leach

Oxide ore will be transported by haul trucks from the open pit to lined leach pads. The oxide ore will not be crushed, but will be dumped in 30-ft-high lifts atop the lined pads for subsequent leaching. Crawler dozers will be used to spread the oxide ore and cross rip the material to a depth of 5 to 6 ft to promote the infiltration of barren leach solution. Oxide ore will be leached with weak acidic solution, and the leach solution will be processed using SX-EW technology to produce high purity copper cathode plates. Oxide ore mining and placement on the leach pads will be concentrated in the early years of operation. About 85% of the oxide ore will be placed onto the leach pad by the end of Year 5 and process solutions will stop being added to the heap leach by Year 6. The heap leach pad is anticipated to continue draining pregnant leach solution (PLS) to the PLS pond for three or four years, and by Year 10 the pad should be drained and closed.

Initial site preparation of the heap leach pad will involve grading the existing topsoil to create a base grade upon which the remainder of the leach liner will be laid. Impacts to potential waters of the U.S. will occur during initial site preparation, as the entire heap leach pad area, including the PLS and stormwater ponds, will be graded prior to the placement of the remainder of the leach liner (Figure 5). As such, potential WUS in this area will be filled by native material as part of the grading process. Captured storm flows will be incorporated into the process flows and become part of the heap leach circuit (i.e. be incorporated into the PLS, delivered to the SX-EW, and returned as raffinate, the portion of an original liquid that remains after other components have been dissolved by a solvent).

A stormwater pond will be installed to collect any excess water that may be generated during a large precipitation event. The PLS pond, a double-lined collection pond containing the copper-bearing leach solution, will be designed to overflow to the stormwater pond. Water that may accumulate in the stormwater pond will be periodically transferred by pumping to the raffinate solution pond.

Dry Stack Tailings Facility

The Rosemont dry stack tailings facility will receive dry tailings from the sulfide ore processing plant. This material will be stacked behind large buttresses constructed from pit-run waste rock. Consequently, this waste rock storage area will be active from late preproduction throughout the life of the mine. The dry-stack tailings facility will ultimately measure approximately 987 acres in area. The general design concept is to construct uniform lifts of dry tailings that are buttressed by the waste rock containment berms.

Advantages of the dry stack tailings stack method over conventional tailings disposal are:

- eliminates the need for an engineered embankment and seepage containment system
- maximizes water conservation and minimizes water makeup requirements
- can result in a more compact site
- allows opportunities for concurrent reclamation and dust control

Site preparation for the tailings will include grading and construction of the flow-through and finger drain systems within the potential WUS (Figure 5). As described above, the flow-through and finger drain systems will consist of ROM waste rock. Additional discussion related to the flow-through and finger drain system is provided in the Surface Water Management section, below.

An initial buttress will be constructed with waste rock to accommodate approximately one year of tailings storage. Concurrent tailings and waste rock placement will occur throughout the life of the tailings facility. Waste rock will be advanced ahead of the tailings level in successive lifts. The waste rock buttresses will have top widths of 150 ft to accommodate two-way haul traffic and outer slopes of about 3H:1V with benches to achieve an overall slope of approximately 3.5H:1V. This configuration will allow visual screening of the tailings placement activities from SR 83 and concurrent reclamation of the lower perimeter buttress slopes.

Dry tailings will be delivered by conveyor from the filter plant down to the tailings facility. Tailings will be placed with a radial stacker and a dozer will be used to spread the dry tailings and provide sufficient compaction for the conveyor and stacker as necessary. When the primary conveyor is inactive due to relocation or maintenance, a secondary conveyor will be used.

Within the dry stack tailings facility, loss of potential WUS will result from initial grading and the construction of the flow-through and finger drain systems and not from direct fill by dry stack tailings. In addition, although the flow-through drains are designed to pass stormwater in larger events, particularly in construction and post-closure, the development of the waste rock storage area and dry stack tailings facility is anticipated to result in significant enough reduced flows in Barrel Canyon down its confluence with McCleary Canyon that the potential WUS in this reach will be indirectly impacted (Figure 5).

Surface Water Management

For the purposes of stormwater management, the open pit, the heap leach facility, and the plant site are closed systems, with all direct rainfall contained on site. Currently designed stormwater features include the flow-through drain system, process water/temporary storage (PWTS) pond, Settling Basin, and two permanent diversion channels (Pit Diversion Channel and Permanent Diversion Channel No. 1). In addition to the primary diversions, a storage and recovery system sump will be developed in the waste rock storage area. In general, project water management facilities are intended to have sufficient capacity to handle runoff generated from 100-year, 24-hour storm events. Sediment control facilities are designed to reduce the total suspended solid loads to the minimum practical level for the 10-year, 24-hour storm event, defined as total suspended sold concentrations equal to existing conditions. Additional details related to the project stormwater management system are provided below.

Pit Diversion Channel

The Pit Diversion Channel will be constructed early in the project life to divert unimpacted stormwater around the west and south sides of the open pit (Figures 6 and 7). Water in the Pit Diversion Channel will be directed to a perimeter containment area (PCA) located along the west side of the waste rock storage area, between the toe of the waste rock and a natural ridge. An overflow channel leads out of this PCA into another PCA. The only impact to potential WUS resulting from this diversion is the interception of flows from the upper reach of Wasp Canyon which will be directed to the above described PCA. Wasp Canyon downstream of the Pit Diversion Channel will be lost primarily to the development of the pit, the Plant Site area, the construction of haul roads, and dewatering effects of the diversion. The Pit Diversion Channel is sized to convey the local and general probable maximum precipitation (PMP) event.

Permanent Diversion Channel No. 1

This diversion channel will be constructed at the beginning of the project on the northeast side of the pit and will divert unimpacted stormwater from an upgradient watershed around the plant site into McCleary Canyon (Figure 8). This feature will not impact any identified potential waters of the U.S. Like the Pit Diversion Channel, Permanent Diversion Channel No. 1 is sized to convey the local and general PMP event.

Plant Site Stormwater Features

Stormwater flows from the plant site will be collected in the lined PWTS pond, located immediately downgradient of the plant site (Figure 8). The PWTS pond functions as a closed system with all water that is directed to the pond from the plant, in addition to collected stormwater runoff, incorporated into the process water flows.

Both the PWTS Pond and Settling Basin will be lined. The PWTS Pond is a combination of two ponds: the Process Water (PW) Pond and the Temporary Storage (TS) Pond. A spillway connects the Settling Basin to the PW Pond portion of the PWTS Pond. Another spillway connects the PW Pond to the TS Pond. The PW Pond is designed to contain the following during operations: recovered water from tailings thickeners, recovered water from the tailings filter plant, overflow from the settling basin, fresh water make-up, accumulated groundwater and stormwater from the open pit, and stormwater runoff from the plant site area. This stormwater will not be discharged offsite. The TS Pond is designed to contain stormwater runoff and overflow from the PW Pond. The Settling Basin is designed for short-term storage of non-filtered tailings and limited stormwater collection.

In addition, the unlined Crusher Stormwater Pond will be constructed immediately north of the Primary Crusher, south of the general Plant Site area (Figure 8). Similar to the PWTS Pond and Settling Basin, potential WUS associated with the Crusher Stormwater Pond will be lost from the initial construction of the pond embankment, with upgradient waters being lost as a result of excavation to ensure pond capacity, sediment fill, or dewatering effects of the pit. Other miscellaneous ponds will be placed throughout the plant site area as needed to control stormwater runoff, though these ponds will not be lined and will not discharge offsite during operations.

Post-closure grading of the plant site area will include the construction of stock ponds/sediment basins at the same locations as the former PWTS Pond and Settling Basin and other former ponding areas. Upon removal of the pond liner, stormwater reaching the former PWTS Pond area will pass into a flow-through drain (South 1 Drain) leading out of Wasp Canyon drainage and into the main Barrel Canyon flow-through drain (South Main Drain). Construction of the PWTS Pond will result in loss of potential WUS resulting from the construction of the embankment as well as regrading to ensure proper pond capacity. The Settling Basin is constructed in uplands and will not result in the loss of potential WUS.

Flow-Through Drains

Because of the potential for a significant amount of stormwater runoff to be generated between the stormwater diversions and the waste rock and tailings facilities, particularly during construction and post-closure, flow-through drains will be constructed to direct and convey excess stormwater flows to the east side of the waste rock and tailings facility.

Flow-through drains will be constructed within existing drainages throughout the dry stack tailings facility and the waste rock storage area (Figures 9 and 10). Flow-through drains are porous rock drains that allow stormwater to be diverted underneath the dry stack tailing and waste rock facilities. Selected clean ROM rock from the open pit will be the primary material source for the flow-through drains. Waste rock will also be placed in minor washes (finger drains) in the dry stack tailings area to ensure separation between the tailings material and the wash surface. Finger drains will not be covered with a geotextile. Because the finger drains do not extend to the west side of the waste rock and tailings facility, they do not function to provide a hydraulic connection between the east and west sides of the waste rock and tailings facility. The flow-through drains are designed to allow conveyance of the 100-year 24-hour storm volume from the contributing basin through the drain within 30 days.

Compliance Point Dam and PCAs

The Compliance Point Dam is a six-ft high, porous, rock-fill structure where additional sediment controls will be applied as necessary to manage stormwater quality and where stormwater samples will be taken. Perimeter containment areas (PCAs) are located between the waste rock buttress and the adjoining ridge, collect stormwater from a relatively small watershed defined by the waste rock buttress and the adjoining ridge, and filter this stormwater into the waste rock storage area or allow it to evaporate.

Waste Rock Storage Area and Dry Stack Tailings Facility

The buttresses of the dry stack tailings facility will advance ahead of the tailings surface to provide stormwater containment while concurrent reclamation and best management practices, such as settling ponds, will be used to limit erosion on the outer slopes. The top of the tailings area is largely impervious and will be sloped inward so precipitation falling on top of active tailings area will remain on top and evaporate. Ponded water may be pumped to the PWTS pond as needed to limit infiltration into the tailings mass. Stormwater management at the waste rock facilities will be similar to that for the dry tailings facility.

Additional stormwater control features have been incorporated into the reclaimed surface of the waste rock storage area and dry stack tailings facility (benching, stilling ponds, etc.). However, development of these surface water management features will not impact potential WUS which will have been lost during the initial construction of the respective facilities, either through the construction of flow-through drains or the direct deposit of ROM waste rock. A certain volume of stormwater will continue to be shed off of these facilities and discharged to downstream receiving waters, both during construction and operations, and following closure.

Plant Site

The Plant Site Area facilities necessary to support the proposed Rosemont mine and ore processing operations include an administration building, change house, warehouse with lay down yards, analytical laboratory, light vehicle and process maintenance building, mine truck shop, mine truck wash and lube facility, powder magazines and ammonium nitrate storage, and a main guard shack with truck scale (Figure 8). Also included are fuel and lubricant storage and dispensing facilities for mine and process equipment.

Development of the Plant Site area facilities will result in the loss of potential WUS in several ways. As described above, the Plant Site area will include several stormwater pond features that will require the ground surface to be regraded in preparation of the pond construction, resulting in direct fill of native soil in potential waters of the U.S., with liner material over the regraded native soil. Other minor stormwater catchments in the Plant Site area will be unlined and constructed behind minor dam features. Potential WUS in these areas will be filled directly by the dam fill (comprised largely of native soil and rock fill); upgradient of the minor dam features, potential WUS are anticipated to be graded over as part of the pond construction, resulting in loss by direct fill of native material. Similarly, filling of other potential WUS in the Plant Site area will be required in order to build up a suitable foundation for features such as the pebble crusher, tailings thickeners, tailings filter plant, and tank farm (Figure 8).

In addition, a reach of McCleary Canyon, immediately downstream of its crossing by the Primary Access Road, will be modified from its current alignment to allow a minor expansion in the northeast portion of the Plant Site area (Figure 11). This portion of McCleary Canyon will be lost as a result of the fill from native material and reinforcement by rock riprap near the base of the slope. This channel realignment will not result in the modification of downstream flows. Similarly, expansion of the Plant Site area construction pad will require an encroachment into the McCleary Canyon drainage on the north side of the Plant Site, resulting in impacts to potential waters of the U.S. from the discharge of native fill and riprap.

Haul and In-Plant Roads

Mine haul roads will be constructed around the north, east, and south edges of the planned ultimate pit limits. Temporary haul roads will be constructed internal to the ultimate pit limits as necessary to provide access to all working faces and to provide connection to the primary crusher, oxide leach pads, and the waste rock storage area located to the southeast, east, and northeast of the pit. Mine haul roads will be constructed using material excavated from the open pit, typically consisting of limestone, skarn, arkose, andesite, and quartz monzonite porphyry rock types. Road surface material may be crushed and screened as needed to produce a smooth running surface. Roads will be slightly crowned to promote drainage of surface runoff to side ditches. Side ditches will funnel stormwater to the flow-through drains or secondary diversion channels. Haul and in-plant roads may be culverted during portions of the mine construction and/or operations to manage localized stormwater flows. In the plant site, these flows would not discharge off site. Haul roads to the waste rock storage area and dry stack tailings facility will generally not be culverted. Loss of potential WUS in these areas will be a result of fill of ROM waste rock and/or regrading as part of post-closure reclamation.

Pit haul roads will generally be 125-ft wide, inclusive of safety berms and ditches, and will support the traffic of 260-T off-highway mine haulage trucks. The gradient for the mine haul roads will vary but will generally be under 10%; short intervals may be constructed as steep as 12%. The minimum inside lane radius for switchbacks within the pit will be 40 ft. Roads will be slightly crowned to promote drainage of surface runoff to side ditches or berms. Safety berms will be constructed to a minimum height of about 6 to 8 ft, the height at the center of the largest truck wheel.

In-plant roads will generally measure 24-ft wide with 5-ft wide drainage channels, as required, along both sides of the road. In-plant roads will extend from the plant entrance around the perimeter of the process facilities and along the crushed ore conveyor to the mine truck shop. An access road will leave the perimeter road at the crushed ore stockpile and serve the fresh water storage tank, potable water tank, and process water tank. All traffic on plant roads will be right hand traffic until reaching the mine truck shop. At this point, traffic will become left hand drive to accommodate haul trucks in the area. An access road will also be constructed between the open pit and the truck shop located near the plant site. This road will have the same design parameters and speed limits as the mine haul roads. Like the open pit and heap leach facilities, the plant site, including in-plant roads will be a closed system with all precipitation and local runoff collected in the PWTS pond and treated as contact water.

Access Roads

Access to the property will be via two routes: the primary access route from the east, and a secondary access route from the west. The primary access road to the property will extend approximately 3.2 mi from SR 83 and end at the main guard building at the entrance to the plant (Figure 12).

The primary access road will be designed for 35-mph traffic and consist of two lanes, one in each direction. Each lane will be 14-ft wide with a 4-ft wide shoulder, providing a 36-ft wide road bed. Each side of the roadway will have a collection ditch which will typically be 4 ft deep with side slopes of about 2H:1V. The resulting 8-ft wide channel on each side will collect and direct stormwater to diversion channels or receiving waters. The access road will be crowned in the center with the surface sloped 2% to each side. The road surface will consist of 8 in of compacted ADOT aggregate (Class 2). The minimum easement for the access road on level ground will be 68 ft, and greater where cut and fill toe lines extend beyond the minimum distance. The primary access road will cross potential WUS at five locations, all which will be culverted (Figures 13 and 14). Details of the culverts are provided in Table 1 below. Roadside diversions will either discharge to containment areas, or discharge directly to potential waters of the U.S. where roadways cross these drainages, resulting in some increased flows to these drainages during storm events. The impacts to these areas, described below, include erosion protection adequate to protect these areas.

Table 1. Primary Access Road Culvert Details

| Culvert ID | Size | Material | Estimated Volume of Fill (cubic yards) | Loss of Potential Waters of the U.S. (acres) | |
|------------|----------|----------|---|---|--|
| C1 | 42' Arch | Concrete | 532 | 0.22 | |
| C2 | 30" | HDPE | 452 | 0.28 | |
| C3 | 60" | HDPE | 282 | 0.07 | |
| C4 | 60" | RCP | 323 | 0.08 | |
| C5 | 60" | RCP | 242 | 0.06 | |

Secondary access to the plant will be provided to the west over the ridge of the Santa Rita Mountains, and will connect to Santa Rita Road at Helvetia Road. This west access road is considered a secondary access for plant maintenance employees to access the fresh water pump stations and pipeline. The design for the secondary access road from Santa Rita Road to the plant entrance is based on one 11-ft wide lane without shoulders, similar to existing FS roads. The secondary access road currently exists and crosses a potential water of the U.S. in only one location. This location will not be culverted. Minor grading of the crossing may be required as needed, but this activity would be considered a maintenance activity and impacts to the potential water of the U.S. would be negligible.

Offsite Water and Power Transmission Lines

The proposed waterline alignment largely parallels Santa Rita Road through the Santa Rita Experimental Range, and an existing unpaved road over the Santa Rita Mountains, through Lopez Pass (Figure 15). The proposed waterline will be constructed below grade, with a minimum soil cover of 36 inches within State Land or easements, and 24 inches on the mine property. The pipe bedding requirements will follow the manufacturer's recommendations. Isolation valves will be installed in the pipeline at intervals of approximately 3,000 feet and at elevation changes of 250 feet.

Impacts resulting from the installation of the pipeline itself will, for most drainage crossings, be temporary, as the pipe trench will be backfilled with the same soil material that had been removed and sidecast to create the trench. In drainages where the stability of the pipe is of concern, self-compacting pipe bedding material (e.g., crushed stone) may be placed immediately around the pipe. The remainder of the trench would be backfilled with native material. The total width of the trenching and sidecast will be approximately 30 feet (Figure 16). There are an estimated 45 crossings of potential WUS resulting from the proposed waterline.

For drainage crossings where the wash material is comprised of soil and gravel, the pipeline will be buried below the calculated scour depth. Use of a non-erosive material, such as concrete, is only anticipated to be required in areas where the pipeline will be placed in relatively soft bedrock. In these instances, a non-erosive material, such as concrete, will be used to backfill the trench over the pipe to the same level as the bedrock. As a result, the bottom elevation of the potential WUS will not change. Some minor bank stabilization may also be required in association with these crossings.

Construction of the waterline includes a permanent unpaved access road. Impacts to potential WUS resulting from the access road are anticipated to be minimal, as culverts will not be required for the majority of crossings. Most wash crossings will be at-grade or will have minor fill of native material during the construction period to facilitate use by light vehicle traffic. These minor fills will be removed following completion of the waterline. In other areas, the access road is anticipated to divert back to Santa Rita Road for short reaches in order to avoid wash crossings. Culvert crossings will likely only be required where the roadway crosses potentially jurisdictional waters on the east end of the alignment on the slopes of the Santa Rita Mountains. It is assumed that no more than five (5) such culverted crossings will be required with a maximum width of 40 feet per crossing. Some minor bank stabilization may also be required in association with these culverted road crossings.

Construction of the pipeline will include up to five forebay reservoirs and pump stations. The reservoirs and pump stations will be built outside potential WUS.

Electrical power will be provided by Tucson Electric Power (TEP) from a link attached to transmission lines on the South Substation loop. The transmission line will be comprised of above-ground transmission lines and will generally follow the same alignment as the waterline (Figure 15). Maintenance access will be provided by the same unpaved road built for the waterline.

For the majority of the transmission line alignment, potential waters of the U.S. will be able to be avoided. On the east end of the alignment, the topography of the western slope of the Santa Rita Mountains provides some constraints for the construction of the powerline. As such, it is anticipated that up to three (3) utility poles will need to be constructed within one or more potential WUS. The pole structures themselves would not result in a significant volume of fill or loss of potential waters of the U.S., but establishing access for heavy equipment to install the poles would likely require some level of temporary impact.

Proposed Project Impacts

The proposed Rosemont Copper Project will directly impact approximately 38.6 acres with the discharge of dredged/fill material as detailed in Table 1. Additionally, approximately 2.5 acres will be indirectly impacted by the reduced flows in Barrel Canyon down to its confluence with McCleary Canyon, resulting from the development of the dry stack tailings and waste rock facilities in Barrel Canyon. Approximately 0.75 acre of potential WUS will be temporarily impacted by water line crossing and road access for utility pole construction. These impact areas are slightly higher than those identified in the Draft EIS prepared by the USFS as a result of more refined mapping developed for the Section 404 permit application. A detailed discussion of the proposed project impacts is in the draft EIS.

Additional Project Information

For purposes of the Section 404(b)(1) alternatives analysis, the basic project purpose of the proposed Rosemont Copper Project is copper mining, which is not water dependent. The overall project purpose of the proposed Rosemont Copper Project is to develop the mineral resources associated with an ore deposit in southeastern Arizona (Pima, Pinal, Gila, Graham, Greenlee, Cochise, and Santa Cruz counties) using conventional open pit mining and sulfide (mill and concentrate) and oxide (leach and SX/EW) ore processing for the purpose of producing copper and/or copper precursors, silver, and molybdenum. The draft Section 404(b)(1) alternatives analysis is provided as an Appendix in the Draft EIS.

The primary drainage in the proposed project site is Barrel Canyon, with its main tributaries being Wasp Canyon, McCleary Canyon, and Scholefield Canyon. Barrel Canyon drains into Davidson Canyon on the east side of SR-83. Davidson Canyon Wash is tributary to Cienega Creek, tributary to Pantano Wash, tributary to the Rillito River, tributary to the Santa Cruz River which is a Traditionally Navigable Water. Several seeps and springs are present within the proposed project site, including Scholefield Spring (which supports a potentially jurisdictional wetland) located in the north portion of the proposed project site and Rosemont Spring northwest of Rosemont Camp within the Project.

The elevation on the property ranges from approximately 6,824 feet above mean sea level (amsl) at Weigles Butte on the west edge of the proposed project site to approximately 4,500 feet at the lower end of Barrel Canyon. The ridge on the west edge of the property constitutes the main crest of the Santa Rita Mountains. Topographically, the site consists of mountain front and rolling foothills bisected by ephemeral washes (with potential intermittent reaches within McCleary Canyon) draining generally east toward Davidson Canyon, which discharges to Cienega Creek near Interstate 10. Drainages on the west side of the Santa Rita Mountains flow generally west and northwest toward the Santa Cruz River. Underlying geologic units include metamorphic rocks and limestone on the higher ridges and conglomerate and alluvium in the lower hills. The two biomes present within the proposed project site are Madrean evergreen woodland and semidesert grassland. Madrean evergreen woodland covers the higher elevation parts of the proposed project site, generally in the western and southern areas. This community is characterized by open woodlands or savanna with trees interspersed with grasses and forbs. Semidesert grassland covers the lower elevation parts of the proposed project site primarily in the northern and eastern areas. This community is characterized by open grasslandswith widely scattered shrubs and cactus. At middle elevations within the proposed project site, the semidesert grassland grades into the Madrean evergreen woodland in a wide transition zone. Riparian areas are present along some of the major washes within the property and in small patches at some of the more reliable springs. Ephemeral flow in Barrel, McCleary, and Wasp Canyons (with potential intermittent flows in short reaches of McCleary Canyon) supports areas with tree and shrub species not present on drier upland ridges. Several springs in the property, including Rosemont Spring, Scholefield Spring, and Figtree Spring, support a variety of trees, shrubs, and herbaceous plants not found elsewhere within the proposed project site. The highest vegetation density riparian habitat was found in a relatively short, wet reach in upper McCleary Canyon and in association with Scholefield and Fig Tree springs.

The applicant is required to provide a Habitat Mitigation and Monitoring Plan in conformance with the Corps' mitigation rule prior to a permit decision. A preliminary mitigation concept has been previously submitted to the Corps. The final mitigation plan will conform to the Corps' and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) "Final Rule for Compensatory Mitigation for Losses of Aquatic Resources" (33 C.F.R. Parts 325 and 332 and 40 C.F.R. Part 320; published in 73 Fed. Reg. 19594-19705) hereinafter referred to as the 2008 Mitigation Rule. Components of the final plan are listed below (33 CFR § 332.4(c)).

Corps/EPA mitigation rules include a specific order in which five general classes of compensatory mitigation options must be considered: 1) mitigation banks, 2) in-lieu fee programs, 3) permittee-responsible mitigation under a watershed approach, 4) permittee-responsible mitigation through on-site and in-kind mitigation, and 5) permittee-responsible mitigation through off-site and/or out-of-kind mitigation. Rosemont has considered these five general classes of compensatory mitigation when developing the preliminary mitigation plan:

Mitigation Banks. Mitigation banks are the preferred method of mitigation. 33 C.F.R. §332.3(b)(2) and (3). However, there are currently no approved mitigation banks in Santa Cruz watershed, and so this approach is not practicable for Rosemont.

In-lieu Fee. An in-lieu fee program includes a sponsoring entity that assumes responsibility for overseeing the mitigation site in exchange for a fee. It is the second most preferable form of mitigation. 33 C.F.R. §332.3(b)(2). In-lieu fees are calculated by estimating the cost of onsite mitigation for the project, and then applying a per-acre cost for the mitigation. Currently there are ten (10) sponsoring entities in the in-lieu fee program in Arizona, only one of which (the Tucson Audubon Society) has an approved in-lieu fee program in the Santa Cruz River watershed. The North Simpson Farm project is a joint effort by the Tucson Audubon Society and the City of Tucson to enhance riparian habitat along the Santa Cruz River near Marana, Arizona. In addition, the Arizona Game and Fish Department is currently working with the Corps to have several projects accepted into the in-lieu fee program, though the schedule for those projects coming online is unknown.

Given the above, there are currently no suitable in-lieu fee projects for the Rosemont Project. As such, permittee-responsible mitigation approaches are also being evaluated.

Permittee-responsible mitigation under a watershed approach. The only approved watershed plan in the Santa Cruz River watershed is Pima County's Sonoran Desert Conservation Plan (SDCP). However, the applicability of the SDCP for compensatory mitigation under CWA Section 404 is in only the preliminary stages of evaluation by the Corps. As such, this option is not anticipated to be available for the proposed Rosemont Copper Project.

Permittee-responsible mitigation through on-site and in-kind mitigation. The Corps mitigation rule states: "On-site means an area located on the same parcel of land as the impact site, or on a parcel of land contiguous to the impact site." Rosemont is currently evaluating the potential for contiguous offsite Rosemont-owned parcels to offer compensatory mitigation for impacts to the impacted potential waters of the U.S. The functions and services of the ephemeral drainages on these mitigation parcels would be anticipated to be comparable to those proposed to be impacted by the proposed Rosemont Copper Project. Rosemont anticipates that mitigation credit for these parcels will be available through preservation with either a restrictive covenant or conservation easement placed over the mitigation lands. The mitigation ratio that will be available for these mitigation lands will be determined as the mitigation plan is further developed.

Permittee-responsible mitigation through off-site and/or out-of-kind mitigation. Rosemont is evaluating additional offsite parcels for their potential to provide compensatory mitigation opportunities. While the location and nature of the sites is currently confidential, all of the parcels being considered are within the Santa Cruz River watershed and offer varying opportunities for preservation or restoration of surface water resources.
