

S

Washington, D. C.

March 8, 1922.

Mr. H. O. Yardley,
No. 141 East 37th Street,
New York, N. Y.,

My dear Mr. Yardley:

Replying to your letter of March 6th, Colonel Heintzelman has secured the approval of the Chief of Staff for your and Mrs. Yardley's transportation on the April 8th transport; and has also secured authority for your return on any transport that might happen to be returning from Europe after April 23rd. So I think it is pretty safe for you to count upon being able to leave April 8th. It is impossible to say at this time whether or not you can get the transportation back as it is not settled that there will be any transport.

Mr. Meeth can handle affairs as has been done on previous occasions. When I wrote to you and proposed Major McLean, I did not know who your usual successor was.

Major Moorman expects to be out of the hospital in another week. Colonel Heintzelman will probably visit New York sometime towards the end of the month, and you can have a chance to have a final chat with him before your departure.

With best wishes,

Very sincerely yours,