- ASK: Which attribute in the “Humble” column do you feel you are lacking the most?

- STATE: Some attributes related to the left side of the spectrum can be necessary tools as a Chief Petty Officer. For example, it requires a large dose of humility to own and execute orders you may not personally agree with, but this is sometimes necessary to fulfill the Navy’s mission.

- ASK: Can you think of other examples when executing the mission required you to show humility?

- STATE: Some attributes related to arrogance can be used in a positive way, especially as a Chief. Some examples include boldness, or questioning norms (facilitator must elaborate on this).

You will reflect upon this from here on out as you strive for a renewed sense of being as the Chief throughout your career.*
  - (WAIT approximately 5 minutes then ask for a few volunteers to share their attributes)

- STATE: This question is not a new question, nor is it something you should dismiss after today. ASK: What does this phrase mean to them (individually and as a Mess)?

- ASK: How important is it to you that your seniors and juniors trust you?
- DISCUSS: Lack of trust can erode your ability to influence people. Typically, removal of trust only allows us to draw on the power/authority of our position/billet to influence, and all other means diminish or is removed completely. A leader with only one influence tactic is a poor leader. In the case that we attempt to influence those above us (officers/senior CPOs), a lack of trust removes all means to influence (There is no power/authority of position over our seniors).
- TELL SELECTS: The Creed describes our ability to positively influence, the trust given to the position we hold, and the care we must take to preserve these privileges through our attitude and performance.

- TELL SELECTS: The Navy recognizes we are diverse, and the Navy builds tools and training that aligns us all with ethics (Oath of Enlistment, Sailor’s Creed, CPO Creed, Charge of Command, Oath of Office, Navy Ethos). In the end, it is important to any organization that its people all understand the same “right” and “wrong”.

Related Instructor Activity

- NOTES: King David began as a shepherd (Humble beginnings, like us). He killed the warrior Goliath and rose to power and became the King. He was charismatic, just, and of very high moral character. Even though he was a great man, temptation and desire for the wife (Bathsheba) of one of his general's resulted in his unethical decision to sleep with her which resulted in her pregnancy. In attempts to cover up his actions which he knew were not ethical, he brought the general back from campaign and attempted to have him sleep with her in a ruse to allow him to believe the child to be his own. When the general refused (a code existed not to sleep with your spouse while on campaign), King David had him sent to the front lines which resulted in the general’s death. David then took Bathsheba as his own.

- ASK: Although we do not become Kings, like David, we can relate to his story in that we start from low ranks (humble beginnings) and rise to authority (CPOs). And at times, we can be tempted to use this authority to make unethical choices. Can you think of any examples?

Chief Petty Officer’s Creed

ATTENTION TO THE CREED!!!!

During the course of initiation, you have been caused to humbly accept challenge and face adversity. This you have accomplished with rare good grace. Pointless as some of these challenges may have seemed, there were valid, time-honored reasons behind each pointed barb. Your faith in the fellowship of Chief Petty Officers was necessary to overcome these hurdles. The goal was to instill in you that trust is inherent with donning of the uniform of a Chief.

Advocacy, Tradition and Trust

1) Why is advocacy important for us to understand as Chief Petty Officers?

2) Have you ever asked your Sailors for their blind faith?

3) What happens when you abuse blind faith, tradition or lack advocacy?
Leadership, Advocacy, Tradition and Trust

Definitions:

• Leadership: the action of leading a group of people or an organization.

• Advocacy: the act or process of supporting a cause or proposal: the act or process of advocating something.

• Tradition: the transmission of customs or beliefs from generation to generation, or the fact of being passed on in this way.

• Trust: firm belief in the reliability, truth, ability, or strength of someone or something.

“Leadership is a potent combination of strategy and character. But if you must be without one, be without strategy.” General Norman Schwarzkopf

Our Charge Book

What it IS: The Charge Book is perhaps the singularly most important piece of Initiation. The time-honored tradition of passing knowledge to our relief through the Charge Book has been around for many years. It is one of our primary tools and should be at the forefront of day-to-day training and to network Chief Petty Officers around the world and Chiefs past and present. Charges in our Charge Book should enable a sit-down conversation between the Chief and First Class Petty Officer relating to effective leadership, expectations, responsibilities, and learning experiences.

In your future as a Chief Petty Officer, you will be forced to endure adversity far beyond what has thus far been imposed upon you. You must face each challenge and adversity with the same dignity and good grace you have already demonstrated.”

Your character and competence will determine your ability to lead!
Definition of Challenge:

- A call or summons to engage in any contest, as of skill, strength, etc.
Leadership; Seven Cs

1. Character
2. Competence
3. Courage
4. Commitment
5. Caring
6. Communicating
7. Community
Character defined:

Character is defined as the “moral excellence” and “the mental and moral qualities of an individual”

Character is the most important Leadership C.

“It is the core of the leader, essential to the end, ways and the means or realizing the leader’s vision.”

Melvin G. Williams Sr. & Melvin G. Williams Jr. Authors of Navigating the Seven Seas
Competence defined:

Competence is defined as the “ability to do something successfully or efficiently.”

A leader must be competent as he or she guides the organization.

“Leadership involves having competence in achieving desired effectiveness (results, performance, or outcomes) as defined by the leader”

Melvin G. Williams Sr. & Melvin G. Williams Jr. Authors of Navigating the Seven Seas
Courage defined:

Courage is defined as the “the moral and mental strength to do what is right, even with criticism or adversity.”

“Leadership necessitates courage in making decisions. Leaders should consider the facts, opinions of a diverse group, instincts and intuition, and be decisive at the right time.”

Melvin G. Williams Sr. & Melvin G. Williams Jr. Authors of Navigating the Seven Seas
Commitment defined:

Commitment is defined as the “the state or quality of being dedicated to a cause, activity, etc.”

A commitment to developing people is essential!

“A commitment to serving or supporting something greater than self; in our case, defending freedom through service in the Navy.”

Melvin G. Williams Sr. & Melvin G. Williams Jr. Authors of Navigating the Seven Seas
Caring defined:

Caring is defined as the “displaying kindness and concern for others.”

Caring is important. Leaders who care take action toward serving needs of their people.

“To have empathy, compassion and consideration is an essential aspect of effective leadership.”

Melvin G. Williams Sr. & Melvin G. Williams Jr. Authors of Navigating the Seven Seas
Communicating defined:

Communicating is defined as the “share or exchange information, news, or ideas.”

Communicating is important. Leaders must be effective in inspiring action.

“People want to be inspired by the leader, who provides a sense of purpose and a reason for commitment to the team’s effort.”

Melvin G. Williams Sr. & Melvin G. Williams Jr. Authors of Navigating the Seven Seas
Community defined:

Community is defined as “a group of people living in the same place or having a particular characteristic in common”

Community is important. Leaders should endeavor to establish community strength when creating teamwork.

“Leadership involves regard for community when creating teamwork.”

Melvin G. Williams Sr. & Melvin G. Williams Jr. Authors of Navigating the Seven Seas.

The Chief is always a part of the answer;
The E-7 is always part of the problem.

The Chief always has a program;
The E-7 always has an excuse.

The Chief says, "LET ME DO IT FOR YOU";
The E-7 says "That's not my job."

Do we need a hierarchy in the Chiefs’ Mess? Why/Why Not?
We all have a role to play within the Mess and our commands.

It is vital to the success of our commands and our Navy that we understand these roles and execute them to the best of our ability, being loyal to one another, and working together as a unified team.

- Humble beginnings
- Rises to power
- Charismatic / Influential
- Strong moral character
- Temptation to abuse position and power for personal gain
- Made the unethical decision and went to lengths to cover it up
- Results in punishment (by God) and upheaval within his kingdom
A sex scandal sunk six senior enlisted Sailors
The failure of the Chiefs mess began back in February when scores of Sailors departed off the cruiser in the Lithuanian port town of Klaipeda, ready to blow off some steam. Ethical Decisions

One BAD Apple

- Although there is the accountability to ourselves as individuals to do the right thing as a CHIEF, it is not just the individual CHIEF who suffers when one does wrong.

- “What’s said in the Mess, stays in the Mess” is a message that describes how we can disagree and have differences as a functional Mess; free to provide input to the process and come out in UNITY...

- It is NOT permission to cover our tracks, provide blind loyalty, and violate our ethical obligations to the Navy, our Sailors, and ourselves.

Acceptance

OBJECTIVES

6.1a Discuss and define Acceptance as it relates to the CPO Creed

6.1b Analyze and discuss the history of the initiation process

6.1c Importance of Acceptance by the CPO Mess

6.1d Discuss continuing the conversation after acceptance
Overview

• The CPO Creed
• Definition and importance of Acceptance
• History and goal of initiation
• Importance of being accepted
• Continuing the conversation after Acceptance
You must first understand trust:
“Your faith in the fellowship of the Chief Petty Officer was necessary...The goal was to instill in you that trust is inherent with the donning of the uniform of a Chief.”

To reach acceptance:
“...We take deep and sincere pleasure in clasping your hands, and accepting you as a Chief Petty Officer in the United States Navy.”

CPO Creed
The Why – Vision of the Chief Petty Officer:

“A senior enlisted force that serves first and foremost as Deck-plate Leaders committed to developing Sailors and enforcing standards; remains responsive, aligned and well-connected to both leadership and Sailors; and conducts itself in a consistently professional, ethical, and traditional manner.”

CPO 365
CPO Initiation

“Not all experience the same sentiment while doing the exact same activity”
Goal for initiation

• “Challenge is good; a great and necessary reality which cannot mar you…” CPO Creed

• Evolve selectee leadership into team builders who are selflessly focused on mission accomplishment through challenging selectees mentally, physically, and emotionally.
Tested and Selected

6 weeks of professional training, character building, CPO Team Building Events, Physical Training, while maintaining mission focus.

Acceptance based on ability to demonstrate character commensurate to an August CPO, humility, ability to trust in the mess, and utilize knowledge gained throughout the course of 6 weeks.

Continue the conversation. Continue evolving as a leader. Utilize Chief Mess Training, CPO Creed, knowledge gained in the CPO Charge books, CNO/MCPON required reading, commit to a life-work-balance, maintain ability to remain relevant leaders.
“During the course of initiation, you have been caused to humbly accept challenge and face adversity.”

Initiation + CPO Creed = The Chief
Activity: What do you bring to the Mess?

Do they differ?

Week 1

Week 6

Identify your flaws. Is it writing evals, conflict management, developing briefs? How do you improve?? Constantly work to improve! Leadership is not tied to a single qualification, but it is a never ending pursuit to develop and improve.
“I was initiated in Pensacola in 1982. Believe it or not, I was apprehensive about initiation but looking forward to it. I have to say, it was the more challenging and humbling experiences of my life and man was I proud. It was years later that I realized that I could walk into any Chief’s mess or Chief’s office in the world and feel perfectly welcome. I could strike up a conversation with any Chief or ask for assistance and know I had his or her full attention. Like “Cheers” it is good to go where everyone knows your name – Chief.”
