NATIONAL SECURITY AGENCY K-12 ACADEMIC OUTREACH PROGRAMS

National Security Agency academic outreach programs promote SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY, ENGINEERING, AND MATHEMATICS (STEM) and WORLD LANGUAGE education at non-profit educational institutions.

These programs help cultivate the next generation of experts in fields critical to our nation's future.

REQUESTING A SPEAKER

The K-12 Academic Outreach Speakers Bureau enables NSA professionals to provide STEM and world language enrichment presentations to schools. The Speakers Bureau offers a variety of fun and fascinating STEM and world language talks aimed primarily at middle and high school students. NSA hopes that the speaker's knowledge of and excitement about these topics will inspire students to be more enthusiastic about their future encounters with STEM and foreign language.

In-person presentations are available in the Baltimore-Washington area and NSA's cryptologic centers in Georgia, Colorado, Texas, and Hawaii. Virtual presentations are available throughout the country.

The list of available presentations is located on our website: <https://www.nsa.gov/resources/students-educators/k12-partnership/>. The list includes the appropriate grade levels and the minimum time needed for each presentation. The majority of the presentations are interactive and work best with a smaller group (25–30 students or less.) If you are interested in requesting a speaker, please complete the form on the website.

OTHER SERVICES

In addition to the Speakers Bureau, K-12 Academic Outreach is also able to support requests for other services, including:

- STEM fairs, Language competitions, and/or Robotics judging
- STEM/world language events
- Extracurricular activities (e.g. Cyber Patriots, world language clubs, etc)

These requests may also be submitted using the form on the website. If you have any questions, email K12outreach@nsa.gov or call 301-688-6214.

SPEAKER AVAILABILITY

NSA professionals engage in outreach activities in addition to their normal duties. The more flexible you are, the better we can serve your needs. We will honor requests as our resources permit.
