(C//NF) While conducting collection operations authorized under the FISA of 1978, as amended, NSA incidentally collects domestic communications, subject to retention limitations. Although NSA information systems can be programmed to facilitate compliance with retention limitations, the Signals Intelligence Directorate is not fully using information system capabilities to do so. The OIG did not detect major instances of domestic communications in conflict with minimization procedures; however, we determined that the risk is high for noncompliance. The OIG found that appropriate training on how data repository system capabilities can aid analysts to comply with retention rules

The OIG also found that developing an FBI-Compatible Dissemination System could lower NSA's risk of noncompliance. A future report will update actions taken to correct the study findings.
