LETTER OF PROMULGATION

1. Purpose. This publication is a Headquarters supplement to Organization Manual CG-229, and prescribes the pattern of organization for Coast Guard Headquarters only. This manual fixes the areas of authority and responsibility which are hereby delegated to subordinate components of the Commandant, and assigns to various components of organization those functions which must be performed in order to attain the overall objectives of Coast Guard Headquarters as they relate to the entire Coast Guard organization.
2. Condition. The transfer of the U. S. Coast Guard as a major component of the Department of Transportation has been attended with significant changes in our internal organizational and functional structure. As a result, this initial publication will contain Functional Statements and Organization Charts on only those Offices which, for the present, remain relatively unchanged. These include the Office of the Comptroller, the Office of Engineering, the Office of Personnel, and the Office of Reserve. The remaining Offices which are in the process of reorganization will be included as such reorganization is completed.
3. Applicability. As noted in Coast Guard Organization Manual CG-229, the provisions of this manual are mandatory, not merely suggestive. A sound organization plan, clearly defined and well understood at all levels is indispensable to the successful conduct of the Coast Guard program.
4. Amendments. Suggested alterations to the organizational and functional structure as prescribed herein shall be submitted to the Administrative Management Division for approval. Changes to this manual will be published in consecutively numbered amendments.

PREFACE

An organization is created where two or more individuals combine their efforts to accomplish a task which no single individual can accomplish unaided. In such situations, it becomes necessary, therefore, for the head of the organization to divide his responsibilities among subordinates in successively lesser areas of responsibility. In passing down responsibilities, however, he, at the same time, passes down so much of his authority as is commensurate with the responsibilities to be discharged; nevertheless, he must retain end responsibility.

The intent of this Manual is to provide a general description of the organizational and functional structure of Coast Guard Headquarters and serve as a supplement to Coast Guard Organizational Manual CG-229. In developing the pattern of Headquarters Organization and the Headquarters Organization Manual CG-229-1, every effort has been made to assure adherence to and consistency with the commonly accepted basic principles of organization and management.

For a broader view of the Coast Guard Organization and more detailed information concerning the characteristics of organization, the principles of management, and a glossary of management terms, it is suggested that liberal use be made of Coast Guard Organization Manual CG-229.

ORGANIZATION MANUAL (CG-229-1)

METHOD OF AMENDING

All changes to the Headquarters Organization Manual will be issued in the form of signed, serially numbered amendments. Each amendment will transmit new or revised pages and will contain a brief description of the change being effected together with such other specific instructions as may be necessary. New or revised pages will bear a notation of the amendment by which they were transmitted. Holders of Manual shall insure up-to-date maintenance of all copies of the manual furnished to their units.

★ PROCEDURE FOR AMENDING ORGANIZATIONAL AND FUNCTIONAL STRUCTURE

1. The procedure for amending the organizational and functional structure of Headquarters is as follows:

a. Headquarters offices shall submit, in triplicate and in HQ manual format where possible, all proposals for organizational changes. Functional statements shall be transmitted by a memorandum identifying the material to be added, revised, or deleted from the existing manual, describing the need for the change, the objectives to be gained by it, and identifying any predictable changes in personnel requirements. Separate functional statements shall be submitted for each proposed new unit or alteration of existing unit. Action on requests for change cannot be taken until such statement has been received.

b. The Management Analysis Division will notify the requesting office and the Civilian Personnel Division of all approved organizational changes. The latter will then assign organizational element codes as needed.

2. Each office is advised to maintain, for its own use and information, a file of action taken on each proposal for alteration of the Manual.

HEADQUARTERS ORGANIZATION

★ INTRODUCTION TO HEADQUARTERS ORGANIZATION

A. GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF COAST GUARD HEADQUARTERS ORGANIZATION AND MISSIONS.

1. The Headquarters organization is structured to provide the Commandant with the administrative, technical and other support services needed to administer and manage functions assigned by law or delegated to him by the Secretary of Transportation.

2. In order to carry out Coast Guard missions effectively the staff components within the Headquarters organization perform tasks as assigned by this Manual and exercise authority as delegated by superiors in the chain of command.

3. Functions of the major components of Headquarters organization are summarized below:

a. The Commandant generally administers the Service and prescribes broad policy for its government.

b. The Chief of Staff assists the Commandant and the Assistant Commandant in the general administration of the Service and acts as principal management advisor.

c. The Office of Civil Rights has staff responsibility for assuring full and affirmative implementation of civil rights and equal opportunity within the Coast Guard and representing organizations.

d. The Office of Public and International Affairs has staff responsibility for advising the Commandant on external matters as they relate to Coast Guard operations.

e. The Inspector General has staff responsibility for developing, implementing, and monitoring a service-wide inspection and evaluation system aimed at furthering Coast Guard mission effectiveness.

f. The Office of Chief Counsel has staff responsibility for handling all legal matters for the Service.

g. The Office of the Comptroller has staff responsibility for developing and administering the total Coast Guard fiscal and supply system.

h. The Office of Engineering has staff responsibility for developing and administering the total program for design, construction, and altering Coast Guard vessels, aircraft, shore stations, electronics, etc.

i. The Office of Merchant Marine Safety has staff responsibility for establishing and enforcing safety standards for U. S. commercial vessels, including the licensing of merchant marine personnel.

j. The Office of Operations has staff responsibility for performing search and rescue, law enforcement, icebreaking, aids to navigation, marine sciences, and other services on U. S. waters.

k. The Office of Personnel has staff responsibility for developing and administering a program of recruiting, training, assignment, retirement, etc., for civilian and military personnel.

l. The Office of Research and Development has staff responsibility for developing, coordinating, and directing a program of research and development responsive to Coast Guard long-range objectives, immediate requirements, and advancing technology.

m. The Office of Reserve has staff responsibility for developing and administering a training program for Coast Guard Reservists.

n. The Office of Boating Safety has staff responsibility for providing facilities, services and protective measures aimed at making the operation of small craft on the waters of the United States both pleasurable and safe.

o. The Office of Chief Medical Officer has staff responsibility for developing and implementing the overall health, dental, nursing, and sanitation programs of the Coast Guard.

★ C. GENERAL FUNCTIONAL STATEMENTS

1. The assignment of specific responsibilities to the chief of a component of organization bestows upon that person the necessary authority to act in those areas.

2. Certain responsibilities are common to the heads of all components of organization in Headquarters. To reduce or eliminate repetitious material in each individual functional statement, these will be listed under the common head "Statement of General Responsibilities," Introduction to Headquarters Organization, page 10.

3. Although care has been taken to present the contents of this manual in a simplified form, and to make clear-cut and comprehensive statements, error or omission may exist. Any deficiencies noted should be brought to the attention of the Commandant (CMA) promptly.

★ D. STATEMENT OF GENERAL RESPONSIBILITY

In the accomplishment of his objectives, the chief of each organizational component shall be responsible for:

1. The indoctrination, coordination, and discipline of all personnel reporting to him. Discipline is used here in its broad sense of complete conformation to every rule of conduct contributing to morale and efficiency.
2. The coordination of activities of his component with the activities of each other component.
3. The simplification and consolidation of all activities under him, and the elimination of such of those activities as are not essential.
4. Assisting other component chiefs as required.
5. Maintaining an adequate record of information for immediate and future reference purposes.
6. Preparing and rendering reports or returns required as a consequence of the activities under him and processing such reports and returns prior to release. This includes the responsibility for keeping informed of those activities all higher authority and others who may appropriately need to know.
7. Keeping currently informed on matters which will contribute to the efficiency of his component.
8. The preparation and distribution of such directives and instructions relating to his assigned functions as may be necessary in order to secure uniform interpretation, understanding, and performance of those functions.
9. Maintaining internal liaison with other organizational components on matters in which there is a mutual concern, and maintaining external liaison with other Federal agencies or outside organizations performing similar or associated functions.
10. Complying with the commonly accepted tenets and principles of organization, particularly as they relate to military staff organization, and for conforming his activities to established service doctrine.
11. The discharge of any responsibility which might otherwise be imposed upon him by Coast Guard Regulations or by any effective order or directive of the Commandant.

PART I

★ THE COMMANDANT (C)

The Commandant, as the senior officer of the Coast Guard, acting under the general supervision of the Secretary of the Department of Transportation, is responsible for administering the Service in an economical and efficient manner. He prescribes broad policies for the government of the Service and generally directs, supervises, and coordinates Service endeavor and performance. He guides the legislative programs of the Service and requires compliance with the statutory obligations and requirements imposed upon it. He establishes and maintains effective liaison and relations with other agencies of the Federal Government and with the public in general. Additionally and from time to time, he serves on interdepartmental or international bodies concerned with matters in which the Coast Guard has a substantial interest.

★ ASSISTANT COMMANDANT (CA)

The Assistant Commandant shall assist the Commandant, as directed, in the general administration of the Service and shall act as Commandant in the absence of the latter. (There will be maximum flexibility in the allocation of authority and responsibility between the Commandant and the Assistant Commandant so that adjustments can readily be made from time to time as the volume and nature of work necessitate.) The Assistant Commandant shall keep informed of the approved policies and programs of the Commandant at all times in order that uniformity of decision and continuity of action may be constantly assured. The Assistant Commandant shall determine the action on matters submitted to the Commandant which do not require the personal attention of the Commandant, and he shall develop recommendations as to the action to be taken on matters which require the Commandant's personal attention. He shall cause to be maintained, through the Chief of Staff, an effective coordination of the activities of the several components of organization at Headquarters with particular reference to resolving questions that might arise as to their respective responsibilities and the manner of integrating the efforts of the several offices. He shall consider and take appropriate action upon appeals from actions or decisions of the Chief of Staff that may be entered by Chiefs of Offices at Headquarters; and generally supervise the activities of the Chief, Office of Public and International Affairs.

★ SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE COMMANDANT

Under the direction and supervision of the Commandant, the Special Assistant shall:

1. Research and compile material for use in preparing speeches for the Commandant.
2. Develop and implement special projects as directed by the Commandant.

AMENDMENT NO. 1

★ CHIEF HEARING EXAMINER (CE)

Under the general direction and supervision of the Commandant, the Chief Hearing Examiner shall:

1. Act as an advisor and special assistant to the Commandant in all non-legal matters involving or affecting hearing procedures conducted pursuant to R.S. 4450 (46 USC 239), as amended, and the Administrative Procedure Act, as amended (5 USC, Sec. 1001-1011), and regulations promulgated thereunder (46 CFR 137).
2. Initiate or review proposals in connection with the development of standard hearing practices and procedures.
3. Indoctrinate the field Hearing Examiners.
4. Coordinate the activities of the several field Hearing Examiners and review cases heard by such Examiners in order to insure adherence to policy and compliance with regulations and instructions, and to secure a uniform level of efficiency in the performance of duty by the Hearing Examiners.
5. Hear and adjudicate cases, personally, which in the opinion of the Commandant are of such scope or implication as to warrant hearing and adjudication by an Examiner who possesses highly specialized knowledge and is capable of the exercise of special skill.
6. Review appeals to the Commandant entered by merchant seamen from decisions of field Examiners in proceedings against licenses, certificates, and/or Merchant Mariner's documents, and make appropriate recommendations to the Chief Counsel for consideration in the preparation of final action with respect to such appeals.

★ Science Advisor to Commandant

The Science Advisor to the Commandant, as the Chief Scientist of the Coast Guard, shall:

1. Serve as the principal advisor and consultant on scientific matters to the Commandant and other Coast Guard officials, and participate fully as one of the Commandant's immediate staff in the planning, development, and implementation of broad technical and scientific policies and programs of the Coast Guard.
2. Advise as to direction and scope of the total scientific program, and exercise a major influence over its accomplishment.
3. Review and evaluate for the Commandant the scientific programs and achievements of the Coast Guard, and recommend changes aimed at assuring that scientific effort is properly channeled and applied toward realization of objectives.

★ MERCHANT MARINE COUNCIL (CMC)

The Merchant Marine Council, under the chairmanship of the Chief, Office of Merchant Marine Safety, serves as a deliberative body to advise the Commandant as to policy concerning marine safety. It has no operating authority or responsibility, and is composed of ex-officio members by virtue of position assignment in Coast Guard Headquarters and of members specifically designated on a permanent basis or temporarily. Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Office of Public and International Affairs, the Chief, Telecommunications Liaison Division shall:

1. Be responsible for: (a) administering the radio frequency management program of the Coast Guard; (b) providing liaison with the Director of Telecommunications Management (DTM), the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), the Department of State (DOS), and the International Telecommunications Union (ITU) on radio frequency management matters of mutual interest; (c) supervising Coast Guard participation in the radio frequency management programs of the DTM, the Interdepartment Radio Advisory Committee (IRAC), the Joint Frequency Panel of the Military Communications Electronics Board (JFP/MCEB), and such other organizations as the Commandant may direct; (d) coordinating external liaison for the Coast Guard and the Department of Transportation (DOT) on telecommunications matters of mutual interest; and (e) coordinating Coast Guard participation in the national telecommunications management programs of the DTM.
2. Provide advice and assistance to officials of the Coast Guard, with respect to the regulatory aspects of national and international telecommunications management, involving: (a) formulation and enforcement of general telecommunications policies and regulations; (b) radio frequency spectrum utilization policies, regulations and standards; (c) allocation and assignment of radio frequency spectrum space; and (d) electro-magnetic compatibility (EMC) and radio frequency interference (RFI) matters.
3. Establish and maintain close liaison with the appropriate offices and divisions in Headquarters to insure that the positions taken or supported by Coast Guard representatives in various organizations concerned with operational aspects of telecommunications (e.g., IMCO, ICAO, IATA, IOC, etc.) are compatible with national frequency management policies; conversely, to insure that frequency management policy reflects Coast Guard operational interest.
4. Establish and maintain close liaison with organizations responsible for foreign radio communication operations deemed likely to pose frequency-utilization or EMC/RFI problems for the Coast Guard for the purpose of facilitating the favorable resolution of such problems.
5. In the execution of the basic responsibilities stated above, specific functions to be performed by ATL personnel shall include:
 - a. Obtaining, prescribing the technical particulars of use, and subsequently protecting all radio frequency authorizations required by the Coast Guard; maintaining the official Coast Guard record of such authorizations; providing for Coast Guard participation in DTM and DOD frequency management ADP programs;

b. Keeping respective offices informed and cognizant of all frequency management rules and regulations applicable to Coast Guard radio communications operations;

c. Receiving, processing, and taking necessary action through the cognizant office on reports of harmful interference involving radio communications operations;

d. Providing radio frequency spectrum planning to meet the present and future requirements of the Coast Guard as well as those of other national and international users having requirements in the radio frequency bands technically administered by the Coast Guard (e.g., 90-110, 285-325, 1800-2000 kHz);

e. Periodic distribution of records of Coast Guard radio frequency authorizations and other general radio frequency management information of interest to the Coast Guard; and

f. Taking necessary action through the cognizant office to insure that all Coast Guard radio communications operations are carried out in conformity with pertinent frequency management rules and regulations.

6. By express designation, and with the approval of the Office Chief and Commandant, any, or all, of the duties and functions listed above may be performed in behalf of other Federal Government agencies under appropriate agreements.

★ FREQUENCY MANAGEMENT BRANCH (ATL-1)

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Telecommunications Liaison Division (ATL), the Chief, Frequency Management Branch shall:

1. Have as its primary function the implementing of those functions assigned to the Telecommunications Liaison Division involving: (a) obtaining, prescribing the technical particulars of use, and subsequently protecting from harmful interference, all radio frequency authorizations required by the Coast Guard; (b) maintaining the official Coast Guard record of such frequency authorizations; and (c) providing for Coast Guard participation in frequency management ADP programs of the Department of Defense and the Office of Telecommunications Management.
2. Provide Coast Guard representation on the Frequency Assignment Subcommittee (FAS) of the Interdepartment Radio Advisory Committee (IRAC) and the Joint Frequency Panel (J/FP) of the Military Communications-Electronics Board (MCEB).
3. Supervise and coordinate Coast Guard participation in the Electro-magnetic Compatibility Programs (EMC/ECAS) of the Department of Defense and the Office of Telecommunications Management.
4. Administer the program of international notification of Coast Guard radio frequency utilization, and particulars of certain operations, to the International Telecommunication Union (ITU).
5. In consultation with cognizant operational and engineering Divisions/Staffs, provide planning to meet present and foreseeable future requirements of the Coast Guard for radio frequency spectrum space.
6. Establish and maintain close liaison with personnel in organizations responsible for the regulatory aspects of national and international telecommunication operations posing potential EMC/RFI problems for the Coast Guard for the purpose of facilitating the favorable resolution of such problems.

TECHNICAL BRANCH (ATL-2)

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Telecommunications Liaison Division (ATL), the Chief, Technical Branch shall:

1. Have as its primary function the implementing of those functions assigned to the Telecommunications Liaison Division involving the development of technical standards or criteria for the utilization of radio frequency spectrum space.
2. Provide Coast Guard representation on the Technical Subcommittee (TSC) of the Interdepartment Radio Advisory Committee (IRAC) and appropriate Study Groups of the International Radio Consultative Committee (CCIR) of the International Telecommunication Union (ITU).
3. Conduct technical evaluations to determine the impact of proposed operations on existing or planned Coast Guard radiocommunication operations.
4. Assist the Frequency Management Branch in the analysis and resolution of radio frequency interference (RFI) and electromagnetic compatibility (EMC) problems.
5. Conduct, as directed, special studies and analyses relative to the radio frequency utilization aspects of new or improved radiocommunication systems or services.
6. Supervise maintenance of the Division technical files.
7. Maintain close liaison with technical personnel in the Coast Guard, and other entities represented by the Telecommunications Liaison Division, for the purpose of facilitating the favorable resolution of technical problems.

★ INSPECTOR GENERAL (IG)

Under the general direction and supervision of the Commandant, the Inspector General shall:

1. Develop, implement and monitor a Coast Guard-wide inspection and evaluation system aimed at keeping the Commandant and District Commanders advised as to: (a) compliance with established policies and procedures; (b) ability of Coast Guard units to perform assigned tasks efficiently and effectively; (c) the state of military readiness of Coast Guard units; and (d) potential remedial measures to improve mission effectiveness.
2. Plan, develop and implement an inspection system for the Coast Guard which will provide uniform standards, procedures and guidelines to be applied by field inspection staffs in their inspection and evaluation of Coast Guard units ashore and afloat (covering the operational and administrative areas, as well as the Safety Program).
3. Make a continuing appraisal and analysis of the effectiveness of the inspection system and install improved measures as necessary.
4. Provide advisory services to field inspection staffs concerning interpretation of policies and the inspection process in general.
5. Coordinate inspection activities throughout the Service, and take steps to balance inspection workload with personnel requirements.
6. Assure that the Commandant or other appropriate Headquarters official(s) is informed of major or unusual problems arising from inspections which cannot be reconciled at the field level.
7. Provide for the cyclical or special inspection and evaluation of district offices and Headquarters units, assisted as necessary by specialists temporarily assigned by the Commandant.
8. Direct field inspection staffs to make special inspections or investigations as may be requested by the Commandant or responsible official on his staff.
9. Establish a reporting system designed to keep the Commandant and his Headquarters staff generally informed as to the mission effectiveness of field units.
10. Direct and supervise the activities of the Director of Safety and have ultimate responsibility for the Coast Guard Safety Program.

★ SAFETY STAFF (IGS)

Under the direction and supervision of the Inspector General, the Director of Safety shall:

1. Plan, develop, implement, and administer a Safety Program to provide the maximum practical degree of safety for personnel, equipment, and other resources for which the Coast Guard is responsible.
2. Establish and administer an accident reporting system which will provide data on accidents and accident losses, identify areas requiring corrective action, and provide data upon which to base management decisions involving safety.
3. Maintain a thorough knowledge of trends and developments in the safety field.
4. Maintain liaison with safety officials of other government agencies, the Federal Safety Council, the Federal Fire Council, the National Safety Council, state governments, the American Standards Institute, Underwriter's Laboratories, National Fire Protection Association, and other agencies involved with safety.
5. Maintain liaison with Office of Operations personnel responsible for the Coast Guard Flight Safety Program and serve as one of the senior members of the Commandant's Aviation Safety Board.
6. Review and evaluate safety equipment and appliances and make recommendations for their use within the Coast Guard.
7. Administer the Coast Guard Motor Vehicle Program with the exception of procurement of vehicles, which is the responsibility of the Office of Engineering, and the operation of special purpose vehicles such as DUKWs and IARCs, which is the responsibility of the Office of Operations.
8. Conduct a continuing campaign aimed at keeping Coast Guard personnel in the field aware of mandatory and recommended safety practices and the existence and objective of the Coast Guard Safety Program, and conduct on-site surveys of field units to determine the effectiveness of the Coast Guard Safety Program.
9. Make recommendations to and serve as advisor and consultant to Coast Guard managers and supervisors on all matters involving the safety of Coast Guard resources, including design, fire protection, construction, procurement, maintenance, operation of equipment and facilities, and the training of personnel.
10. Function as the Safety Officer for Coast Guard Headquarters.

PART II

★ CHIEF OF STAFF (CCS)

Under the general direction and supervision of the Commandant and the Assistant Commandant, the Chief of Staff shall:

1. Advise and assist the Commandant and the Assistant Commandant in the general administration of the Service.
2. Keep the Commandant and the Assistant Commandant informed of the problems encountered and the progress made in effectuating the policies and executing the programs of the Service, and act as principal management advisor to those officers.
3. Have general responsibility for the initiation, development, and review of basic policies and programs for the Service and for the control and coordination of plans and activities evolving therefrom to ensure adherence to the policies approved by the Commandant.
4. Generally direct the activities of the Chiefs of Offices at Headquarters (except the Office of Civil Rights, the Office of Public and International Affairs, and the Inspector General), particularly with a view to promoting and securing effective coordination among the Headquarters Staff; between Headquarters and the District Commanders; and between Headquarters and Headquarters Units.
5. Maintain a proper distribution of functional assignments among the several components of organization, and cause close adherence to the approved pattern; assure the efficient and economical discharge of responsibilities as assigned by the organizational structure.
6. Assure that the Chiefs of Offices are kept fully informed as to the broad policies and programs approved by the Commandant.
7. Exercise general direction over the activities of the Programs, Plans Evaluation, Budget, Management Analysis, Data Systems, and Administrative Services Divisions.
8. Prepare, present, and execute the budgetary program.
9. Act as Commanding Officer of Headquarters.
10. Be Program Director for the general administration of the Service.

★ LIAISON OFFICER - CHIEF OF NAVAL OPERATIONS

Under the direction of the Chief of Staff, the CNO Liaison Officer shall:

1. Perform liaison between the U. S. Coast Guard and the Office of the Chief of Naval Operations in all matters of mutual interest except those pertaining to aviation, particularly:
 - a. Coordinates development of related plans, policies and programs.
 - b. Coordinates the exchange of equipment, parts, supplies and services.
 - c. Acts as representative of the Commandant, U. S. Coast Guard.
 - d. Monitors and reports on developments and activities.
 - e. Keeps informed of mobilization and search and rescue plans and orders.
2. Perform similar liaison between the U. S. Coast Guard and other components of the Department of Defense as required.
3. Formulate Fleet Operating policies for Search and Rescue and monitors implementation thereof.
4. Develop and reviews Search and Rescue tactics and doctrine within OPNAV.
5. Participate in Naval Control of Shipping planning with respect to control of fishing vessels in time of war.
6. Coordinate and review U. S. Navy policies and positions on the Rules of the Road in order to assist ACNO (Fleet Operations) in his duties as Chairman of the U. S. Navy Committee on the International Rules of the Road.

★ ASSISTANT CHIEF OF STAFF FOR OCEAN SCIENCES

Under the general direction of the Chief of Staff, the Assistant Chief of Staff for Ocean Sciences shall:

1. Assess Federal activities in the Marine Sciences and, consistent with the policies of the Commandant, consider Coast Guard marine science policy formulation with regard to Coast Guard capabilities for implementing the Government's role in this area, and coordinate internal and external positions in marine science.
2. Aid the Chief, Office of Research & Development in interagency liaison work, staff reports, and policy papers concerning present and future role of Coast Guard/DOT in the Federal Marine Science effort. This includes maintaining effective and continuing liaison with the Marine Science Council, and the Marine Science Commission, providing Coast Guard representation to various Marine Science affairs committees and working groups, and development and issuance of input to the Council and the Marine Science Commission as required.
3. Provide membership on panels and task forces of the Marine Sciences Council Committees.
4. Attend interagency meetings of the Marine Science Council and Commission working groups in observer status.
5. Keep abreast of Federal marine science activities in order to recommend better integration of Coast Guard capabilities into the total Federal effort.
6. Maintain personal contacts with officials of other agencies which participate in the Federal marine science effort, keeping attuned to changes within these agencies which affect Coast Guard/DOT policy planning.

★ MANAGEMENT ANALYSIS DIVISION (CMA)

Under the general direction and supervision of the Chief of Staff, the Chief, Management Analysis Division shall:

1. Direct, supervise and coordinate the activities of the Position Analysis and Classification Branch (CMA-1), Management and Organization Branch (CMA-2), Manpower Utilization Branch (CMA-3) and Management Services Branch (CMA-4); assure efficient performance of duties and responsibilities by these elements; and have ultimate responsibility for the activities of subordinates.
2. Conduct special staff studies and comprehensive management surveys embracing all operations in the various organizational segments of the Coast Guard.
3. Conduct studies, initiate recommendations, and review proposals involving changes in Coast Guard organization.
4. Develop and maintain the Coast Guard Organization Manual (CG-229), the Headquarters Organization Manual (CG-229-1), CG Regulations (CG-300), Correspondence Manual (CG-199), Directives, Publications and Reports Index (CG-236), etc.
5. Provide advisory service and assistance to Headquarters and the field on organization, systems, methods, procedures, delegations of authority, etc.
6. Review new or existing law to determine the need and justification for delegations of authority and perform the necessary staff work to complete action.
7. Direct the Coast Guard's Manpower Utilization Program, including the establishment of staffing criteria and the conduct of manpower audits; carry out special studies on manpower requirements and skills.
8. Administer the Coast Guard's Position Classification Program, providing for accurate grade assignment to classified and wage board positions; monitor field classification actions; and carry out special classification audits to determine effectiveness of the classification function.
9. Coordinate the Service-Wide Cost Reduction/Management Improvement Program, developing related policies, procedures, guidelines, and directives.

10. Administer the military and civilian Incentive Awards Programs.
11. Maintain background material on Commandant's policy and support agreements between the Coast Guard and other Federal agencies; advise management officials on these matters as requested.
12. Coordinate the preparation of such administrative reports as may be required for transmittal by the Commandant to the Secretary of the Department of Transportation or to other government officials.
13. Review Orders, Notices, and other issuances and regulatory material.
14. Edit and publish the Commandant's Bulletin.
15. Investigate, coordinate, and prepare responses for the Commandant to GAO reports involving operations and facilities of the Coast Guard.
16. Administer mail and postal matters for the Coast Guard and prescribe procedures for the establishment and operation of Coast Guard post offices.
17. Direct the Paperwork Management Program of the Coast Guard, involving: the analysis and final development of forms and reports; the evaluation and improvement of correspondence practices and their systems; advising managers concerning paperwork practices and their application; and administering the Indispensable Operating Records Program.
18. Review all Headquarters-originated directives, periodicals, proposals for new or revised publications, and related material to insure proper clearance, format, clarity, compliance with Commandant's policies, etc.

★ POSITION ANALYSIS AND CLASSIFICATION BRANCH (CMA-1)

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Management Analysis Division, the Chief, Position Analysis & Classification Branch shall:

1. Plan, develop, and administer the following three comprehensive plans for the classification of civilian positions throughout the Coast Guard: (1) the Coordinated Federal Wage System for Trades, Crafts and Labor positions; (2) the Title V system for professional, technical, administrative and clerical positions; and (3) the Administrative plan for Lamplighters, Light Attendants, and Lighthouse Keepers.
2. Formulate the policies, procedures, and techniques to be utilized in the three classification plans, and prepare, or direct the development and preparation of, those guidelines, interpretive memoranda, definitions, instructions, training material, and reporting systems as may be necessary to provide an effective, and progressive classification and position analysis program for the Coast Guard.
3. Evaluate the overall effectiveness of the classification program by on-site reviews of the operations of field establishments, conducting post-audits and providing assistance.
4. Assist all organizational elements in such areas as: establishment of staffing patterns and career ladders; job engineering; classification advice pertaining to reorganizations; establishment of new positions; and preliminary evaluation of positions.
5. Take appropriate action on positive classification appeals.

★ MANAGEMENT AND ORGANIZATION BRANCH (CMA-2)

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Management Analysis Division, the Chief, Management and Organization Branch shall:

1. Conduct and/or coordinate comprehensive management surveys throughout the Service involving organizational structure, procedures, methods, work flow, equipment and space utilization, delegations of authority, etc., and submit recommendations based on such studies.
2. Advise staff officers and supervisors and furnish guidelines concerning methods and techniques applicable to the areas indicated in the preceding paragraph to assist and guide them in the conduct of locally-sponsored management reviews.
3. Carry out organizational studies having to do with the full range of Coast Guard operations at Headquarters and in the field; initiate organizational changes resulting from these reviews; and develop and maintain the Service-wide and Headquarters Organization Manuals.
4. Provide advisory services and carry out research on internal delegation of authority matters as well as those involving transfers of authority from the Secretary to the Commandant. Review new or existing law to determine the need and justification for delegations of authority and perform staff work to obtain such delegations when warranted.
5. Serve as the focal point for coordination and exchange of information relating to the field of management and conduct research and inquiries into new and unusual developments or problems as required.
6. Carry out research for special management projects and prepare related reports required internally or by the Department.

MANPOWER UTILIZATION BRANCH

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Management Analysis Division, the Chief, Manpower Utilization Branch shall:

1. Develop and implement policies, procedures and guidelines for the manpower utilization program of the Coast Guard.
2. Conduct and coordinate manpower validation surveys to insure that military and civilian personnel are effectively employed in the performance of tasks which have been determined to be essential to mission accomplishment. Such studies include: (1) the application of work standards and other relevant factors to assure that a bona fide need exists for position/billets; (2) review and analysis to assure that the grouping and assignment of duties and responsibilities to positions/billets are such as to assure economical and efficient employment of the work force; and (3) analysis of positions/billets to ascertain that military personnel are not used in jobs that are primarily civilian in character and vice versa.
3. Allocate and reallocate civilian personnel employment ceilings for the Coast Guard.
4. Develop staffing criteria and conduct special studies on manpower requirements and skills to: (1) establish proper classification (billet levels) for officer and enlisted billets; (2) develop, maintain and disseminate staffing standards and planning data for use in manpower studies, budget justifications, etc.; and (3) integrate the requirements imposed by higher authority into the Coast Guard manpower utilization program.

★ MANAGEMENT SERVICES BRANCH (CMA-4)

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Management Analysis Division, the Chief, Management Services Branch shall:

1. Administer the Cost Reduction Program, developing procedures, guidelines, reporting requirements and establishing savings goals consistent with DOT objectives.
2. Administer the Military and Civilian Incentive Awards Program, developing policies and procedures, and preparing necessary instructions, guidelines and directives.
3. Conduct research for and prepare periodic and special reports as required for submission to the Department of Transportation, the White House, Congressional bodies, and other Federal agencies. Included in this category are the Weekly Highlights Report for the Secretary and the bi-weekly Departmental Staff Agenda items.
4. Administer mail and postal matters for the U. S. Coast Guard and prescribe procedures for the establishment and operation of Coast Guard post offices.

 - a. Analyze general system designs for new and revised applications and develop detailed system designs and program specifications (includes development of system flow charts, input and output forms and formats, data file and record layouts, input data edit criteria and error correction routines, decision logic tables, computation techniques, accuracy controls, etc.); prepare system design and program specification documentation.
 - b. Develop computer programs (includes block diagrams and/or detailed decision logic tables, code structures and code lists, key punch procedures, OCR conversion programs, writing and coding of computer instructions, preparation of test data, analysis of test run results and making necessary corrections, preparation of operating instructions for the central computer and/or remote terminals, etc.); prepare program documentation.
 - c. Develop clerical procedures governing input data preparation and control, output control, error resolution and inter-division work flow.
 - d. Prepare or participate in preparation of directives governing the preparation and submission of source documents.
 - e. Develop modifications of detailed system designs, programs and clerical procedures, as required, to overcome operational problems or to provide for changes in or additions to data requirements; update related documentation.
 - f. Maintain files of system and program documentation.

★ MISSION-SUPPORT SECTION

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Development Branch, the Mission Support Section shall:

1. Perform the following functions for systems involving operational, engineering, logistics or merchant marine data and for all other applications not specifically assigned to the Personnel and Finance Section:

a. Analyze general system designs for new and revised applications and develop detailed system designs and program specifications (includes development of system flow charts, input and output forms and formats, data file and record layouts, input data edit criteria and error correction routines, decision logic tables, computation techniques, accuracy controls, etc.); prepares system design and program specification documentation.

b. Develop computer programs (includes block diagrams and/or detailed decision logic tables, code structures and code lists, key punch procedures, OCR conversion programs, writing and coding of computer instructions, preparation of test data, analysis of test run results and making necessary corrections, preparation of operating instructions for the central computer and/or remote terminals, etc.); prepare program documentation.

c. Develop clerical procedures governing input data preparation and control, output control, error resolution and inter-division work flow.

d. Prepare or participate in preparation of directives governing the preparation and submission of source documents.

e. Develop modifications of detailed system designs, programs and clerical procedures as required to overcome operational problems or to provide for changes in or additions to data requirements; update related documentation.

f. Maintain files of system and program documentation.

★ SYSTEMS SOFTWARE SECTION

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Development Branch, the Chief, Systems Software Section shall:

1. Modify and maintain system software furnished by ADP equipment vendors to assure that vendor-supplied operating systems, compilers, utility programs, etc., will interact with Coast Guard application programs in a manner which will provide optimum efficiency and effectiveness.
2. Develop and maintain programs for communications between central computer and remote terminals; assign terminal identification codes, user identification codes, etc., and develop techniques to assure that access to data is limited to authorized users.
3. Develop and maintain Coast Guard utility programs for processing requirements which are common to two or more application areas but are not adequately fulfilled by vendor-supplied software.
4. Develop and maintain, within the central computer system, a machine-readable library of systems software, application programs, program modules, macro routines, etc.
5. Publish, for guidance of applications programmers at Headquarters and at field units, technical information such as instructions governing the use of system software and program libraries, information pertaining to the allocation or reservation of areas of core storage or immediate access storage, clarification or amplification of vendor-supplied technical manuals, etc.; furnish technical assistance to application programmers on software problems.
6. Maintain liaison with technical staff of ADP equipment vendors and with counterparts in other ADP installations to facilitate exchange of technical information.
7. Coordinate with field units and remote terminal operators to identify and resolve program, communications or terminal operation problems.

★ OPERATIONS BRANCH

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Data Systems Division, the Chief, Operations Branch shall:

1. Operate the central computer equipment and provide supporting production services.

★ DATA PREPARATION SECTION

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Operations Branch, the Chief, Data Preparation Section shall:

1. Control receipt of input data source documents.
2. Coordinate scheduling of input data preparation with the production schedule of the Computer Operations Section.
3. Screen and batch source documents to be processed through OCR equipment; analyze and correct, or initiate correction action on source documents rejected by OCR process.
4. Edit and code source documents containing input data to be key punched.
5. Operate key punch equipment; maintain equipment utilization records.
6. Analyze data which fails to meet edit criteria of input edit runs or periodic audit runs; initiate corrective action; correspond with sources of data to correct records and/or to identify and eliminate causes of errors; maintain controls to assure timely resolution of errors.
7. Assemble and distribute data processing output.
8. Coordinate and control release and return of work to be performed by commercial contractors or by other agencies such as contract key punching, magnetic tape to microfilm conversion, Linotron printing, etc.
9. Maintain files of selected output reports required to facilitate exception processing, for use in audits or for historical files.

★ COMPUTER OPERATIONS SECTION

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Operations Branch, the Chief, Computer Operations Section shall:

1. Schedule and control all centralized ADP processing to assure timely completion of required output and achieve optimum equipment utilization.
2. Operate the central computer installation.
3. Maintain equipment utilization records and records of equipment malfunctions; certify vendor invoices covering equipment rentals and maintenance charges.
4. Maintain liaison with equipment maintenance personnel and building maintenance personnel to assure that ADP equipment, air conditioning, power supply, etc., are maintained at a proper level.

★ Library Section

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Operations Branch, the Chief, Library Section shall:

1. Maintain magnetic tape, disk pack and punched card files of application data, application programs and system software programs; maintain library control records of all files.
2. Coordinate and control the distribution to depositories of magnetic tapes containing back-up data files and programs.
3. Maintain documentation files containing reference manuals and operating instructions used in other sections of the Operations Branch.
4. Assist the Computer Operations Section by assembly, in advance of the operating schedule, of data files, programs, operating instructions and supplies required for specific jobs.
5. Maintain inventory records of paper, punched cards and other ADP supplies used in the branch; control receipt and issuance of supplies; initiate procurement action when reorder points are reached.

PART V

★ OFFICE OF MERCHANT MARINE SAFETY (M)

Under the general direction and supervision of the Commandant, the Assistant Commandant, and the Chief of Staff, the Chief, Office of Merchant Marine Safety shall:

1. Direct, supervise, and coordinate the activities of the Chiefs of 5 Divisions, namely, Merchant Marine Technical, Merchant Vessel Inspection, Merchant Vessel Personnel, Merchant Vessel Documentation, and Hazardous Materials, in connection with their assigned functions; assure the efficient performance of duty by those officers; and have ultimate responsibility for the enforcement of the navigation and vessel inspection laws, and laws governing safety on structures subject to the provisions of the Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act.

2. Undertake and assist in the planning, development, and conduct of technical, personnel, and management studies in support of the Merchant Marine Safety mission.
3. Coordinate the preparation of program data and other documents required under the Planning, Programming and Budgeting System.
4. Supervise the activities of the Underwater Safety Project.

★ RECORDS MANAGEMENT STAFF (M-3)

Under the general direction and supervision of the Chief, Office of Merchant Marine Safety, the Chief, Records Management Staff shall:

1. Develop and implement records systems based on existing and projected needs of the Merchant Marine Safety Program.
2. Monitor the Merchant Marine Safety Records Management Program for the Service and provide advisory service when requested.
3. Maintain the Merchant Marine Safety Standard Subject Classification Numbers Supplement in the areas of maritime safety and law enforcement, ship design and ships material, and general material to be used by Headquarters staff elements of the Office of Merchant Marine Safety, all Coast Guard District (m) Offices and Coast Guard Marine Inspection Offices.

★ MERCHANT MARINE TECHNICAL DIVISION (MMT)

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Office of Merchant Marine Safety, the Chief, Merchant Marine Technical Division shall:

1. Review technical plans and specifications for construction or alteration of merchant vessels and distribute approved plans to the field.
2. Conduct stability tests on merchant vessels and prepare stability letters.
3. Examine safety equipment and devices submitted to Headquarters and refer appropriate items to the Office of Research and Development for test; make recommendations in cases where the approval of the Commandant is required, and determine whether certain other equipment and devices, not requiring formal approval, are suitable for marine use.
4. Initiate or review for referral to the Merchant Marine Council such merchant marine regulations as relate to matters of naval architecture, marine engineering, electrical engineering, and fire extinguishing and safety equipment.
5. Consider and initiate action upon technical questions referred to Headquarters in connection with inspections of new construction, repairs, mill and factory production, and vessels in service.
6. Review load line certificates and computations and violations of load line regulations; maintain load line records; and reply to inquiries on load line matters.
7. Conduct or assist in the conduct of special studies relating to the safety of merchant vessels and the adequacy of their equipment as directed.
8. Review reports of marine casualties referred by the Merchant Vessel Inspection Division; recommend action to be taken in specific cases; and analyze the experience reflected in the reports taken collectively.
9. Review and comment upon applications for waivers of the navigation and vessel inspection laws referred by the Merchant Vessel Inspection Division, analyze those which have been granted in the field, and recommend general waivers of technical requirements.
10. Provide technical assistance in the development of national position papers on technical matters affecting maritime safety and represent the United States in discussion of such matters at the international level through the Intergovernmental Maritime Consultative Organization (IMCO).

11. Participate within professional societies to develop safety codes and standards in the area of Merchant Marine Safety responsibilities.
12. Provide general technical direction and coordination of the technical personnel of the Division and Field Offices.
13. Supervise the admeasurement of U. S. Vessels.
14. Provide technical support to the Office of Boating Safety for the development and administration of recreational boating safety standards.

★ TECHNICAL STAFF (MMT)

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Merchant Marine Technical Division, the Technical Advisor shall:

1. Join with the Division Chief in advising the Chief of the Office of Merchant Marine Safety in matters importantly affecting administration of merchant marine safety requirements.
2. Advise with respect to any aspect of vessel design, construction and materials. Participate and keep abreast of engineering and scientific developments so as to anticipate and assess vessel safety problems which may be affected or created thereby.
3. Initiate and review new or amended regulations.
4. Review and make recommendation concerning proposed legislation which may affect merchant marine safety.
5. Serve as Coast Guard representative in consultations which may involve both technical and policy decisions with other U. S. Government agencies, industrial and scientific establishments and foreign authorities.
6. Develop and promulgate internal procedures, methods and policies governing operation of the Division and of the Office of Merchant Marine Safety.
7. Analyze marine casualties for cause and prevention of future incidents.
8. Perform necessary research in the development of new criteria for vessel strength and operation.

★ ADMINISTRATIVE STAFF (MMT)

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Merchant Marine Technical Division, the Administrative Officer shall:

1. Conduct studies to determine and maintain the proper organizational alignment of components within the Division and those of the Merchant Marine Technical Field Offices, necessary to accomplish their mission.
2. Examine existing staffing and office procedures and coordinate administrative functions within the Division to improve efficiency and avoid duplication of efforts; act as coordinator between the Division and other activities of the Office of Merchant Marine Safety for personnel training and certain civilian personnel matters.
3. Manage and supervise the Division control point for mail and distribution; the Division repository for classified material, and a reception office for visitors.
4. Collect data and submit reports, as required, for the Coast Guard, Department of Transportation, and Executive Branch of the Government; prepare agenda for Division-level conferences.
5. Edit the Navigation and Vessel Inspection Circular (NVIC); prepare Headquarters Instructions and Notices; maintain official record copy of directives.
6. Coordinate the preparation of the annual multi-year Planning-Programming-Budgeting procedures for the Division.
7. Maintain a current safety equipment and material approvals system, and a published listing (Equipment Lists (CG-190)) of such approvals by coordinating with Equipment, Electrical Engineering, Marine Engineering and Hull Scientific Branches.

★ ADMEASUREMENT BRANCH

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Merchant Marine Technical Division, the Chief, Admeasurement Branch shall:

1. Administer and interpret U. S. tonnage measurement laws, admeasure U. S. vessels, and issue U. S. tonnage certificates.
2. Admeasure U. S. vessels under Suez Canal rules of United Arab Republic, and issue tonnage certificates.
3. Admeasure U. S. vessels under Panama Canal Rules, and issue tonnage certificates.
4. Interpret and compare tonnage measurement rules of other countries with those of U. S. as basis for official acceptance by U. S.
5. Conduct technical studies and tests to modernize tonnage measurement technique.

★ ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING BRANCH

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Merchant Marine Technical Division, the Chief, Electrical Engineering Branch shall:

1. Review plans and specifications for vessel electrical equipment and installations including power, lighting and interior communications, with emphasis placed on reliability, prevention of fires, prevention of electrical shock, and effectiveness of communications systems and other electrical features.
2. Maintain a uniform policy relative to the approval of vessel electrical equipment and installation matters in Merchant Marine Technical Field Offices.
3. Develop standards and specifications relating to merchant vessels in accordance with industry trends.
4. Initiate and/or review electrical proposed regulations, standards and specifications concerning vessel electrical equipment and installations.
5. Formulate regulations and instructions for the guidance of naval architects, marine engineers, shipbuilders and marine equipment suppliers, detailing the minimum safety standards for vessels and equipment.
6. Participate in technical societies and committees and accept, where possible, industry standards; maintain close liaison with other agencies and agencies such as the American Bureau of Shipping and the National Cargo Bureau.
7. Study industry trends and review casualty data to permit a continuing re-evaluation of the marine safety standards.
8. Perform the necessary research to keep abreast of technical developments to permit acceptance of new methods of fabrication and items of equipment which provide an equivalent degree of safety.
9. Maintain a continuing training program of personnel assigned.

★ HULL ARRANGEMENTS BRANCH

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Merchant Marine Technical Division, the Chief, Hull Arrangements Branch shall:

1. Establish standards, initiate regulations, and/or review proposed regulations, plans, and specifications for vessel structure, arrangement, outfitting, and equipment.
2. Maintain a uniform policy relative to the approval of vessel structure, arrangement, outfitting, and equipment in Merchant Marine Technical Field Offices.
3. Develop standards and specifications relating to merchant vessels in accordance with industry trends and accept, where possible, industry standards.
4. Formulate regulations and instructions for the guidance of naval architects, marine engineers, shipbuilders, and equipment suppliers detailing the minimum safety standards for said vessels and equipment.
5. Participate in technical societies and committees; maintain liaison with other government agencies and agencies such as the American Bureau of Shipping and the National Cargo Bureau; study industry trends and review casualty data to permit continuing reevaluation of marine safety standards.
6. Perform the necessary research to keep abreast of technical developments to permit acceptance of new methods of fabrication and items of equipment which provide an equivalent degree of safety.
7. Maintain a continuing training program of personnel assigned.

★ HULL SCIENTIFIC BRANCH

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Merchant Marine Technical Division, the Chief, Hull Scientific Branch shall:

1. Review plans, specifications and technical data for vessel subdivision and stability.
2. Supervise the conduct of stability tests and prepare stability letters.
3. Maintain a uniform policy in the Merchant Marine Technical Field Offices relative to vessel subdivision and stability.
4. Review load line data; maintain load line records; establish and interpret policy on load line matters.
5. Review structural failures and advise on corrective measures to prevent such failures; maintain structural casualty records.
6. Initiate and/or review proposed regulations, standards and specifications concerning subdivision, stability and load lines.
7. Conduct or assist in the conduct of special studies towards the development of national position papers on technical matters effecting maritime safety which relate to subdivision, stability and load line.
8. Formulate regulations and instructions for the guidance of naval architects, marine engineers, shipbuilders and equipment suppliers detailing the minimum safety standards for vessels and equipment.
9. Participate in technical societies and committees and accept, where possible, industry standards; maintain close liaison with other government agencies and agencies such as the American Bureau of Shipping and the National Cargo Bureau; study industry trends and review casualty data to permit continuing re-evaluation of the Marine safety standards.
10. Perform the necessary research to keep abreast of technical developments to permit acceptance of new methods of fabrication and items of equipment which provide an equivalent degree of safety.
11. Maintain a continuing training program of personnel assigned.

★ MARINE ENGINEERING BRANCH (MMT)

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Merchant Marine Technical Division, the Chief, Marine Engineering Branch shall:

1. Review plans and specifications for vessel machinery, piping and mechanical equipment including boilers, pressure vessels, marine nuclear power plants, piping system components and other related correspondence.
2. Maintain a uniform policy relative to the approval of vessel machinery, piping, and mechanical equipment in merchant marine technical field offices.
3. Maintain applicable regulations covering marine engineering systems and components on merchant vessels, studying and considering casualty data, new technological developments, and industry trends in the initiation of necessary changes, or in the drafting of proposed regulations.
4. Formulate regulations and instructions for the guidance of naval architects, marine engineers, shipbuilders, and marine equipment suppliers, detailing the minimum safety standards for said vessels and equipment.
5. Participate in technical societies and committees and accept, where possible, industry standards; maintain close liaison with government agencies and agencies such as the American Bureau of Shipping and the National Cargo Bureau.
6. Perform the necessary research to keep abreast of technical developments to permit acceptance of new methods of fabrication and items of equipment which provide an equivalent degree of safety.
7. Maintain a continuing training program of personnel assigned.

★ SAFETY EQUIPMENT BRANCH

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Merchant Marine Technical Division, the Chief, Safety Equipment Branch shall:

1. Review plans and specifications for lifesaving and fire protection equipment and materials, including, but not limited to lifeboats, life rafts, ring buoys, davits, breathing apparatus, pyrotechnic distress signals, fire extinguishing systems, and incombustible materials.
2. Prescribe, conduct, and review necessary tests of such equipment and materials.
3. Maintain a uniform policy relative to the approval of vessel lifesaving and fire protection equipment and material in Merchant Marine Technical Field Offices.
4. Initiate and/or review proposed regulations, standards, and specifications for lifesaving and fire protection equipment.
5. Formulate regulations and instructions for the guidance of naval architects, marine engineers, shipbuilders, and equipment suppliers, detailing the minimum safety standards for vessels and equipment.
6. Maintain close liaison with other Government agencies and agencies such as the American Bureau of Shipping and the National Cargo Bureau; participate in technical societies and committees; study industry trends and review casualty data to permit continuing reevaluation of marine safety standards, and accept, where possible, industry standards.
7. Perform the necessary research to keep abreast of technical developments to permit acceptance of new methods of fabrication and items of equipment which provide an equivalent degree of safety.
8. Maintain a continuing training program of personnel assigned.

★ MERCHANT VESSEL INSPECTION DIVISION (MVI)

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Office of Merchant Marine Safety, the Chief, Merchant Vessel Inspection Division shall:

1. Develop and administer the program and supervise the interpretation of laws, regulations, and instructions for the improvement and enforcement of merchant marine materiel and operational standards, including:

a. The inspection of merchant vessels and other commercial vessels, their hulls, boilers, lifesaving, fire fighting and other equipment.

b. The prescription of manning necessary for safe navigation of merchant vessels and other commercial vessels.

c. The review of certificates of inspection to assure uniformity and adequacy of manning and compliance with applicable inspection laws and regulations.

d. The preparation of safety certificates and exemption certificates in accordance with the currently effective International Convention for Safety of Life at Sea.

e. The development and enforcement of rules of the road for the prevention of collisions.

f. The development and enforcement of legal requirements with respect to materiel aspects of outfitting and operation of uninspected commercial vessels.

g. The development of improved safety standards or other corrective measures as a result of a continuing program of marine casualty analysis.

h. The factory inspection of equipment approved by the Coast Guard for use of merchant vessels.

i. The investigation and review of commercial vessel marine casualties for analyses of accidents and compilation of statistics.

2. Initiate or review the following for submission to the Merchant Marine Council:

a. Regulations relating to the materiel aspects of merchant marine safety.

b. Regulations concerning Rules of the Road and related matters.

c. Articles based on casualty reports for publication in "Proceedings of the Merchant Marine Council".

d. Legislative, regulatory, and instruction changes to improve safety standards based on statistical analysis of marine casualties.

3. Formulate plans and procedures designed to assure coordination, uniformity, and efficiency in the carrying out of merchant marine materiel regulations.

4. Take necessary action, including the preparation of appropriate documents for the Commandant's approval, in cases involving:

a. Major marine casualties that were investigated by a Marine Board of Investigation.

b. Other aspects of maritime law enforcement coming within his jurisdiction.

5. Keep informed of merchant marine personnel regulations and activities and on the basis of information coming to his attention, make suggestions to the Chief, Merchant Vessel Personnel Division relative to improvements therein.

6. Submit monthly and annual statistical reports of vessel and materiel inspections based on information supplied by field offices.

7. Maintain statistical data and summary information pertaining to unsafe practices and conditions observed on merchant vessels.

8. Maintain adequate liaison with other Divisions at Headquarters, with other Government agencies, with vessel owners, and with industry associations to improve and implement increased safety and operational standards.

9. Administer the inspection and survey of public vessels for the Departments of the Army, Navy and other Government agencies, as requested.

10. Take necessary action including the preparation of appropriate replies for the Commandant's approval in appeals from decisions or actions of any Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, or District Commander, in merchant marine matters, including materiel, manning and casualty investigations.

11. Prepare preliminary budget estimates and make recommendations as to fund allocations.

12. Participate in the development of new legislation, proclamations, executive orders, regulations and other directives having the force and effect of law as relating to Merchant Vessel Inspection and Manning.

13. Participate in international conferences and meetings in the interest of advancing vessel inspection and manning standards and in the advancement of anti-collision concepts.

★ VESSEL INSPECTION AND MANNING STANDARDS BRANCH

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Merchant Vessel Inspection Division, the Chief, Vessel Inspection and Manning Standards Branch shall:

1. Exercise cognizance over matters related to vessel inspection and manning laws and regulations which include:
 - a. Developing regulations to carry out the intent of inspection and manning laws.
 - b. Maintaining vessel inspection files.
 - c. Reviewing certificates of inspection for adequacy of manning and compliance with applicable laws and regulations.
 - d. Reviewing and or determining special inspection and manning standards for specific vessels with unusual requirements.
2. Perform the following administrative duties:
 - a. Initiate action and replies on the recommendations of local marine inspection officers.
 - b. Make decisions on appeals relative to inspection and manning standards.
 - c. Prepare safety certificates and exemption certificates as required based on data submitted.
 - d. Prepare replies to inquiries concerning vessel inspection and manning standards.
3. Supervise management procedures with respect to the following:
 - a. Correspondence concerning administrative and operational functions of vessel inspection and manning standards.
 - b. Maintaining contact with other field units.
 - c. Preparing instructions or changes to instructions to provide for uniform procedures in applying inspection and manning laws and regulations.

4. Provide services in the following areas:

- a. Maintaining "List of Inspected Tank Vessels".
- b. Disseminating information pertaining to unsafe practices and conditions on board merchant vessels.
- c. Disseminating information pertaining to the types of inspections conducted by field officers.
- d. Establishing and maintaining contact with the public and other Federal agencies on cognizant matters.

★ RULES OF THE ROAD BRANCH

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Merchant Vessel Inspection Division, the Chief, Rules of the Road Branch shall:

1. Administer the program for the development of Rules of the Road and related matters for the prevention of collisions by:
 - a. Reviewing existing statutory and regulatory Rules of the Road.
 - b. Making recommendations for changes to statutory and regulatory Rules of the Road.
 - c. Serving as member of the Rules of the Road Subcommittee of the Merchant Marine Council.
 - d. Serving as Secretary of the Rules of the Road Coordinating Panel.
 - e. Maintaining liaison with other branches and government agencies.
 - f. Reviewing casualty records which involve Rules of the Road.
 - g. Preparing recommendations for additional systems for the prevention of collisions including, but not limited to, bridge-to-bridge radiotelephone and separate sea lanes.
2. Provide services in the following areas:
 - a. Preparation of replies to inquiries concerning Rules of the Road.
 - b. Dissemination of information concerning new proposals to the Rules of the Road and related matters.
 - c. Assistance to other departments and units in Rules of the Road matters.
3. Assist the Casualty Review Branch and Legal Division as necessary in the review of casualty records and penalty appeal cases involving collisions between vessels.

★ CASUALTY REVIEW BRANCH

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Merchant Vessel Inspection Division, the Chief, Casualty Review Branch shall:

1. Maintain and administer a program for the investigation and review of marine casualties involving commercial vessels to include:
 - a. Developing directives and instructions for guidance of field personnel engaged in investigations.
 - b. Reviewing all casualty investigations, reports and records.
 - c. Maintaining custody of all casualty investigation reports and records.
 - d. Providing casualty records and data to other Coast Guard Divisions, other government agencies, special committees and industry associations for information to improve or more properly effectuate sound standards of safety.
2. Administer a program of casualty analysis, statistical recording and special studies for use in the development, improvement and enforcement of materiel and operational standards.
3. Prepare the Coast Guard's official position with respect to all Marine Boards of Investigation and Casualties involving death.
4. Prepare and submit information of broad interest to the marine industry concerning:
 - a. Various casualty statistics
 - b. Results of special studies and casualty analysis
 - c. Articles specifically emphasizing lessons to be learned from casualties.

★ PROJECTS AND TRAINING BRANCH

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Merchant Vessel Inspection Division, the Chief, Projects and Training Branch shall:

1. Perform studies and research necessary to maintain current knowledge of needs and requirements in the field of vessel inspection and manning coincident with new and changing developments in design and construction of vessels and equipment.
 - a. Based on experience gained develop rules, regulations, and instructions relating to the inspection and manning of new vessel types.
 - b. Maintain close association with segments of the marine industry and governmental agencies concerned with and active in the development of new concepts.
2. Administer and supervise a training program for the field inspection personnel.
 - a. Seek out and determine the training needs of the marine inspection offices.
 - b. Make arrangements for short intensive courses and seminars with educational institutes, industry and other government agencies for the updating of inspectors' knowledge in areas of need and new technology.
 - c. Keep the field advised as to educational and training opportunities that are available.
 - d. Maintain a continuing review of the Merchant Marine Safety School at Yorktown, Virginia to determine that the training curriculum is updated and to insure that the expertise of the instructors is maintained current with new and changing developments.
 - e. Cooperate with other Divisions in the Office of Merchant Marine Safety in the training of their personnel.
 - f. Maintain liaison with the Personnel Training Branch of the Office of Personnel.
 - g. Prepare an annual training requirement schedule for the Office of Merchant Marine Safety as may be required by the Office of Personnel.

3. Make field consultations and attend conferences as necessary, in conjunction with project studies and evaluate training facilities to determine the training needs of the marine inspection offices.

★ MERCHANT VESSEL PERSONNEL DIVISION (MVP)

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Office of Merchant Marine Safety, the Chief, Merchant Vessel Personnel Division shall:

1. Plan and follow up on the development and administration of the standards, procedures, and practices under which merchant marine personnel are regulated.
2. Initiate or review, for referral to the Merchant Marine Council, such merchant marine rules and regulations as relate to the licensing and certificating of merchant marine personnel, the revocation or suspension of licenses and certificates, and the shipment and discharge of seamen.
3. Develop examination questions and exercise central control over examinations to assure reasonable uniformity in their administration.
4. Receive and examine papers relative to the issuance, exchange, suspension, revocation, cancellation, or withholding of officers' seamen's, and motorboat operators' licenses or certificates.
5. Give central direction to the administration of the investigation of acts of incompetence, misconduct, etc., under 46 USC 239 and 46 USC 239a and b, and of the prosecution of those cases which may be brought before Hearing Examiners, with a view to maintaining proper discipline and competence of merchant marine personnel.
6. Receive copies of shipping articles, or forms used in lieu thereof, together with copies of certificates of discharge and records of entry issued to the crew and check for compliance with manning and citizenship requirements.
7. Maintain central records, showing the service record of every seaman, and other related records, and provide statistical and other information necessary to answer any appropriate inquiries; exchange continuous discharge books for certificates of identification and service and vice versa; furnish, upon receipt of a properly executed affidavit, duplicates of these and other seamen's papers.
8. Keep generally informed as to the availability, competence, conduct, and service records of merchant seamen and keep the Merchant Marine Council informed of developments relating thereto.

9. Review hearing records for accuracy and completeness wherein an appeal has been taken to the Commandant; rule on timeliness of appeals, issue temporary licenses and documents where appropriate, and receive briefs submitted by appellants. Summarize record and forward case to the Chief Hearing Examiner and Chief Counsel when ready for review and preparation of the final action in the matter.
10. Review and initiate action on appeals to the Commandant from decisions or actions of any Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection or District Commander, which are made regarding any matters under the cognizance of the division.
11. Reply to inquiries, as appropriate, from other agencies and the public regarding merchant marine personnel.
12. Provide a chairman for Appeal Board (consisting of labor, management and government) to hear and take appropriate action on appeals by persons denied security clearance at local hearing board level.
13. Furnish a Review Board which makes appropriate recommendation to Commandant in security cases which have not reached appeal stage.
14. Provide one of three committee members which prepares analysis of information and makes appropriate recommendation to Commandant in security cases in its early stages. (33 CFR 121.05(2)(3)).
15. Provide a chairman for Administrative Clemency Board (five members) which board reviews all pertinent material submitted by applicants whose license or document has been revoked or voluntarily surrendered to avoid hearing (46 CFR 10.13-17 and 137.03-30). (The Chairman prepares digest of the votes of the individual board members and makes appropriate recommendation to Commandant in such cases.)

★ SEAMEN DOCUMENTATION AND RECORDS BRANCH (MVP-1)

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Merchant Vessel Personnel Division, the Chief, Seamen Documentation and Records Branch shall:

1. Receive copies of shipping articles, or forms used in lieu thereof, together with copies of certificates of discharge and records of entry issued to the crew and check for compliance with manning and citizenship requirements.
2. Maintain central records, showing the service record of every seaman, and other related records, and provide statistical and other information necessary to answer any appropriate inquiries; exchange continuous discharge books for certificates of identification and service and vice versa; furnish, upon receipt of a properly executed affidavit, duplicates of these and other seamen's papers.
3. Provide instruction and guidance to officers in charge, marine inspection, covering certification, shipment and discharge of merchant vessel personnel. Provide information to the Department of State concerning merchant vessel personnel procedures abroad. Prepare responses to related inquiries from Congress, interested organizations, merchant seamen and the general public. Prepare memoranda, instructions and proposed regulation changes to implement changes in laws and procedures relating to certification, shipment and discharge of merchant vessel personnel.
4. Supervise the Duplicate Document, Jacket and Vessel Files Sections.

★ DUPLICATE DOCUMENT SECTION

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Seamen Documentation and Records Branch, the Chief, Duplicate Document Section shall:

1. Administer the laws, rules and regulations governing issuance of duplicate seamen's documents.
2. Process the applications, prepare the duplicate documents and initiate correspondence concerned therewith.

★ JACKET SECTION

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Seamen Documentation and Records Branch, the Chief, Jacket Section shall:

1. Administer the laws, rules, and regulations governing the issuance of original and supplemental issuance of seamen's documents.
2. Keep account of field operations and maintain the central records on seamen, licensed officers, and deceased seamen.
3. Safeguard these records and prepare correspondence in their regard.

★ VESSEL FILES SECTION

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Seamen Documentation and Records Branch, the Chief, Vessel Files Section shall:

1. Administer the laws, rules, and regulations governing the shipment and discharge of merchant seamen.
2. Maintain all central records of shipment and discharge and the correspondence pertaining thereto.
3. Maintain and administer "locator" file of seamen.

★ LICENSING AND EVALUATION BRANCH (MVP-2)

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Merchant Vessel Personnel Division, the Chief, Licensing and Evaluation Branch shall:

1. Regulate and supervise the licensing and documentation of merchant marine personnel.
2. Review and evaluate applications relative to the issuance, exchange, cancellation or withholding of officers', seamen's and motorboat operators' licenses or documents.
3. Maintain central files and statistical records of licenses issued by field marine inspection offices.
4. Maintain liaison with other government agencies, steamship companies, maritime academies, and seamen's unions on matters pertaining to the licensing and certificating of merchant vessel personnel.
5. Interpret the rules and regulations for the licensing and certificating of merchant marine personnel and provide such interpretations to all field marine inspection offices.
6. Consider, initiate, coordinate and submit proposals for changes to Title 46 CFR 10, 11, 12, and 187 as may be required; review and update, as necessary, the contents of publications concerning rules and regulations for the licensing and certificating of merchant marine personnel.
7. Prepare replies to congressional inquiries and inquiries from the public pertaining to the licensing and certificating of merchant marine personnel.
8. In conjunction with the Seamen Occupational Standards and Analysis Branch, review, analyze and make recommendations concerning the curriculum, facilities and staff of various schools for merchant marine personnel; as necessary, assist field marine inspection offices in the preparation and administering of license examinations to graduates of the Merchant Marine Academy and state maritime schools.
9. Maintain records of all grades of licenses issued by the field marine inspection offices, and prepare a monthly statistical report of licenses issued.
10. Serve as a member of the Administrative Clemency Board.

★ DISCIPLINARY AND SECURITY BRANCH (MVP-3)

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Merchant Vessel Personnel Division, the Chief, Disciplinary and Security Branch shall:

1. Supervise and coordinate the activities of the Security, Suitability, Disciplinary Administration, Appeals, and Administrative Clemency Sections.

a. Maintain an awareness of the developments and trends in subversive doctrines and activities. Keep abreast of the identity and character of organizations and publications designated by the Attorney General as being inimical to the security of the United States.

b. Maintain familiarity with actions of the Subversives Activities Control Board and decisions of the Courts with respect to subversive activities, with particular emphasis on those decisions affecting Coast Guard regulations and practices in this field.

c. Maintain liaison with L and OI on the Port Security Card and Merchant Mariner Document Security Program.

d. Review intelligence dossiers made available on all applicants for Specially Validated Merchant Mariner's Documents or when additional information is provided concerning a holder of a SVUSMMD. (If the dossier contains derogatory security information, the case is referred to the Evaluation Committee as per HQINST 5954. 1A. If the information is evaluated as non-derogatory, the case is cleared by the Branch Chief.)

e. Process and refer for Local Security Board Hearing, if warranted, those cases where the Commandant is not satisfied as to the security status of the holder or applicant for a SVUSMMD.

f. Initiate, review and coordinate proposals as necessary to change the pertinent regulations, directives, and the handling/disposal of records, for the sections of this Branch.

g. Provide guidance or decision in Disciplinary Administration cases under 46 CFR 137 where an interpretation of the regulations is required or where the interpretation of an existing policy question arises.

h. Review other Disciplinary Administration cases in order to keep current with developments or trends in the process.

★ SEAMEN OCCUPATIONAL STANDARDS AND ANALYSIS BRANCH (MVP-4)

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Merchant Vessel Personnel Division, the Seamen Occupational Standards and Analysis Branch shall:

1. Develop examination questions for the various grades of licenses and endorsements on documents issued to merchant marine personnel.
2. Exercise control over examination and testing procedures to assure reasonable uniformity in their administration.
3. Review and update the contents of the following publications:
 - a. Specimen Examinations for Merchant Marine Deck Officers (CG-101).
 - b. A Manual for the Safe Handling of Inflammable and Combustible Liquids (CG-174)
 - c. Manual for Lifeboatmen, Able Seamen, and Qualified Members of Engine Department (CG-175).
 - d. Specimen Examinations for Merchant Marine Engineer Licenses (CG-182).
 - e. Specimen Examination Questions for License as Master, Mate and Pilot of Central Western Rivers Vessels (CG-220).
4. Review and evaluate examination questions to determine effectiveness of testing methods and procedures. Insure reasonable uniformity in testing and examination procedures.
5. Review work requirements for merchant marine personnel, including a job analysis to be used in formulating professional standards.
6. Develop, revise and evaluate examination booklets, training aids and study guides for merchant marine personnel.
7. Collaborate with Licensing and Evaluation Branch in reviewing examinations, testing facilities and methods employed by the various maritime schools training both licensed and unlicensed merchant marine personnel.
8. Analyze and review testing standards for vocational qualifications along lines established by leading professional testing services and standards developed by the American Psychological Association.
9. Special projects. Conduct studies, obtain background information and prepare answer to special problems and questions or questions relating to the examination and testing procedures as it affects this division. Prepare position papers on IMCO subjects as necessary. Revise and update regulations and write instructions to the field on related matters pertaining to merchant marine personnel.

11. Maintain files and index information pertaining to examination and testing questions and related matters.

★ HAZARDOUS MATERIALS DIVISION (MHM)

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Office of Merchant Marine Safety, the Chief, Hazardous Materials Division shall:

1. Initiate or review, for submission to the Merchant Marine Council, regulations relating to hazardous cargo containment and handling aspects of merchant marine safety.
2. Determine the kind and degree of hazard inherent in the water shipment of dangerous substances; study the toxicity, fire and reactivity hazards of dangerous cargoes; determine the safety precautions necessary where dangerous cargoes are being handled.
3. Initiate and coordinate research and development projects relating to hazardous material safety (e.g., cargo hazard evaluation, oil and chemical pollution, mixed temperature cargoes, cargo vapor control, etc.).
4. Draft rules and regulations for the transportation, handling, loading, discharging, stowage, storage, and use of explosives or other dangerous cargoes as required by the Dangerous Cargo Act, 46 USC 170 as amended, and coordinate issuance with the Merchant Marine Council. Develop and maintain rules and regulations pertaining to the transportation by water of radioactive materials.
5. Administer and coordinate a program of foreign vessel inspection, including issuance of letters of compliance, for vessels carrying bulk hazardous cargoes which create potential unusual risks to life and property by virtue of the cargoes carried or the design for cargo containment or handling.
6. Prepare publications on bulk hazardous cargo properties and safety procedures for guidance and education of Coast Guard and marine industry personnel.
7. Consider and initiate action on technical questions concerning cargo safety which are referred to Headquarters in connection with inspections of new construction, repairs, and vessels in service.
8. Review such reports of marine casualties as are referred by the Merchant Vessel Inspection Division and Law Enforcement Division; make recommendations to those Divisions as to action to be taken in specific cases and analyze casualty records of those Divisions for cargo safety experience.

9. Promote safety in water transportation of hazardous materials at local, national, and international levels by presentation of papers at meetings, staff membership in professional societies, participation in technical work of the Intergovernmental Maritime Consultative Organization (IMCO) and United Nations; sponsorship of national and international technical symposia, etc.

10. Direct the activities of the NAS-USCG Advisory Committee on Hazardous Materials and act as liaison with the National Research Council Advisory Center on Toxicology.

11. Maintain direct liaison with the Office of Hazardous Materials, Department of Transportation, in order to develop shippers' requirements which can be used by all modes in domestic transportation. Insure maximum uniformity of all dangerous cargo regulations issued by the Coast Guard with the requirements of other Federal agencies.

12. Furnish technical information and interpretations of the Dangerous Cargo Regulations to Law Enforcement Division and COTPs when requested.

★ TECHNICAL ADVISOR

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Hazardous Materials Division, the Technical Adviser shall:

1. Serve as expert adviser to the Division Chief, Office Chief and other Divisions in the field of hazardous cargo safety and submersible environmental control; participate in and keep abreast of engineering and scientific developments so as to anticipate and assess safety problems relating to the shipment and handling of hazardous cargoes.
2. Initiate and coordinate research and development projects relating to hazardous material safety (e.g., cargo hazard evaluation, oil and chemical pollution, mixed temperature cargoes, cargo vapor control, etc.).
3. Direct the activities of the NAS-USCG Advisory Committee on Hazardous Materials and act as liaison with the National Research Council Advisory Center on Toxicology.
4. Manage and coordinate all Division special projects (e.g., development of comprehensive new regulations for bulk chemical transportation).
5. Provide technical guidance in the development of publications on hazardous cargo safety.
6. Represent the Coast Guard in meetings of industry and government groups and technical and professional organizations.

★ DEVELOPMENT BRANCH

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Data Systems Division, the Chief, Development Branch shall:

1. Develop and maintain systems software required for effective utilization of Coast Guard ADP installations.
2. Develop detailed system designs and computer program specifications for ADP applications.
3. Develop computer programs, source data reporting and conversion procedures, clerical procedures and operating instructions for ADP applications.

★ PERSONNEL AND FINANCE SECTION

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Development Branch, the Chief, Personnel and Finance Section shall:

1. Perform the following functions for systems pertaining to military pay and personnel administration for active duty, reserve and retired personnel; civilian personnel administration; personnel allowances and complements; reserve mobilization; financial accounting; and budgetary information:

a. Analyze general system designs for new and revised applications and develop detailed system designs and program specifications (includes development of system flow charts, input and output forms and formats, data file and record layouts, input data edit criteria and error correction routines, decision logic tables, computation techniques, accuracy controls, etc.); prepare system design and program specification documentation.

b. Develop computer programs (includes block diagrams and/or detailed decision logic tables, code structures and code lists, key punch procedures, OCR conversion programs, writing and coding of computer instructions, preparation of test data, analysis of test run results and making necessary corrections, preparation of operating instructions for the central computer and/or remote terminals, etc.); prepare program documentation.

c. Develop clerical procedures governing input data preparation and control, output control, error resolution and inter-division work flow.

d. Prepare or participate in preparation of directives governing the preparation and submission of source documents.

e. Develop modifications of detailed system designs, programs and clerical procedures, as required, to overcome operational problems or to provide for changes in or additions to data requirements; update related documentation.

f. Maintain files of system and program documentation.

★ MISSION-SUPPORT SECTION

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Development Branch, the Mission Support Section shall:

1. Perform the following functions for systems involving operational, engineering, logistics or merchant marine data and for all other applications not specifically assigned to the Personnel and Finance Section:
 - a. Analyze general system designs for new and revised applications and develop detailed system designs and program specifications (includes development of system flow charts, input and output forms and formats, data file and record layouts, input data edit criteria and error correction routines, decision logic tables, computation techniques, accuracy controls, etc.); prepares system design and program specification documentation.
 - b. Develop computer programs (includes block diagrams and/or detailed decision logic tables, code structures and code lists, key punch procedures, OCR conversion programs, writing and coding of computer instructions, preparation of test data, analysis of test run results and making necessary corrections, preparation of operating instructions for the central computer and/or remote terminals, etc.); prepare program documentation.
 - c. Develop clerical procedures governing input data preparation and control, output control, error resolution and inter-division work flow.
 - d. Prepare or participate in preparation of directives governing the preparation and submission of source documents.
 - e. Develop modifications of detailed system designs, programs and clerical procedures as required to overcome operational problems or to provide for changes in or additions to data requirements; update related documentation.
 - f. Maintain files of system and program documentation.

★ SYSTEMS SOFTWARE SECTION

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Development Branch, the Chief, Systems Software Section shall:

1. Modify and maintain system software furnished by ADP equipment vendors to assure that vendor-supplied operating systems, compilers, utility programs, etc., will interact with Coast Guard application programs in a manner which will provide optimum efficiency and effectiveness.
2. Develop and maintain programs for communications between central computer and remote terminals; assign terminal identification codes, user identification codes, etc., and develop techniques to assure that access to data is limited to authorized users.
3. Develop and maintain Coast Guard utility programs for processing requirements which are common to two or more application areas but are not adequately fulfilled by vendor-supplied software.
4. Develop and maintain, within the central computer system, a machine-readable library of systems software, application programs, program modules, macro routines, etc.
5. Publish, for guidance of applications programmers at Headquarters and at field units, technical information such as instructions governing the use of system software and program libraries, information pertaining to the allocation or reservation of areas of core storage or immediate access storage, clarification or amplification of vendor-supplied technical manuals, etc.; furnish technical assistance to application programmers on software problems.
6. Maintain liaison with technical staff of ADP equipment vendors and with counterparts in other ADP installations to facilitate exchange of technical information.
7. Coordinate with field units and remote terminal operators to identify and resolve program, communications or terminal operation problems.

★ OPERATIONS BRANCH

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Data Systems Division, the Chief, Operations Branch shall:

1. Operate the central computer equipment and provide supporting production services.

★ DATA PREPARATION SECTION

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Operations Branch, the Chief, Data Preparation Section shall:

1. Control receipt of input data source documents.
2. Coordinate scheduling of input data preparation with the production schedule of the Computer Operations Section.
3. Screen and batch source documents to be processed through OCR equipment; analyze and correct, or initiate correction action on source documents rejected by OCR process.
4. Edit and code source documents containing input data to be key punched.
5. Operate key punch equipment; maintain equipment utilization records.
6. Analyze data which fails to meet edit criteria of input edit runs or periodic audit runs; initiate corrective action; correspond with sources of data to correct records and/or to identify and eliminate causes of errors; maintain controls to assure timely resolution of errors.
7. Assemble and distribute data processing output.
8. Coordinate and control release and return of work to be performed by commercial contractors or by other agencies such as contract key punching, magnetic tape to microfilm conversion, Linotron printing, etc.
9. Maintain files of selected output reports required to facilitate exception processing, for use in audits or for historical files.

★ COMPUTER OPERATIONS SECTION

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Operations Branch, the Chief, Computer Operations Section shall:

1. Schedule and control all centralized ADP processing to assure timely completion of required output and achieve optimum equipment utilization.
2. Operate the central computer installation.
3. Maintain equipment utilization records and records of equipment malfunctions; certify vendor invoices covering equipment rentals and maintenance charges.
4. Maintain liaison with equipment maintenance personnel and building maintenance personnel to assure that ADP equipment, air conditioning, power supply, etc., are maintained at a proper level.

★ Library Section

Under the direction and supervision of the Chief, Operations Branch, the Chief, Library Section shall:

1. Maintain magnetic tape, disk pack and punched card files of application data, application programs and system software programs; maintain library control records of all files.
2. Coordinate and control the distribution to depositories of magnetic tapes containing back-up data files and programs.
3. Maintain documentation files containing reference manuals and operating instructions used in other sections of the Operations Branch.
4. Assist the Computer Operations Section by assembly, in advance of the operating schedule, of data files, programs, operating instructions and supplies required for specific jobs.
5. Maintain inventory records of paper, punched cards and other ADP supplies used in the branch; control receipt and issuance of supplies; initiate procurement action when reorder points are reached.
