EXSUM

The Science and Technology Wargame is sponsored by Air Force Material Command. The purpose of the Science and Technology Wargame is to expose concepts of future U.S. and partner capabilities to operational planners, warfighters, and wargamers in order to gain feedback on these future concepts to investigate possible improvements to the design. This game garners and provides insights to both the Air Force Futures and Global Engagement wargames. AFWI will host and provide adjudication for the Fall 23 Science and Technology Wargame.
