Evaluation of DoD Voting Assistance Programs for Calendar Year 2023

March 28, 2024

Objective
The objective of this evaluation was to determine the effectiveness and compliance of the voting assistance programs of the Military Services during calendar year 2023 in accordance with the requirements of section 1566, title 10, United States Code, as amended.

Additionally, we examined whether the Federal Voting Assistance Program (FVAP) Office complied with the requirements of Public Law 116–92, Executive Order 14019, DoD Directive 5101.11E, and DoD Instructions 1000.04 and 4525.09 regarding outreach and access efforts for voters covered by the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act (UOCAVA).

Background

For 2023, the Service Offices of Inspector General reported that their respective Services’ voting assistance programs were effective and complied with UOCAVA and DoD Instruction 1000.4.

Findings
We reviewed the FVAP Office for compliance with Executive Order 14019 and DoD Instruction 1000.04 regarding outreach and access efforts for voters covered by UOCAVA.

We found that the FVAP Office provided effective outreach and assistance to eligible voters covered by UOCAVA and their family members, as well as stakeholder agencies.

The FVAP Office coordinated with the Services, election officials, eligible voters, and Congress to promote awareness of the right to vote and the resources to exercise that right. Specifically, the FVAP Office met statutory and policy requirements regarding access and outreach through multiple actions, including:

• Service, election official, and stakeholder engagement;
• direct assistance to eligible voters;
• research and evaluation; and
• congressional reporting.

As a result of actions by the FVAP Office and its coordination with stakeholder agencies, eligible voters had access to the information necessary to participate in the voting process. DoD organizations and leaders also had the necessary tools to help ensure access to vote and compliance with Federal law and DoD Instruction 1000.04.

Introduction

Objective

The objective of this evaluation was to determine the effectiveness of the Services’ voting assistance programs based on 2023 annual reviews by the respective Service Offices of Inspector General (OIGs) and in accordance with section 1566, title 10, United States Code, 2020, as amended.¹ Additionally, we examined DoD Component compliance with the law and DoD policy on outreach to voters covered by the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act (UOCAVA).² Specifically, we focused on access to absentee voter registration for voters covered by UOCAVA and the DoD’s handling of those absentee ballots.³ We examined compliance with DoD Instruction (DoDI) 1000.04, “Federal Voting Assistance Program (FVAP),” and Executive Order 14019, “Promoting Access to Voting,” section 8, “Ensuring Access to Voting for Active Duty Military and Overseas Citizens.” See Appendix A for the Scope and Methodology and the Glossary for a definition of the technical terms used in this report.

Background

Public Law 99–410, “The Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act,” as modified by the Military and Overseas Voter Empowerment (MOVE) Act and other provisions, establishes various voting assistance programs intended to help overseas Service members, their families, and other eligible personnel with the absentee voting process.⁴ UOCAVA applies to U.S. citizens who are:

- active members of the Uniformed Services, Merchant Marine, Commissioned Corps of the U.S. Public Health Service, and National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA);
- these U.S. citizens’ eligible family members; and
- U.S. citizens residing outside of the United States and absent from the place of residence where they are otherwise qualified to vote.

See Appendix F for information on the locations outside of the United States with the largest numbers of adult U.S. citizens. See Figure 1 for the UOCAVA absentee voting process.

The National Defense Authorization Act for FY 2020, section 850D, “Study on Two-Way Military Ballot Barcode Tracking,” requires the FVAP Director to study the feasibility of a pilot program that provides full ballot tracking of overseas military absentee ballots through the mail in a manner that is similar to the 2016 Military Ballot Tracking Pilot (MBTP) research program conducted by the FVAP Office in coordination with the Council of State Governments, U.S. Postal Service (USPS), and Military Postal Service Agency (MPSA). Also, the FVAP Director must submit a report to Congress on the results of the study, including:

- an estimate of the costs and requirements needed to conduct the pilot program;
- a description of the organizations that would provide substantial support for the pilot program;

5 In 2016, the FVAP Office, through a cooperative agreement with the Council of State Governments Overseas Voting Initiative and with direct support from the USPS and the MPSA, conducted the first MBTP to track the life cycle of mailed ballots during the 2016 election. Full (or life cycle) ballot tracking is tracking a ballot from the time the ballot leaves the local election official’s office, to delivery to the military post office, to delivery to the voter overseas, to the voted ballot’s ultimate delivery, and back to the local election office.

Introduction

- a timeline for the phased implementation of the pilot program to all military personnel actively serving overseas;
- a method to determine, under the pilot program, if a ballot was counted and a way to provide such information to the member of the Armed Forces casting the vote; and
- a description of the efforts being undertaken to ensure a reliable and secure military ballot tracking system.

Executive Order 14019, “Promoting Access to Voting,” section 8 requires the following.

- Secretary of Defense—Establish procedures consistent with applicable law to annually offer each member of the Armed Forces on active duty the opportunity to register to vote in Federal elections, update voter registration information, or request an absentee ballot. In addition, within 200 days of the date of the order (September 22, 2021), the Secretary of Defense must evaluate the feasibility of implementing an online system to facilitate these services.
- Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the Department of State, the MPSA, and USPS—Take all practical steps to establish procedures to enable a comprehensive, end-to-end ballot tracking system for all absentee ballots cast by military and other eligible overseas voters under UOCAVA. The Secretary of Defense must also submit a report to the Assistant to the President for Domestic Policy with a strategic plan for establishing the ballot tracking system.
- Head of each agency with overseas employees—Designate an employee to be responsible for coordinating with the FVAP Office, including promoting voter registration and voting services available to the agency’s overseas employees. The Director of the Office of Management and Budget may issue guidance to assist agencies in making such designations.7

The Secretary of Defense Has Responsibilities Under UOCAVA

UOCAVA requires the President to designate responsibility for UOCAVA’s Federal functions to the head of an Executive department.8 Executive Order 12642, “Designation of the Secretary of Defense as the Presidential Designee Under Title I of the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act,” designated the Secretary of Defense as the presidential designee.9 Executive Order 12642 also 7 The FVAP Director submitted his MBTP research report to the Assistant to the President for Domestic Policy, as required by Executive Order 14019, “Promoting Access to Voting,” section 8(c). authorized the Secretary of Defense to delegate UOCAVA responsibilities within the DoD. As the presidential designee, the Secretary of Defense is tasked by UOCAVA with the following specific duties.

- Consult with and educate state and local election officials on UOCAVA requirements and work with the Election Assistance Commission and state officials to develop standards for reporting and storing absentee ballot data.
- Prescribe an official post card form, a Federal Write-in Absentee Ballot, and an envelope design for the ballot and compile and distribute materials on elections, registration, and voting procedures.
- Report biennially to Congress and the President on the effectiveness of programs to assist voters covered by UOCAVA after each presidential election.
- Prescribe a standard oath used to certify UOCAVA voting documents, affirming that a material misstatement of fact in the completion of such a document may constitute grounds for a conviction for perjury.
- Implement procedures to collect and deliver absentee ballots of UOCAVA-covered voters, ensure that absentee voters can cast ballots in a private and independent manner, and safeguard all completed absentee ballots cast at DoD locations or facilities.
- Carry out outlined FVAP improvements, including developing an online portal of voting information for absent Uniformed Service overseas voters and a program to notify these voters 90, 60, and 30 days prior to each election for Federal office.10

The Secretary of Defense Delegated Responsibility to the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness

The Secretary of Defense delegated responsibilities under UOCAVA to the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness. DoDI 1000.04, “Federal Voting Assistance Program (FVAP),” establishes the responsibilities of the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness and the Assistant Secretary of Defense (Manpower and Reserve Affairs). Policy support and operational responsibilities are assigned to the Director of the Defense Support Services Center.11 The FVAP Office Director is under the Director of the Defense Support Services Center. To carry out its UOCAVA duties, the FVAP Office coordinates with the Election Assistance Commission and the Departments of Commerce, Health and Human Services, Homeland Security, Justice, State, and Transportation. DoDI 1000.04 also assigns responsibilities to the DoD Components to develop written, voting-related policies to support all eligible Uniformed Services personnel and their family members, including those in deployed, dispersed, and tenant organizations.

The FVAP Office Carries Out DoD Responsibilities

The FVAP Office carries out the DoD’s responsibilities under UOCAVA. The FVAP Office works to ensure that military personnel, their eligible family members, and other overseas citizens are aware of the right to vote and have the tools and resources to do so anywhere in the world. The FVAP Office developed and maintains a website to conduct outreach and inform these groups about voter registration and absentee ballot procedures.\(^{12}\)

UOCAVA requires the FVAP Office to report information specified in the law to the President and Congress by September 30 of each odd-numbered year.\(^ {13}\) The report must include descriptions of Military Department voter registration assistance programs and their use, absentee ballot collection and delivery, and cooperation between states and the U.S. Government. The report also includes assessments of the registration and participation of absent Uniformed Service and overseas voters. Service after action reports are due to the FVAP Office by January 31 of the year immediately following the election. See Appendix C for further details on the FVAP Office.

The FVAP Office Conducts Outreach with Stakeholder Agencies to Help Overseas Citizens Vote

To ensure that voters covered by UOCAVA can vote worldwide, the FVAP Office is responsible for conducting outreach with the following stakeholder agencies.

U.S. Postal Service

The USPS processes international election and political mail for eligible U.S. citizens around the world, including military and diplomatic members and their families. International election and political mail is typically processed at one of the International Service Centers, located in New York, Miami, Chicago, and Los Angeles.

\(^{12}\) The presidential designee is required under 52 U.S.C. § 20305 to develop online portals of information to inform absent Uniformed Service voters of voter registration procedures and absentee ballot procedures for Federal office elections.

\(^{13}\) We reviewed the FVAP Office’s reports, “2022 Federal Voting Assistance Program,” and the July 2021, “Military Ballot Tracking Pilot Research.”
International election mail has processing procedures different from those for domestic election mail. For example, U.S. election offices are required to send out international absentee ballots at least 45 days before a Federal election. Also, certain international, inbound military election ballots qualify for express mail service based on a partnership between the DoD and USPS.

Military Postal Service Agency

The MPSA oversees the military postal service and is the single point of contact with the USPS for the DoD and the Military Services. The military postal service operates as an extension of the USPS in more than 55 countries and provides similar postal service to authorized DoD patrons for personal and official mail around the world in contingency and non-contingency operations. Differences in postal service are based on restrictions for the assigned country and type of military operation. DoD mail moves by air, ground, or surface transportation through partnerships among the United States, foreign governments, and the commercial sector with entities such as the USPS, U.S. Transportation Command, Military Sealift Command, Air Mobility Command, and U.S. and foreign flag commercial airlines.

Department of Justice

Although the Secretary of Defense is the presidential designee with primary responsibility for implementing the Federal functions mandated by UOCAVA, the Attorney General may bring a civil action as necessary to carry out UOCAVA’s provisions.\(^\text{14}\) The Attorney General assigned responsibility for enforcing UOCAVA to the Department of Justice Civil Rights Division. The Department of Justice monitors compliance with UOCAVA provisions.\(^\text{15}\)

Under the MOVE Act amendments, UOCAVA requires the Attorney General to submit an annual report to Congress by December 31 of each year on any civil action brought under the Attorney General’s enforcement authority under UOCAVA during the preceding year.\(^\text{16}\) As detailed in its prior reports to Congress, the Department of Justice engaged in extensive enforcement of the MOVE Act requirements since the requirements went into effect for the 2010 general election.

\(^\text{15}\) According to the Department of Justice, the UOCAVA of 1986, 52 U.S.C. §§ 20301–20311, as amended by the MOVE Act of 2009, Public Law No. 111–84, subtitle H, §§ 575–589, 123 Stat. 2190, 2318–35 (2009), requires states to afford uniformed and overseas voters a meaningful opportunity to register and vote absentee in elections for Federal office. Protecting the voting rights of uniformed and overseas voters remains one of the highest priorities of the Department of Justice.

The Council of State Governments

The Council of State Governments is the Nation's largest nonpartisan organization serving all three branches of state elected and appointed officials. The mission of the Council of State Governments is to champion excellence in state government.

The FVAP Office, in cooperation with the Council of State Governments, researched whether a mechanism existed to provide overseas military members with full tracking and visibility of their blank ballots. Since 2015, the FVAP Office worked with the Council of State Governments’ Overseas Voting Initiative to:

- develop a standardized format that captures transactional-level data about uniformed and overseas voters and
- provide a deeper level of analysis while reducing the burden of post-election data reporting for election officials when completing section B (the UOCAVA portion) of the Election Administration and Voting Survey.

Election Assistance Commission

The Election Assistance Commission is an independent Federal agency established by the Help America Vote Act of 2002. UOCAVA directs the presidential designee to work with the Election Assistance Commission and the chief election official of each state to develop standards for reporting data on the number of absentee ballots transmitted and received under 52 U.S.C. § 20302(c) of UOCAVA.

Under 52 U.S.C. § 20302(c), each state and unit of local government that administers a regularly scheduled general election for Federal office must submit a report to the Election Assistance Commission reflecting the data on uniformed and overseas voting.

The Department of State

The Department of State Foreign Affairs Manual 7 FAM 1500, “Overseas Voting Program,” specifies that the Department of State is required to work with the FVAP Office to assist U.S. voters overseas. The Department of State assists the Secretary of Defense in carrying out UOCAVA functions by providing voting

17 U.S. Election Assistance Commission, “About the EAC,” 2022, Congress passed the Help America Vote Act of 2002 to reform the Nation’s voting process and improve voting systems and voter access following the 2000 election. The Help America Vote Act created mandatory minimum standards for states to follow in several key areas of election administration. The law provides funding to help states meet these new standards, replace voting systems, and improve election administration. The law also established the Election Assistance Commission, which is responsible for maintaining the national voter registration form, conducting research, and administering a national clearinghouse on elections that includes shared practices, information for voters, and other resources to improve elections.

assistance to overseas U.S. citizens who do not fall under Secretary of Defense jurisdiction. Department of State voting assistance officers help U.S. citizens transmit absentee voting forms and ballots.

Department of Commerce, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration Commissioned Officer Corps

According to Department of Commerce officials, in the past, DoD personnel reached out to the Department of Commerce to discuss voters covered by UOCAVA. Overseas personnel in the NOAA Commissioned Officer Corps, a bureau of the Department of Commerce, and their eligible family members are covered by UOCAVA. However, the NOAA Commissioned Officer Corps does not have a policy or other requirement that defines the level of coordination with and support from the FVAP Office. The NOAA Commissioned Officer Corps Commissioned Personnel Center has information about absentee voting, including the FVAP website, which is posted on the Commissioned Officer Corps website.

Department of Health and Human Services Commissioned Corps of the U.S. Public Health Service

Personnel from the Commissioned Corps of the U.S. Public Health Service, a subordinate organization to the Department of Health and Human Services, and their eligible family members are also covered by UOCAVA. However, the Commissioned Corps does not have a policy or other requirement that defines the level of coordination with and support from the FVAP Office. The Commissioned Corps has no formal mechanism or process in place to account for or provide voting assistance to voters covered by UOCAVA. According to Commissioned Corps officials, some officers may be aware of or receive information concerning absentee voting, the FVAP voting guide, or agency websites, such as the Food and Drug Administration, the National Institutes of Health, or the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention; however, the Commissioned Corps headquarters does not make absentee voting information available.

The Department of Homeland Security, U.S. Coast Guard

During peacetime, the U.S. Coast Guard falls under the purview of the Department of Homeland Security. However, in accordance with UOCAVA, the Coast Guard carries out the FVAP in the same manner as the Military Services, through DoDI 1000.04 and its own policy, Commandant Instruction 1742.3L, “Coast Guard Voting Assistance Program.”¹⁹ The commandant instruction applies to all active duty Coast Guard members and their families. The policy encourages personnel to actively participate in the Federal, state, and local electoral processes of their home states.

Military Service Offices of Inspector General Reports

Section 1566, title 10, United States Code, as amended, defines voting assistance programs as those the FVAP carries out under UOCAVA and any similar program. This section of the statute also requires the Offices of Inspector General (OIGs) of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, and Space Force to annually:

- review the compliance and effectiveness of their Service’s voting assistance program, and
- report the results to the DoD OIG in time to be reflected in the DoD OIG’s March 31 report to Congress.

DoDI 1000.04, “Federal Voting Assistance Program (FVAP),” and 10 U.S.C § 1566, as amended, require the OIGs of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, and Space Force to submit their reports assessing voting assistance program efforts, along with supporting statistical information, to the DoD OIG and the FVAP Office by December 1 of each year.

DoDI 1000.04 also requires the written designation of personnel at all levels (unit, installation, and Service) to manage the respective Service’s voting assistance programs. As shown in Figure 2, DoDI 1000.04 establishes a hierarchy of voting assistance offices and trained voting assistance officers to provide voter assistance to military personnel, their dependents, civilian Federal employees, and all qualified voters who have access to DoD installations both in the United States and overseas.

20 We reviewed the Service OIGs’ 2023 voting assistance program reports, which covered calendar year 2023.

21 As a result of this compressed time frame, our ability to review, test, or examine the Service OIG reports was limited. While we reviewed the Service OIGs’ 2023 voting assistance program reports for consistency and reasonableness, we did not validate their data and conclusions.
Offices of Inspector General Found That Military Service Voting Assistance Programs Were Compliant and Effective

We reviewed the Service OIGs' annual assessments of the Military Services' voting assistance programs covering CY 2023. All of the Service OIGs found that their respective Service voting assistance programs complied with the requirements of UOCAVA and DoDI 1000.04, “Federal Voting Assistance Program (FVAP),” and were effective. Each Service OIG:

• applied the measures of performance and effect developed by the FVAP Office (see Appendix D for Service voting assistance program performance metrics and reporting requirements);

• described Service coordination with the FVAP Office, including routine input of voting data to the FVAP web portal;

• identified data used to support distribution of voting materials and contact with eligible voters; and

• applied a standardized checklist, tailored to DoDI 1000.04, the MPSA Strategic Postal Voting Action Plan, and corresponding Service voting policies, for OIG inspections of voting assistance programs in seven specific program areas: staffing, training, material distribution, communication and information network, commander- and installation-level involvement, program compliance, and program effectiveness.

The Army Office of Inspector General Reported That the Service Voting Assistance Program Is Effective

The Army OIG reported that the Army had an effective voting assistance program during 2023. The criteria the Army OIG used for compliance testing included 10 U.S.C. § 1566, DoDI 1000.04, and Army Regulation 608-20, “Army Voting Assistance Program.” In 2023, the Army OIG report compiled inspection results from seven senior-level commands. The Army OIG report highlighted the following.

• The Army OIG reported that, for 2023, the Army was within Army voting assistance program tolerance in all areas. However, two areas require emphasis in preparation for the 2024 presidential election.
  ○ Continue to conduct Army voting assistance program workshops to prepare for the 2024 presidential election.
  ○ Review and understand how absentee ballots are distributed and submitted for future elections.

• All seven of the inspected commands developed redundant systems to either hand-deliver or electronically deliver SF 76s to eligible voters. The installation and unit voting assistance officers accomplished this task through emails with unit-specific distribution lists and installation and organization websites and portals.

• Military post office supervisors and the Joint Military Postal Activity in the continental United States physically monitored all voted ballots to ensure compliance with MPSA guidelines.

• Command voting assistance officers updated the FVAP Office monthly on the personnel status of voting assistance officers and the level of voting assistance provided, using the FVAP database. The Army Voting Assistance Office tracked voting assistance officers’ updates and notified the officers if their updates were late. In addition, the Army Voting Assistance Office completed a quarterly voting assistance program report summarizing FVAP-directed “measures of success,” including the number of personnel contacted (Soldiers and dependents) and the type of information provided (ballots, absentee ballots, and general information).

• The Army used a voting assistance officer virtual network and numerous web links to allow Soldiers to access voting information and contact a voting assistance officer. The Army Voting Assistance Office maintained the Army voting website (https://www.hrc.army.mil/content/army%20voting). Both the Army and FVAP websites had links to voting assistance officers throughout the Army. Soldiers could also access voting information through local installation websites.

The Office of the Naval Inspector General Reported That the Service Voting Assistance Program Is Effective

The Naval OIG reported that the Navy had an effective voting assistance program in 2023, with minor discrepancies. The criteria the Naval OIG used for compliance testing included 10 U.S.C. § 1566, DoDI 1000.04, and Chief of Naval Operations Instruction 1742.1C, “Navy Voting Assistance Program.” The Naval OIG evaluated the 31 major commands overseeing all Navy units, including Naval Forces Central Command and Defense Media Activity, which are supported by the Navy. The Naval OIG report highlighted the following.

• The Commander, Navy Installations Command, encompasses 10 regions and 71 installations. Installation voting assistance officers are designated in writing and assigned in the FVAP web portal.

26 Commander, Navy Installations Command is the name of the organization and does not refer to the person.
• Of the 31 Naval commands, 27 (87 percent) appointed voting assistance officers in writing, as required, to effectively assist voters for all Federal elections, and 30 of the commands (97 percent) were found to be effective in providing voting assistance. Major commands are responsible for ensuring that subordinate units maintain a voting assistance officer and enter voting assistance metrics through the FVAP web portal. Voting assistance officers are required to submit periodic program self-assessments to the unit commanding officer or officer in charge, and the Navy Service voting action officer conducts annual data calls.

• The Naval Education and Training Command was found to be overall compliant and effective, with some discrepancies. Of the 26 recruiting commands, 26 (100 percent) fully trained their personnel in providing voter assistance, and 24 (89 percent) transmitted completed forms within the 5 calendar days allotted by the instruction. However, only 21 of the 26 (81 percent) recruiting commands kept records on file for the required 2 years documenting that all enlistees were offered voting-related forms.

• Instruction 1742.1C and the Navy’s voting action plan established the requirements and deadlines for distributing the Federal Post Card Application. The Service voting assistance officer reminded all unit and installation voting assistance officers of the Federal Post Card Application distribution requirement through a monthly newsletter and posted instructions on social media. Unit voting assistance officers also logged distribution metrics for the Federal Post Card Application through the FVAP web portal.

The Marine Corps Office of Inspector General Reported That the Service Voting Assistance Program Is Effective

The Marine Corps IG concluded that the Marine Corps voting assistance program was effective in assisting eligible voters and that it complied with 10 U.S.C. § 1566, DoDI 1000.04, and Marine Corps Order 1742.1C, “Voting Assistance Program.”27 The Marine Corps IG based this conclusion on the results of 125 unit inspections during 2023. The Marine Corps OIG used data submitted by the commands to analyze their voting assistance. The Marine Corps IG report highlighted the following.

- On January 9, 2023, Marine Corps voting assistance officers sent over 574,008 emails with a link to the electronic version of the SF 76 (voter registration and absentee ballot request) to all active duty and Reserve personnel. In addition, over 49,699 civilian personnel, recruits, and students-in-training received hard copies of the SF 76.

- As of November 15, 2023, recruiters issued over 5,415 voter registration forms (DD Form 2645) to eligible prospective enlistees. The completed forms were processed in accordance with the directives and the appropriate state’s election official offices.

- The Service voting action officer determined compliance with Executive Order 14019, “Promoting Access to Voting,” section 8, and established procedures to enable a comprehensive, end-to-end ballot tracking system for all absentee ballots cast by military and other eligible overseas voters covered by UOCAVA.

- The Marine Corps appointed an installation voting assistance officer for each of the 19 Marine Corps installations and maintained the established ratio of 1 unit voting assistance officer per 200 Marines at each command.

The Air Force Office of Inspector General Reported That the Service Voting Assistance Program Is Effective

The Air Force IG concluded that the Air Force voting assistance program was effective in assisting eligible voters and complied with 10 U.S.C. § 1566, DoDI 1000.04, and Air Force Instruction 36-3107, “Voting Assistance Program.”28 The Air Force OIG interviewed voting assistance officers, inspected their procedures, and collected data from major Air Force commands.

The Air Force OIG conducted FVAP inspections across wings or equivalent units concerning voting initiatives in FY 2023 and identified 186 deficiencies. As of October 31, 2023, 63 of 183 (34 percent) minor deficiencies remained open and 3 of 3 significant deficiencies remained open. The Air Force IG identified no critical deficiencies. The Air Force IG report highlighted the following.

- Installation and unit voting assistance officers use installation mailing lists to electronically distribute special local and state election information to installation and unit personnel.

- Installation voting assistance officers coordinate with appropriate offices to ensure that the installation voting assistance office is included on in- and out-processing checklists for the required voting services, including the following checklist items.
  - in- and out-processing personnel for permanent change of station or deployments of 6 months or longer
  - assigned personnel changing their mailing address
  - release from active duty
  - request by military, civilian, or contractor personnel or any U.S. citizen with access to the installation and installation voting assistance office

- Instructions on accomplishing these steps were provided to installation and unit voting assistance officers in the January 2023 Air Force Voting Action Plan, which is posted on the FVAP portal. To validate compliance, the Air Force Service voting assistance officer provided the Air Force OIG and the Air Force Inspection Agency with a standardized inspection checklist, which is to be used by all installation-level inspectors when conducting annual inspections, based on the core requirements of DoDI 1000.04.

- The Air Force developed a redundant, Service-wide messaging system and installation electronic distribution mailing lists. The messaging system reaches 285,000 Service members and 153,000 civilian employees. The Air Force retained records of Federal Post Card Application distribution and voting information and assistance provided in accordance with FVAP metric requirements and an Air Force web-based system for tracking customer service data.

- The Air Force provided voting information through social media, newspapers, installation marquees, radio, and television from the American Forces Network. Installation voting assistance officers maintained a voting assistance web page on the installation’s public website, which the installation public affairs office approved. Unit voting assistance officers also provided absentee voting information that included details about voters’ home states, election dates, absentee registration, and voting rules and forms.

The Space Force IG concluded that the Service’s voting assistance program is effective in assisting eligible voters and complied with 10 U.S.C. § 1566, DoDI 1000.04, and Air Force Instruction 36-3107. The OIG interviewed voting assistance officers, inspected their procedures, and collected data from Space Force field commands.

The Space Force OIG conducted 61 FVAP inspections across five Delta, Garrison, or equivalent units in 2023 and found that the office was in compliance, with one minor deficiency identified. As of October 31, 2023, the one minor deficiency remained open. The Space Force OIG did not identify any significant or critical deficiencies in 2023.
Outreach Efforts by the FVAP Office Were Effective

The FVAP Office conducted effective outreach to assist Service members, overseas civilians, and their eligible family members covered by UOCAVA. The FVAP Office also collaborated with stakeholder agencies to promote access to voting. Specifically, the FVAP Office performed and coordinated outreach, as required by DoDI 1000.04, “Federal Voting Assistance Program (FVAP),” section 580D of the National Defense Authorization Act for FY 2020, and section 8(c) of Executive Order 14019, “Promoting Access to Voting,” through the following:

- Service engagement through voting assistance officers and the FVAP portal
- Election official engagement to raise awareness of compliance with Federal law
- Direct assistance to eligible voters
- Congressional reporting of post-election survey results on the effectiveness of the assistance provided to eligible voters
- Research and evaluation, in conjunction with the Council of State Governments and the Election Assistance Commission, through analysis of post-election surveys and data from voting assistance officers
- Coordination of external stakeholder agencies, including with the Council of State Governments, Election Assistance Commission, USPS, MSPA, and Departments of Commerce, Health and Human Services, Justice, State, and Transportation
- Development of written agreements with all external stakeholder agencies to enhance outreach and ensure collaborative and efficient efforts to support voters covered by UOCAVA
- Continued development of Military Ballot Tracking Program (MBTP) research, in conjunction with key stakeholders, on the feasibility of establishing an end-to-end ballot tracking system

As a result of outreach actions by the FVAP Office, eligible voters had the information necessary to participate in the voting process. While all of the Service OIGs found their Service’s voting assistance program to be compliant and effective, we also reviewed compliance with DoDI 1000.04 regarding outreach efforts and assistance to provide voting access to voters covered by UOCAVA and external stakeholder agencies. DoD organizations and leaders also had the necessary tools to ensure voting access and compliance with Federal law and DoDI 1000.04.
The FVAP Office Provided Effective Outreach and Assistance to Ensure Voting Access for Eligible Voters Covered by UOCAVA and for External Stakeholder Agencies

The FVAP Office provided effective outreach and assistance to ensure voting access for eligible voters covered by UOCAVA. The FVAP Office also collaborated with stakeholder agencies to promote access to voting, such as the Council of State Governments, USPS, MPSA, Election Assistance Commission, and Departments of Commerce, Health and Human Services, Justice, State, and Transportation.

FVAP Office Outreach Processes and Procedures Complied with DoD Instruction 1000.04

FVAP Office outreach processes and procedures provided voters covered by UOCAVA access to voting information. The FVAP Office established policies and procedures that complied with DoDI 1000.04. The FVAP Office also coordinated with the Services to ensure that uniformed and overseas personnel were aware of their right to vote and had the tools and resources to exercise that right. The FVAP Office complied with DoDI 1000.04, section 580D of the National Defense Authorization Act for FY 2020, and section 8(c) of Executive Order 14019 by carrying out the following.

- Service engagement through voting assistance officers and the FVAP portal
- Election official engagement to raise awareness of compliance with Federal law
- Direct assistance to eligible voters
- Research and evaluation through analysis of post-election surveys and voting assistance officer metrics
- Congressional reporting of post-election survey results on the effectiveness of the assistance provided to eligible voters
- Outreach efforts with external stakeholder agencies including the Departments of Commerce, Health and Human Services, Justice, State, and Transportation
- Written agreements, such as memorandums of understanding, with all external stakeholder agencies to enhance outreach and ensure collaborative and efficient efforts to support voters covered by UOCAVA
- Continued MBTP research, in conjunction with key stakeholders, on the feasibility of establishing an end-to-end ballot tracking system
As a result of the FVAP Office outreach, eligible voters had the information necessary to participate in the voting process. DoD organizations and leaders also had the necessary tools to ensure compliance with Federal law and DoDI 1000.04. See Appendix E for a description of the outreach materials and support provided by the FVAP Office.

The following sections describe outreach efforts conducted by the FVAP Office, including Service engagement, election official engagement, direct voter assistance, research and evaluation, congressional reporting, external stakeholder agency engagement, development of written agreements, and provision of required information on MBTP research.

Service Engagement: The FVAP Office Coordinated with Service Voting Assistance Representatives

As part of its stakeholder outreach efforts, the FVAP Office continually monitored and enhanced support to voting assistance officers to train and educate them on their responsibilities to voters. In its 2022 report to Congress, published in 2023, the FVAP Office reported that it reduced barriers for UOCAVA voters to successfully vote absentee, increased awareness about absentee voting, and enhanced measures of effectiveness and participation. The FVAP Office expanded its efforts to raise awareness of its resources and reduce obstacles by improving its website, online outreach, and call center support. The most frequently reported challenge experienced by U.S. citizen voters living overseas was figuring out how to vote.

To reduce the obstacles to UOCAVA voters and increase their awareness of available tools and resources, the FVAP Office recommended the following key areas for the 2024 election cycle.

- Continue to review and update, as necessary, the Federal Post Card Application and the Federal Write-in Absentee Ballot to focus on core Federal election eligibility requirements to enhance usability and maximize benefits codified under UOCAVA. This includes incorporation of bilingual forms and instructions in Spanish, French, Portuguese, Arabic, Chinese, Vietnamese, and Korean.
- Maintain continued alignment across the DoD enterprise to support Military Service-level voting assistance programs.
- Expand use of virtual training opportunities to support voting assistance officers and other stakeholders throughout the calendar year and close to the general election.
• Utilize the Effective Voting Assistance Model to track changes at regular intervals during the election cycle of voting assistance officer responsibilities across the Services to ensure effectiveness and identification of best practices.29

• Continue to use paid, earned, shared, and owned media and social media outlets to focus on population segments who are not aware of available resources through FVAP, especially first-time absentee voters.

• Sustain and improve the impact of the voting assistance ambassador program in areas with concentrated U.S. military and citizen communities to expand outreach and assistance to those voters.

• Create and effectively distribute innovative content that resonates with military members, their families, and overseas citizens.

The FVAP Office took substantial steps to offer more comprehensive and effective voter assistance and improve its relationship with stakeholders. For example, the FVAP Office continued to make it easier for stakeholders to identify their web pages, added a page devoted to outreach materials, made it possible to search reports and other resources, and provided more hands-on voting assistance. See Appendix E for a description of the outreach materials and support provided by the FVAP Office.

The FVAP Office developed voting assistance program metrics on October 15, 2014, and the Service OIGs used these metrics as one measure to assess the effectiveness of their programs. The FVAP Office coordinated with each Service on voting assistance program performance metrics and reporting requirements, as required by DoDI 1000.04. Since January 1, 2015, the FVAP Office prescribed the quarterly collection of data elements through the FVAP website. See Appendix D for performance metrics and reporting requirements for the Services’ voting assistance programs. Service voting assistance officers are required by the FVAP to input certain data from the installation and unit levels into the portal within 15 days after the end of each quarter, including statistics on voter registration, absentee ballots, and distribution of voter assistance materials.

Election Official Engagement: The FVAP Office Coordinated with State and Local Election Officials

As required by DoDI 1000.04, the FVAP Office conducted engagements with state and local election officials to raise awareness of their responsibilities under UOCAVA. The FVAP Office engaged with state and local election officials 29 The FVAP developed the Effective Voting Assistance Model to share proven methodologies and identify the ideal characteristics of military voting assistance programs.

by providing assistance and collecting and using voting information. The FVAP Office used the voting information to improve the absentee voting process for citizens in accordance with UOCAVA and to prepare reports for the President and Congress. The FVAP Office assisted election officials by providing online training and guidance, sending email alerts, funding research grants, participating in conferences, conducting other local outreach, and making direct (person-to-person) contact.

In consultation with the Department of Justice, the FVAP Office also considered and responded to states’ requests for waivers of certain legal requirements under the MOVE Act. In 2022, the FVAP Office reinforced its commitment to serve as a critical information source for policymakers through its state and local relations program. The FVAP Office fostered and strengthened relationships with state and local government officials to identify and assess areas for improvement to the UOCAVA absentee voting process.

To support its mission, the FVAP Office tracks and researches policy and state legislative developments that may have implications for military and overseas voters. The FVAP Office also provides policy-related products to the states. According to the FVAP Office, respondents to the FVAP’s Post-Election Voting Survey for State Election Officials indicated that they found the FVAP’s policy-related products useful.

The FVAP Office uses the Post-Election Voting Survey for State Election Officials to assess the usefulness of the FVAP Office’s policy-related products and to evaluate the FVAP Office’s effectiveness in serving election officials, shaping future products and services, addressing state ballot and registration issues, and clarifying its understanding of state policies. Of the state election officials who reported using FVAP products or services, the vast majority indicated that they were satisfied with the resources. Satisfaction ratings of FVAP products and services ranged from 75 to 100 percent.

Eighty-eight percent of state election officials indicated that they referred the FVAP Office to local election officials in 2022, which was slightly more than the 84 percent who reported doing so in 2020.
The FVAP Office engagement resources, such as voter alerts, training, grant programs, outreach material, and policy briefs, provide state and local election officials with the information needed to assist voters covered by UOCAVA. The FVAP Office supports election officials and U.S. citizens who vote absentee by providing necessary absentee voting forms, materials, training, and guidance in accordance with UOCAVA requirements. The FVAP Office uses the following tools to support absentee voting through election official engagement.

- Voter alerts—Election officials can subscribe to email alerts that the FVAP Office sends to voters to inform them of election dates, important deadlines, changes to state laws, and other important absentee voting information. This allows election officials to see what the FVAP Office is sending to voters so that voters covered by UOCAVA are receiving the data they need and to provide any needed updates to the FVAP Office.

- Training—For election officials interested in learning more about the UOCAVA absentee voting process, the FVAP Office created an online training module that is accessible anywhere. The training module includes an introduction to UOCAVA and responses to frequently asked questions about the UOCAVA absentee voting process.

- Grant programs—The FVAP Office established the Electronic Absentee System for Elections research grant program under legislative direction to test the feasibility of new election technology for the benefit of voters covered by UOCAVA. The grant program allows the FVAP Office to test a range of election technologies and examine potential solutions through research grants provided to states and localities. For example, in 2011 and 2013, the FVAP Office offered research grants to states and localities to research how to improve services for uniformed and overseas voters. The resulting data from the grant program helped identify improvements to the voting experience for uniformed and overseas voters.

- Outreach materials—The FVAP Office created a variety of outreach materials to assist election officials in their efforts to inform and communicate with absentee voters from their jurisdictions. For example, a communications toolkit includes informational graphics, fact sheets, and videos that election officials are encouraged to disseminate. See Appendix E for a description of the outreach materials and support provided by the FVAP Office.

30 The Electronic Absentee System for Elections grant program in 2011 funded programs including online blank ballot delivery, online voter registration, online ballot requests, automated ballot duplication, and online ballot tracking. The Electronic Absentee System for Elections 2 grant program in 2013 was a more focused effort, providing funding to develop online ballot delivery tools and establish a single point of contact in state election offices.

31 The communications toolkits support organizations in their efforts to help Service members, their families, and overseas citizens vote absentee. Election officials can customize and share content on digital channels like websites, blogs, social media, and email.
• Policy briefs—The FVAP Office tracks and researches policy developments that may affect uniformed and overseas voters. The most recent policy briefs posted on the FVAP website address voters who have never resided in the United States, military and overseas voters’ access to and use of fax, and automatic voter registration.\(^{32}\) The FVAP Office shares the potential impacts on voters covered by UOCAVA with state election officials and legislators.

These resources provide state and local election officials with some of the information and tools needed to assist voters covered by UOCAVA, and all of the required information and tools are located on the FVAP website. We reviewed the voter alerts, training, grant programs, outreach material, and policy briefs that the FVAP Office provided to state and local election officials to assist voters covered by UOCAVA.

The activities that the FVAP Office performed in 2022 aligned with the advancement of its strategic goals and will remain the areas of focus in upcoming election cycles, along with the following initiatives within each area of the 2024 election cycle.

- Implementing an aggressive engagement strategy for state and local election officials to raise awareness of core responsibilities under Federal law
- Educating states on how to enhance the usability of the absentee voting process for active duty military by authorizing acceptance of electronic signatures from the DoD Common Access Card in the election process, based on the Council of State Governments Overseas Voting Initiative recommendations
- Leveraging the ongoing work of the Council of State Governments to expand the implementation of a national data standard to more effectively report the impacts of congressional reforms passed in the 2009 MOVE Act and data collected from approximately 40 percent of the UOCAVA participating voter population, while reducing the post-election reporting burden on the states in partnership with the Election Assistance Commission
- Conducting virtual voting assistance town halls for UOCAVA voters in the weeks leading up to the general election where FVAP will provide a live platform for voters to ask questions and receive guidance

\(^{32}\) The FVAP refers to U.S. citizens who are 18 years or older and born abroad but have never resided in the United States as “never resided” voters. These citizens are required to submit a tax form to the Internal Revenue Service each year, and 18-year-old males must register with the Selective Service. The FVAP Office estimates that in 2016, approximately 11,500 registered voters had never resided in the United States. As of 2017, 36 states allow never-resided citizens to vote if a parent or legal guardian was last domiciled in that state. Additionally, several states are considering, or have recently considered, automatic voter registration. Automatic voter registration is defined as a statutory system whereby state election officials use information about individuals’ voter eligibility existing in government databases to register qualified individuals to vote without the individuals themselves needing to take action. Citizens are given the opportunity to update their information or opt out of registration.
DoDI 1000.04 also requires the FVAP Office to establish and maintain contact with state election officials, state legislators, and other state and local government officials to improve the absentee voting process for UOCAVA.

Direct Voter Assistance: The FVAP Office Maintains the FVAP Website

The FVAP Office provides direct voter assistance through the FVAP website, a voter call center, and a comprehensive voter assistance guide. The FVAP website contains information for all personnel involved in the voting process, from voters to voting assistance officials. The FVAP website has online assistants that guide users through completion and submission of the Federal Post Card Application and the Federal Write-in Absentee Ballot. The website offers educational materials to voters and those who assist voters to simplify the UOCAVA voting process. The FVAP website also directs users to state websites offering online voter registration and ballot request features and provides election news and state-specific voting deadlines, requirements, and contact information.

The FVAP Office prepares an FVAP guide with the assistance of state voting officials, the Military Services, and the Department of State. The FVAP Office publishes the guide every 2 years, matching the Federal election cycle, and routinely updates the online version. For the 2024–2025 guide, the FVAP Office reported working closely with state election officials through several rounds of coordination. For the 2024 election year, the guide continues to reflect the FVAP Office’s focus on streamlining content to support the work of voting assistance officers in the military, Department of State, and citizen organizations who serve voters. The Federal Post Card Application is a critical piece to ensure that voters can leverage full voting protections authorized under Federal law, regardless of duty station or distance from home. Acting early also ensures access to the Federal Write-in Absentee Ballot as a backup ballot should the voter’s official ballot not arrive from the appropriate election official.

The guide also serves as a catalog of state-specific processes and regulations that uniformed and overseas voters should follow to register to vote and cast an absentee ballot. The FVAP Office published the 2024–2025 voting assistance guide in August 2023 and posted it on the FVAP website.

FVAP’s Voting Assistance Center provides phone, email, and fax support to UOCAVA voters and those who assist them, including voting assistance offices, election officials, academic institutions, nongovernmental organizations, and stateside family members. The FVAP Voting Assistance Center provided continuous, business-hours customer service throughout the election cycle, with expanded coverage on Election Day and during special elections. Key observations on the performance of the call center in 2022 include that the FVAP Office responded to over 12,215 inquiries and achieved a customer satisfaction survey rate of 4.6 of 5 with a customer service survey response rate of 11 percent.

Our review of the FVAP Office’s direct voter assistance efforts determined that these efforts help voters understand their right to vote. Voters had access to the required information to vote, especially through the FVAP website. For example, voters could get their voting questions answered through local voting assistance officers or the call center. Many of the tools for voters and the assistance they require, such as voter registration and ballots, training material, policies, laws, and reports to the President and Congress, are located on the FVAP website, satisfying the requirements of DoDI 1000.04, “Federal Voting Assistance Program (FVAP).”

Congressional Reporting: The FVAP Office Submitted Annual Reports to Congress

UOCAVA requires the FVAP Office to submit a report to Congress following each Federal election on the effectiveness, oversight, and compliance of assistance provided to voters covered by UOCAVA, including a statistical analysis of Uniformed Services voter participation, a separate statistical analysis of overseas nonmilitary participation, and a description of state and Federal cooperation.\(^{34}\) The report includes findings from the FVAP Office’s post-election surveys and an assessment of activities supporting annual elections for Federal offices.

The FVAP Office’s 2022 report to Congress included the following.

- The 2022 voter registration rate for active duty military personnel was 63 percent, a 4 percent increase from 2018.\(^ {35}\)
- The FVAP Office’s 2022 “Overseas Citizen Population Analysis” estimated that 4.4 million U.S. citizens lived overseas in 2022, an increase of almost 1.3 million since 2010.\(^ {36}\)
- Active duty military personnel who received assistance from a DoD voting resource (the FVAP Office, unit voting assistance officers, or installation voting assistance offices) were significantly more likely to submit a ballot than those who did not receive assistance. According to FVAP reporting to Congress, this consistent finding across the 2012, 2014, 2016, 2018, and 2020 general elections indicates the importance and effectiveness of efforts by the FVAP Office and the Military Departments to raise awareness of available resources and provide direct assistance.

\(^{35}\) According to the U.S. Census Bureau, 69.1 percent of the U.S. citizen voting-age population were registered to vote in the 2022 U.S. congressional elections.

Research and Evaluation: The FVAP Office Conducted Studies to Enhance Voter Assistance Efforts

The FVAP Office provided analysis, information, and resources for absentee voters, voting assistance officers, and election officials. Post-election surveys and voting assistance officer metrics serve as research and evaluation tools to help the FVAP Office enhance voter assistance efforts. The FVAP Office coordinated with each Service to determine voting assistance program performance metrics and reporting requirements to meet DoDI 1000.04. Current Service OIG application of FVAP measures of effect and performance are the result of this effort. Since January 1, 2015, the FVAP Office required Service voting assistance officers to upload quarterly entries to the FVAP website no later than 15 days after the end of each quarter.

The FVAP Office also conducted post-election voting surveys of active duty military members, voting assistance officers, and state election officials in coordination with the Defense Manpower Data Center. These surveys:

- determine participation in the electoral process by U.S. citizens covered under UOCAVA,
- assess the impact of FVAP efforts to simplify and ease the process of voting absentee,
- evaluate the progress made to facilitate absentee voting participation, and
- identify any remaining obstacles to voting experienced by these absentee voters.

We reviewed post-election surveys reported by the FVAP Office and voting assistance officer metrics. We determined that the FVAP Office’s research and evaluation efforts improved the voting process. The FVAP Office biennially reports to the President and Congress improvements and changes to enhance program effectiveness.37 All of the information and reports to Congress, surveys, and general research reports are available on the FVAP website.

In 2022, The FVAP Office continued to build upon research-based strategies that proved successful in 2018 and 2020 to increase brand recognition and raise awareness of FVAP resources, including positioning FVAP.gov as the leading official source of absentee voting information for the military, their families, and overseas citizens. These strategies included:

- using behavior-based strategies, which include acknowledging citizens who want to vote but require assistance due to real or perceived challenges;

37 52 U.S.C. § 20308(b) requires the presidential designee to submit to the President and Congress an annual report on the effectiveness of activities and use of certain procedures by September 30 of each odd-numbered year.
• focusing on the process steps that specific UOCAVA audiences found most problematic;
• encouraging voters to act earlier to avoid missing deadlines;
• increasing the number of UOCAVA voters reached through advanced data science techniques; and
• reaching voters directly in their homes and through trusted community organizations.

External Stakeholder Agency Engagement: The FVAP Office Coordinated with External Stakeholder Agencies on Behalf of UOCAVA Voters

UOCAVA requires states to transmit requested absentee ballots to voters covered by UOCAVA no later than 45 days before a Federal election. Citizens covered by UOCAVA include:

- members of the Uniformed Services (Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force, Space Force, Coast Guard, U.S. Public Health Service Commissioned Corps, and NOAA Commissioned Officer Corps),
- members of the Merchant Marine,
- eligible family members of the organizations listed above, and
- other U.S. citizens residing outside of the United States.

The FVAP Office assists voters through outreach and partnerships with several stakeholders, including the Military Services, Council of State Governments, Election Assistance Commission, Departments of Justice and State, USPS, and election officials from every state and U.S. territory and the District of Columbia.

Department of Justice

The Attorney General may bring a civil action in Federal court to enforce the provisions of UOCAVA. The Attorney General assigned responsibility for UOCAVA enforcement to the Department of Justice Civil Rights Division. Since Congress enacted UOCAVA in 1986, the Department of Justice has initiated and resolved numerous cases to enforce UOCAVA.

According to a Department of Justice official, they continue to have effective collaboration with the FVAP Office leadership and staff on UOCAVA-related issues. Throughout 2023, Department of Justice staff participated in telephone conference calls with FVAP Office leadership and staff as issues of mutual interest arose. In 2022, the Department of Justice coordinated closely with the FVAP Office on the DoD’s response to an application by the State of Ohio for an undue hardship waiver under UOCAVA. Although 2023 was not a federal election year, Department of Justice staff communicated with FVAP leadership and staff at various times when issues of mutual interest arose this year, for example in connection with the scheduling of a special election to fill a congressional vacancy.

For the 2022 Federal election cycle, the Department of Justice undertook its usual nation-wide ballot transmission monitoring to ensure that states provided voters covered by UOCAVA with the opportunities to vote absentee in accordance with the statute. Department of Justice activities in 2022 were described in the Department’s annual report to Congress under UOCAVA. In addition, the Department of Justice provides information on UOCAVA protections for Uniformed Services voters and overseas voters on its website. See https://www.justice.gov/crt/uniformed-and-overseas-citizens-absentee-voting-act and https://www.justice.gov/servicemembers/voting.

UOCAVA requires that the chief state election official, in coordination with local election jurisdictions, have a free-access system that absent Uniformed Service or overseas voters can use to determine whether their absentee ballots were received by the appropriate state election official. After the MOVE Act added this provision in 2009, the Department of Justice and the FVAP Office communicated with all state and territory officials to ensure awareness and compliance with this and other new UOCAVA obligations. Before each Federal election year, the Department of Justice contacts state election officials to remind them of their UOCAVA obligations and to inquire about any new laws or procedures affecting voters covered by UOCAVA.

In accordance with Executive Order 14019, the Department of Justice is taking steps to promote voter registration and voting services available to its overseas employees and ensure that they have access to information and resources concerning their right to register and vote absentee as guaranteed by UOCAVA.

Council of State Governments

The FVAP Office and the Council of State Governments, through the Overseas Voting Initiative cooperative agreement, implemented the MBTP. The FVAP Office and the Council of State Governments, in cooperation with the USPS and MPSA, tracked mail ballots during the 2016 general election at each stage from the time they left the local election official’s office, to delivery to the military post office, to delivery to the voter overseas, to the completed ballots’ delivery, to the military voter and back to the local election office. The 2016 MBTP was the first to provide full life-cycle tracking of ballots throughout the USPS–military postal service network. It increased customer service for voters and provided valuable research data to help identify areas for improvement on both Federal and local levels.
The FVAP Office's and the Council of State Governments' evaluation of the MBTP included an analysis of transactional data furnished by participating local election jurisdictions, parcel scan data from the MPSA and USPS, technical feedback from the pilot’s principal stakeholders (the FVAP Office, Council of State Governments, USPS, and MPSA) and six participating local election jurisdictions, and a customer satisfaction survey of voters who were afforded this tracking service. Additionally, the evaluation included questions for military personnel who received material through the pilot about their overall satisfaction.

The role of the Council of State Governments is to support the FVAP Office and state policymakers, including working with states to help disseminate innovative policy solutions and share best practices among states that help reduce the barriers for UOCAVA voters. For example, one Council of State Governments initiative produced a report highlighting UOCAVA voters’ limited access to fax devices, even though some states only allow electronic return by fax. The Council of State Governments also published a report on innovative practices to protect systems when states accept electronic ballot returns.39

As a result of section 8 of Executive Order 14019, “Promoting Access to Voting,” the FVAP Office tasked the Council of State Governments with coordinating and facilitating meetings between the FVAP Office, Department of State, MPSA, and USPS. The USPS provided feedback and recommendations to the Council of State Governments on the UOCAVA ballot pilot response to Executive Order 14019. The FVAP Office also reviewed and provided feedback on the UOCAVA ballot pilot response to Executive Order 14019. The Council of State Governments is in its final round of edits before sending the UOCAVA ballot pilot through the design and publication process. As part of this work, the Council of State Governments is creating best practices for communications with military and overseas voters ahead of the 2024 election.

_Election Assistance Commission_

The DoD has a memorandum of understanding with the Election Assistance Commission to coordinate survey efforts to reduce the reporting burden on state and local election officials and consolidate reporting to Congress. Under UOCAVA and Executive Order 12642, “Designation of the Secretary of Defense as the Presidential Designee Under Title I of the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act,” the Secretary of Defense is required to work with the

Election Assistance Commission and the chief election official of each state to develop standards for states to report data on the number of absentee ballots transmitted and received under 52 U.S.C. § 20302.

Section 20302 requires each state and unit of local government that administers an election to submit a report to the Election Assistance Commission (established under the Help America Vote Act of 2002) reflecting these data on uniformed and overseas voting no later than 90 days after the date of each regularly scheduled general election for Federal office. According to the memorandum of understanding, this coordination effort is limited to section B (the UOCAVA portion) of the Election Administration and Voting Survey and projects that contribute to improving the UOCAVA data collected through the Election Administration and Voting Survey.

UOCAVA requires the Election Assistance Commission to create a standardized format for state reporting of UOCAVA voting information. UOCAVA requires that:

Not later than 90 days after the date of each regularly scheduled general election for Federal office, each state and unit of local government which administered the election shall (through the state, in the case of a unit of local government) submit a report to the Election Assistance Commission (established under the Help America Vote Act of 2002) on the combined number of absentee ballots transmitted to absent Uniformed Services voters and overseas voters for the election and the combined number of such ballots which were returned by such voters and cast in the election, and shall make such a report available to the general public.

States that complete and submit the UOCAVA section of the survey to the Election Assistance Commission within the required 90 days fulfill their UOCAVA reporting requirement under 52 U.S.C. § 20302(c).

Since 2004, the Election Assistance Commission has administered the Election Administration and Voting Survey every 2 years to the 50 states, District of Columbia, and territories of American Samoa, Guam, the Northern Marianas Islands, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands. The survey asks election officials questions concerning voting and election administration. These questions request information at the state and county levels (or county equivalent) on ballots cast, voter registration, overseas and military voting, Election Day activities, and voting technology, among other things. The Election Assistance Commission issues the survey to meet its obligations under the Help America Vote Act to serve as national clearinghouse and resource for the compilation of information with respect to the administration of Federal elections. Every two years, the Election Assistance Commission releases one comprehensive Election Administration and Voting Survey report, which includes a chapter on the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 and a separate chapter on UOCAVA, to fulfill the statutory reporting requirements.

Department of State

The Department of State is required to work with the DoD to assist millions of military and civilian voters residing abroad who may be eligible to vote in Federal elections under UOCAVA. The presidential designee delegated responsibility to the Department of State for providing voting assistance to all private and official overseas U.S. citizens who do not fall under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of Defense. Department of State voting assistance officers and staff are responsible for providing nonpartisan information on how overseas U.S. citizens can participate in U.S. elections and for assisting overseas U.S. citizens with the transmission of absentee voting forms and ballots. Voting assistance officers have responsibilities during election and non-election years alike.

The primary resource for both private U.S. citizens who wish to vote and Department of State voting assistance officers is the FVAP website. The website contains an online assistant to help private U.S. citizens complete voter registration forms, absentee ballot requests, and emergency write-in ballots. The website also contains links to state election and voter registration verification websites, as well as important dates and state-specific instructions. For Department of State voting assistance officers, the website contains the required voting assistance officer training, downloadable voting forms, downloadable motivational voting materials for use in voting outreach events, and contact information for all state and local election officials. The website also contains information on applicable overseas voting laws and the FVAP.

Diplomatic pouch and mail are the logistical conduit between the embassy or consulate and the continental United States. As such, the Department of State moves personal, official, and classified mail and material to and from post. All UOCAVA voters and American citizens living abroad can drop off their absentee ballots for mailing at any embassy, consulate, or other Department of State mission worldwide. The MPSA coordinates with each Department of State mission to identify a point of contact to serve as the USPS Label 11-DOD (DoD Express Mail label for military absentee voting) custodian per election. The appointed custodian provides the Label 11-DODs to qualifying DoD voters to return and track their individual absentee ballots. However, when this is not accomplished or possible, the Department of State’s diplomatic pouch and mail process is used, an internal tracing number is assigned to the ballot, and the ballot is sent back to the continental United States through an unclassified pouch. Such ballots are then turned over to the USPS, with a signature required during the transaction.

In more recent elections, the Department of State worked with the DoD to provide the Label 11-DOD for Uniformed Service members and their families whenever possible. See Figure 4 for the USPS Label 11-DOD Express Mail label for military absentee voting.

43 Military personnel in overseas military postal locations can return absentee ballots by Express Mail service using the Express Mail Label 11-DOD. This blue Express Mail label is affixed to the top of the absentee ballot return envelope or flat. The absentee ballot return envelope may be as small as a #10 business-sized envelope or as large as a flat-sized envelope. This unique label is used only for absentee ballots originating from overseas military postal locations. These Express Mail shipments arrive from International Service Centers in Express Mail sacks and remain in the Express Mail stream to the delivery unit. This is a joint initiative between the USPS and military postal service. The Express Mail Label 11-DOD affixed to the absentee ballot envelope or flat allows Service members to track their vote all the way to the county or parish election office.
Department of Commerce
According to Department of Commerce officials, in the past, the DoD reached out to the Department of Commerce to discuss voters covered by UOCAVA. The Commissioned Personnel Center also has information about absentee voting, including the FVAP website link, posted on its website.

In September 2022, the Commissioned Personnel Center participated in an FVAP.gov “Federal Agency Partners” orientation meeting. The presentation covered the requirements of Executive Order 14019 and UOCAVA, as well as resources available to support the Services.

Department of Health and Human Services
The Department of Health and Human Services Commissioned Corps of the U.S. Public Health Service has no formal mechanism or process in place to account for or provide voting assistance to Commissioned Corps employees covered by UOCAVA. Some officers may be aware of or receive information concerning absentee voting, the FVAP voting guide, or the FVAP website from their agencies; however, the Commissioned Corps headquarters does not make information available.

Department of Transportation
The Department of Transportation does not provide absentee balloting or voter outreach to members of the Merchant Marine. The Office of Maritime Labor and Training provides some indirect support for the U.S. Census but not for elections.

The Maritime Administration, under the Department of Transportation, owns the fleet of public vessels that are operated under contract by commercial ship management companies. During infrequent activations of the Maritime Administration Ready Reserve Force fleet or select Ready Reserve Force ships, these ships are fully crewed for DoD missions and are under the operational control of the Department of the Navy’s Military Sealift Command. Upon transfer of operational control from the Maritime Administration to the Military Sealift Command, the Maritime Administration complies with DoD and Navy postal requirements for handling and postmarking absentee ballots, if required, as directed by the commander of the Military Sealift Command.

U.S. Postal Service
The USPS partners with the DoD and Department of State to deliver mail to military facilities in the continental United States, as well as military and Department of State personnel and their families outside the continental
The USPS, DoD, and Department of State each have responsibilities related to handling and processing mail. The USPS staff coordinate with DoD and Department of State staff, including those from the MPSA, the Joint Military Postal Agency, and various diplomatic, military, Army, Air Force, or fleet post offices. For example, for outbound mail, the USPS generally handles the acceptance, transportation to the Chicago International Military Service Center, initial sorting and labeling, and tendering to the commercial transportation carrier (mostly air or surface). This mail is then transported to the foreign destination, where it is eventually handed over to DoD or Department of State officials who sort and deliver it. See Figure 5 for an illustration of the USPS to external party typical outbound military and diplomatic mail operations.

44 Most inbound and outbound international military and diplomatic mail arrives at the Chicago International Service Center per a 2012 decision to consolidate operations. The Chicago International Military Service Center section of the facility processes most of the outbound mail, while inbound mail is sent to other processing facilities. Chicago International Service Center staff handle and process this mail, as well as other international and domestic mail. Mail to more than 1,000 military ZIP codes and 100 diplomatic ZIP codes is sorted at the Chicago International Military Service Center.

45 The Joint Military Postal Agency is the DoD’s postal liaison agency that has overall responsibility for postal operations at military locations overseas (including items scanned as delivered when the customer states the item was not received). The Joint Military Postal Agency acts on behalf of the MPSA with the USPS at the various USPS facilities that process military mail.
is used as part of their election administration. As a part of that outreach, the USPS educates elections officials about Army, Air Force, fleet, and diplomatic post office mailing procedures and the tools available to facilitate the timely delivery and return of UOCAVA ballots. The USPS also encourages election officials to communicate this information to UOCAVA voters through their own outreach and education efforts.

The USPS provides educational information to military and overseas voters through its website, the Postal Explorer, located at www.usps.com/votinginfo. This website includes important information about Army, fleet, and diplomatic post office election mail procedures; links to the USPS Election Mail Kit (Kit 600), which includes additional resources for election mail for UOCAVA voters; and the USPS guidelines for Army and Air Force fleet post office mailing in its procedures, “Special Procedures APO/FPO/DPO and Overseas Citizens Absentee Ballots,” on Postal Explorer.

The USPS also maintains an election mail website, which includes helpful mailing resources and information for domestic and UOCAVA voters who choose to use the mail, including a section of the website dedicated exclusively to “Military & Overseas” voters. The USPS also ensures that processes and procedures are in place at International Service Centers and other facilities to promptly handle and deliver UOCAVA ballots, including those sent using Label 11-DOD.

The USPS supports domestic scanning and visibility of outbound UOCAVA ballot mail pieces, which are automation compatible and include an Intelligent Mail barcode; Military, diplomatic, and foreign post offices do not. If the mail piece qualifies for and has a Priority Mail Express Label 11-DOD affixed, the mail piece may be scanned overseas through a military or diplomatic post office location; this mail piece would also be scanned domestically using normal USPS Priority Mail Express scanning.

The USPS also collaborated on the 2016 MBTP program, providing key technical assets for guidance and technical support for setup and configuration, and ongoing collaborative efforts on the 2021–2022 UOCAVA ballot pilot program. This included the USPS's participation in weekly interagency meetings to plan and implement a pilot to test the scanning of the Intelligent Mail barcode, Intelligent Mail package barcode, and S10 tracking numbers for UOCAVA eligible voters.\textsuperscript{47}

Military Postal Service Agency

The MPSA publishes the DoD Strategic Postal Voting Plan to highlight military postal service support during all Federal elections in accordance with UOCAVA, the MOVE Act, DoD Directive 5101.11e, “DoD Executive Agent for the Military Postal System and Official Mail Program,” DoDI 4525.09, “Military Postal Service (MPS),” and the Military Postal Service Procedures Manual.\textsuperscript{48} As an extension of the USPS and in coordination with the FVAP Office, the military postal service provides expedited processing, transportation, distribution, and tracking of absentee ballots from overseas military post offices to the state election offices. The DoD Strategic Postal Voting Plan contains the recommended mailing dates for each military postal service ZIP code so voters receive, complete, and return ballots prior to Election Day. The plan also lists requirements for the MPSA, Joint Military Postal Activity, and Military Services.

The MPSA publishes the DoD Strategic Postal Voting Action Plan annually, which details guidance and responsibilities on ballot tracking for the MPSA, Joint Military Postal Agency, and Military Services. The plan also requires the Military Services to develop and publish a Service Postal Voting Action Plan, which must include guidance on and listings of military post office and Military Mail Terminal responsibilities that support the MPSA's Strategic Postal Action Plan and ensure the Military Postal Activity comply with the listed DoD issuances. All of the Services annually complete a voting action plan as required, and the plans are posted on the FVAP.gov website.

\textsuperscript{47} The Intelligent Mail package barcode provides piece-level data to enable the postal service to increase efficiency, add value to its package product line, and enhance its package tracking capabilities. The Worldwide Postal System is coordinated by the Universal Postal Union, a United Nations agency responsible for coordinating postal policies among member states. It currently has 192 members, including most United Nations member states (except for Andorra, Marshall Islands, Micronesia, and Palau) and Vatican City. All Universal Postal Union member states use the S10 standard to identify postal items. According to this standard, each postal item is assigned a 13-character identifier consisting of Latin characters and digits. Each country’s designated postal operator is responsible for managing the issue and use of S10 tracking numbers, and all other postal services are expected to cooperate with it.

The MPSA provides and updates training in the Automated Military Postal System on the processing of absentee ballots and requires users to successful complete and test before being assigned access to the Automated Military Postal System voting module for absentee ballot handling duties.49 The Automated Military Postal System voting module provides management and reporting tools to view and assess each location’s daily performance in ballot processing. The Product Tracking Report illustrates a separate tracking event that is stored in the Product Tracking Report for both the military postal service and USPS locations. The Product Tracking Report allows patrons to track individual ballots within the military postal service and USPS systems.50

The MPSA also conducts two postal voting leadership teleconferences each week (one for the Americas and European theater and one for the Pacific theater), providing a forum for the MPSA, military postal service representatives, major command postal service representatives, and the Joint Military Postal Agency to review performance, answer questions, report discrepancies, disseminate information and guidance, and share positive and negative events impacting the military postal service voting season.

Written Agreements: The FVAP Office May Enter Into Agreements with External Stakeholder Agencies to Enhance Support to UOCAVA Voters

DoDI 1000.04, “Federal Voting Assistance Program (FVAP),” states that the FVAP Office Director may enter into agreements with other Executive agencies. In accordance with DoDI 1000.04, section 2.5, the Director of the Defense Personnel and Family Support Center, through the FVAP Office, engages in cooperative agreements with nongovernmental organizations to conduct research on voting issues and policies with state and local government entities. The areas of research conducted includes voting assistance, elections, and an impact analysis of voter registration assistance to assist in formulating recommendations, as appropriate, for improvements in Federal and state procedures, forms, and laws.

The FVAP Office may also enter into agreements with other Executive agencies, including the Department of State, Commissioned Corps of the U.S. Public Health Service under agreement with the Department of Health and Human Services, and NOAA Commissioned Officer Corps under agreement with the Department of Commerce, in accordance with 52 U.S.C. § 20301(c).

49 The Automated Military Postal System is a web-enabled management system that integrates and optimizes business processes across the USPS and DoD.

50 Product Tracking and Reporting is the database that stores tracking scan data for all barcoded packages and extra services products. The scan events take place from acceptance all the way to delivery. The tracking information comes from business mailer’s files, handheld scanners, retail equipment, mail processing equipment, and several other postal systems.
On March 6, 2020, the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness issued an interim rule, “Federal Voting Assistance Program.” In the interim rule, the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness proposed amendments to existing regulations in 84 Fed. Reg. 59720 to:

- include the U.S. Maritime Administration under agreement with the Department of Transportation and USPS,
- require DoD Components to establish Component-wide programs to communicate and disseminate voting information with the goal of improving communication and clarity for the impacted population, and
- require Federal agencies to enter into memorandums of understanding with the DoD to provide accurate, nonpartisan voting information and assistance to ensure military and overseas voters understand their voting rights, how to register and apply for an absentee ballot, and how to return their absentee ballot successfully.

On December 13, 2021, the final FVAP rule was published in the Federal Register and the Code of Federal Regulations, with a January 12, 2022, effective date. The Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness did not make any changes to the interim rule. However, the definition of “Uniformed Services” in 32 C.F.R. 233.3 was revised to include the Space Force. This simply recognizes the title 10 definition of “Uniformed Services” that includes the sixth independent U.S. Military Service branch, which became law on December 20, 2019, as part of the National Defense Authorization Act for FY 2020.

According to the 2022 FVAP Report to Congress, memorandums of understanding with other Federal agencies allow the FVAP Office to strengthen its communications by expanding its outreach efforts to other Federal agencies, such as allowing agencies to link to the FVAP website and augment existing voter assistance information. These efforts seek to boost voter awareness, education, and participation in upcoming election cycles.

53 According to Washington Headquarters Services Administrative Instruction No. 102, “Office of the Secretary of Defense (OSD) Federal Register (FR) System,” November 6, 2006 (Incorporating Change 2, September 24, 2020), an interim final rule is a rule published in the Federal Register and Code of Federal Regulations without prior publication of a proposed rule, usually to respond to an emergency situation or in response to a legislative or Executive requirement with a short suspense. The rule is usually considered a temporary rule and may request public comments. If the interim final rule becomes permanent, a final rule must be published in the Federal Register to adopt the interim rule and a discussion of any comments received. The comment period ended April 6, 2020. The Instruction also defines a final rule as a concluding rule published in the Federal Register and the Code of Federal Regulations presenting the decision of the issuing agency and addressing public comments.
The Maritime Administration has an agreement with the Department of Transportation, which will allow the FVAP to better serve Merchant Marine Uniformed Service members. The Maritime Administration will directly coordinate FVAP guidance and instructions to better communicate with Merchant Marine members about how to vote absentee under UOCAVA. The USPS provides essential services to assure the distribution of balloting materials to eligible voters and voted ballots to election officials.

In October 2023, the FVAP Office signed a memorandum of understanding with the Election Assistance Commission to coordinate on section B (the UOCAVA portion) of the Election Administration and Voting Survey.

In 2021, the FVAP Office continued the cooperative agreement with the Council of State Governments, which continues the work of the Overseas Voting Initiative. The collaboration aims to improve the voting process for voters covered by UOCAVA by providing direct interaction with state and local election officials who are best positioned to discuss difficulties, share best practices, and identify emerging trends. This initiative is critical for FVAP engagement with stakeholders in state and local government to explore areas in which the FVAP Office can improve the connection between UOCAVA voters and election administrators.

In support of the November 2022 general election, the FVAP Office held an interagency meeting with Federal government representatives in February 2022. The FVAP Office briefed meeting participants on the absentee voting process, available FVAP resources, and basic agency roles and responsibilities under UOCAVA. Subsequently, the FVAP Office began the process of establishing regular meetings with the group to develop and implement agreements supporting UOCAVA voters. In response to Executive Order 14019, “Promoting Access to Voting,” section 8(d), the Office of Management and Budget Director considered an action to issue Government-wide guidance for agencies supporting UOCAVA voting assistance. However, the Office of Management and Budget Director did not issue such guidance because the Director found that the general requirement for cooperation is clearly stated in UOCAVA and 32 C.F.R. 233 (final rule effective January 12, 2022). Therefore, the FVAP Office will continue to leverage interagency meetings held in conjunction with Executive Order 14019. The FVAP Office also provided leave-behind slide decks with instructions for the 2022 election and is exploring the best avenues to institutionalize UOCAVA support mechanisms consistent with and tailored to each organization’s mission. The FVAP Office’s goal is to have memorandums of understanding in place for the 2024 election, especially with agencies with voters covered by UOCAVA.
By developing and implementing written agreements, such as the memorandum of understanding that the DoD has with the Election Assistance Commission, the FVAP Office can ensure that the FVAP Office meets the intent of DoDI 1000.04 regarding outreach and access. The FVAP Office can also ensure a collaborative and efficient effort to support UOCAVA voters’ ability to exercise their and their eligible family members’ right to vote from anywhere in the world, especially those serving in deployed, dispersed, and tenant organizations.

MBTP Research Program: The FVAP Office Continues to Coordinate Efforts to Develop an End-to-End Ballot Tracking System

Section 580D of the National Defense Authorization Act for FY 2020 required the FVAP Office Director to study the feasibility of a pilot program providing full ballot tracking of overseas military absentee ballots through the mail stream. In addition, Executive Order 14019, section 8(c), required establishing procedures to enable a comprehensive, end-to-end ballot tracking system for all absentee ballots cast by military and other eligible overseas voters under UOCAVA. In response, in July 2021, the FVAP Office submitted the MBTP research report required by Congress. The sections below summarize the key points from the research report.

MBTP Research Report Summary

The Council of State Governments is the lead sponsor and project management source providing project management and financial and administrative support to election officials. The FVAP Office acts as the lead Federal facilitator for the project and overall government sponsor for the cooperative agreement with the Council of State Governments and the primary researcher for post-pilot data and findings. The USPS provides key technical assets for guidance and technical support for setup and configuration of the project. The MPSA also provides key technical assets for guidance with the military postal system and standardized guidance to military postal system personnel on scanning MBTP mail. Also, local election officials are the key implementers of program specifications, preparing official ballot packages with assigned barcodes for outbound and returning ballot envelopes.

The FVAP Office conducted a series of procedural and technical tests to establish supporting procedures for the 2022 general election expansion of the MBTP. Total funding consists of postage costs for mail and packages with at least four tests to 1,500 participants (for example, voting assistance officers) at an estimated cost not to exceed $300,000. This estimate is based on the conduct Finding of approximately four full testing efforts for delivery to and return of materials from overseas personnel and associated administrative costs incurred during pilot program implementation.

The FVAP Office conducted a series of tests to support greater implementation and ballot tracking in time for the 2022 general election with the least amount of disruption to business operations of state and local election officials, the USPS, MPSA, and Department of State.

The MBTP provided voters with information about the location of their blank ballot from the election office to the voter, and then the completed ballot to its delivery to the election office. Election officials relayed information upon request directly to the voter about the ultimate disposition of the ballot.

Federal and state agencies and national election organizations are partners in carrying out their roles and responsibilities in securing election infrastructure. These stakeholders consider security when designing and implementing any direct or supporting election systems. Any military ballot tracking system would not change the overall security profile already administered by the USPS and MPSA.

According to the MBTP Research Report, these tests and long-term implementation are constrained by two key factors: the voluntary nature of state and local election officials to offer ballot-tracking services in absence of a Federal mandate and the limited ability to require other countries to perform scanning of international mail pieces within the structure of the Universal Postal Union.

Findings for the MBTP Expansion

In 2021, the FVAP Office submitted to Congress the DoD Military Ballot Tracking Pilot Research Report, which determined that including all citizens eligible to vote under UOCAVA into the parameters of a ballot-tracking program may not be possible for all overseas voters because not all foreign postal operators offer the types of tracked services that serve the needs of mailers sending ballot materials.

However, going forward, the FVAP Office will test to determine possible tracking solutions available for completed ballots returning from embassies and consulates.

The 2016 MBTP tracked ballots during the 2016 general election and benefited from the MBTP’s small size and partnerships because existing software products and mailing infrastructure were repurposed due to the heavy reliance on manual processes. The FVAP Office envisions a future MBTP as a series of tests to educate 56 39 U.S.C. § 3406, “Balloting Materials Under the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act,” January 5, 2009, states that balloting materials under UOCAVA (individually or in bulk): 1) shall be carried expeditiously and free of postage and 2) may be mailed at a post office established outside the United States, unless such mailing is prohibited by treaty or other international agreement of the United States.

organizations involved in the voting process and to refine possible technical solutions to support greater levels of implementation across election jurisdictions with military populations.

Under current Federal law, state and local election officials are not required to provide comprehensive ballot tracking. Jurisdictions typically use an Intelligent Mail barcode or a third-party vendor system to track ballots sent by mail. The continued expansion of the Intelligent Mail barcode across election jurisdictions points to the need for the USPS and MPSA to test the best way to integrate the Intelligent Mail barcode into a comprehensive tracking effort and adjust business processes accordingly. The Intelligent Mail barcode is designed to scan data back to the mail service provider. Some local election officials use Intelligent Mail barcode scan data to monitor ballot mail movement in the mail stream and provide methods for voters to track outbound and return ballot mail. Testing will ultimately determine the overall viability of the Intelligent Mail barcode versus another type of barcode that more closely aligns with military postal service processes and provides a plain-text tracking code directly to voters.

The 2016 MBTP leveraged the existing ballot tracking gateway available on the USPS website, but this ballot tracking experience does not capture the final disposition and confirmation by the election official that the ballot was received and subject to final acceptance and tabulation. Scanning existing barcodes identifies only a change in custody and receipt. Future pilot efforts would identify specific scan events and identify key data points for election officials to integrate with their own internal reporting systems that voters can use to verify final disposition of their returned ballots.

Before the FVAP Office can offer recommendations for seamless UOCAVA ballot mail processing and tracking, the FVAP Office needs to complete any pilot program and subsequent testing to evaluate various commercially available barcode options and envelope designs to determine the least disruptive and most effective solution. The FVAP Office further stated in the MBTP report that, in recognition of some of the current business process limitations regarding ballot mail visibility, the USPS can work with the FVAP Office, the MPSA, and other organizations to provide election officials with new letter- and flat-size UOCAVA ballot envelope templates. Pilot participants can test the effectiveness of various envelope template designs. The pilot would also provide participants an opportunity to identify business process improvements for all stakeholders, including the Diplomatic Pouch and Mail Division, USPS, and MPSA, as well as opportunities to improve scanning processes, such as correcting handheld scanner deficiencies.
To resolve these technical challenges, the FVAP Office envisions a pilot program conducted as a series of tests to determine potential solutions across election jurisdictions. The 2016 MBTP represented an effective proof of concept in terms of its original objectives, but any future pilots should be used to conduct field testing outside of actual elections. The 2016 MBTP consisted of approximately 1,500 ballots. Any future pilot program would consist of an equivalent volume and at least four rounds of testing, leveraging participants from voting assistance officers serving at overseas military installations or various U.S. embassies and consulates. Currently, over 1,200 voting assistance officers conduct voting assistance responsibilities at overseas locations, with approximately 242 embassies and consulates also supporting voting assistance activities. Through interagency partnerships, these populations would be leveraged to conduct a series of tests on the technical parameters and to identify specific answers to challenges identified during the 2016 MBTP.

The FVAP Office remains in an existing cooperative agreement with the Council of State Governments. The existing cooperative agreement established the Overseas Voting Initiative as a working group of state and local election officials to identify best practices when serving voters covered by UOCAVA. These tests will examine the following elements.

- Integration of the Intelligent Mail barcode, or acceptable alternatives, for tracking setups for prograde (materials sent to voters) ballots
- Ballot envelope design changes to improve visibility, automation, and manual processing
- Identification of key scan events, provisioning scan events to mail owner or mail service providers events, and data for integration into election official databases
- Possible changes to Label 11-DOD distribution or label generation by state and local election officials
- Qualitative user experience data collection

At the end of these tests, the FVAP Office, Diplomatic Pouch and Mail Division of the Department of State, USPS, and MPSA will determine the most effective processes.

MBTP Research Report Conclusion

The FVAP Office concluded that the 2016 MBTP was the first to provide full life-cycle tracking of ballots throughout the USPS–military postal service network. It increased customer service for voters and provided valuable research data to help identify areas for improvement on both the Federal and local levels.
In response to requirements enacted in the National Defense Authorization Act for FY 2020, the FVAP Office engaged its Federal partners to review the potential for an expanded pilot program that addresses the following requirements.

- Scope and cost of the expanded pilot program
- Projected cost of extending this pilot program to all eligible voters under UOCAVA
- The organizations that provided substantial FVAP support in conducting the pilot, a description of the support, and costs associated with that support
- Recommendations on the process and steps necessary to expand the program to all eligible overseas members and their families

In pursuit of these requirements, the FVAP Office plans to carry out an expanded pilot program consisting of a series of procedural and technical tests that closely replicate the level of effort conducted in 2016 but conducted outside an election event.

The FVAP Office satisfied the congressional requirement to research the feasibility for the potential for an expanded, end-to-end ballot tracking pilot program. The FVAP Office continues to coordinate efforts to develop an end-to-end ballot tracking system.

The FVAP Office Complied with the Requirements of DoD Instruction 1000.04

We reviewed the FVAP website, which contains survey results that the FVAP Office routinely reported to the President and Congress. The FVAP website effectively assists eligible voters and other stakeholders while providing statistical analysis and general information on voter participation and Federal–state cooperation. The website includes educational materials that help simplify the UOCAVA voting process, identifies state websites offering online voter registration and ballot request tools, and compiles election news, state-specific voting deadlines, requirements, and contact information.

We determined that the FVAP Office complied with the requirements in DoD 1000.04, “Federal Voting Assistance Program (FVAP).” Specifically, the FVAP Office engaged with the Services and external stakeholder agencies, developed written agreements, and combined the work of election officials and voters who conducted and analyzed post-election surveys, as well as metrics from voting assistance officers. The FVAP Office used the results of actions taken to report all endeavors to the President and Congress. As a result, eligible voters had access to the information necessary to participate in the voting process. DoD organizations and leaders also had the necessary tools to ensure access to and comply with Federal law and DoDI 1000.04.

Scope and Methodology

We conducted this evaluation from October 2023 through February 2024 in accordance with the "Quality Standards for Inspection and Evaluation," published in December 2020 by the Council of the Inspectors General on Integrity and Efficiency. Those standards require that we adequately plan the evaluation to ensure that objectives are met and that we perform the evaluation to obtain sufficient, competent, and relevant evidence to support the findings, conclusions, and recommendations. We believe that the evidence obtained was sufficient, competent, and relevant to lead a reasonable person to sustain the findings, conclusions, and recommendations.

The scope of this evaluation included the reporting period of January 1, 2023, to December 31, 2023, in accordance with our responsibilities under 10 U.S.C. § 1566. We collected reports from the OIGs of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, and Space Force, assessing their Services’ voter assistance program compliance during 2023. We reviewed these reports and supporting data to report on the level of compliance and effectiveness of Service voting assistance programs.

We issued requests for information, interviewed representatives from the DoD FVAP Office, and reviewed the Service OIGs’ FVAP reports to assess their implementation of requirements specified in DoDI 1000.04, "Federal Voting Assistance Program (FVAP).” We reviewed the FVAP website and documentation prepared by the FVAP Office, including the MBTP research report and its annual report to Congress on the effectiveness of activities carried out under UOCAVA. We issued requests for information to the offices of the Council of State Governments, Election Assistance Commission, USPS, MPSA, and Departments of Commerce, Health and Human Services, Homeland Security, Justice, State, and Transportation to assess the level of outreach and collaboration between these offices and the FVAP Office to ensure that voters covered by UOCAVA can vote worldwide.

We reported on the Services’ voting assistance programs concerning their effectiveness and whether these programs complied with relevant DoD and Service policies. To determine compliance with DoDI 1000.04 regarding outreach efforts to voters covered by UOCAVA to ensure the ability to vote worldwide, we collected and reviewed the following.

- DoD policies and procedures
- Annual FVAP reports to Congress and the President
• U.S. Election Assistance Commission electronic voting reports (which include FVAP UOCAVA data) to Congress and the President
• UOCAVA voter registration and absentee ballot requests and submissions data maintained in the FVAP portal
• Council of State Governments Overseas Voting Initiative documentation, cooperative agreement, and program guidelines
• USPS OIG reports covering election mail
• Services’ quarterly data on voters covered by UOCAVA assisted by and populated in the FVAP portal
• FVAP and Service guidance on voter assistance and outreach

To avoid duplication, we also reviewed relevant reports by other oversight organizations, such as the Government Accountability Office (GAO) and USPS OIG.

We reviewed relevant Federal laws, DoD and Service policies, voting action plan reports, and other appropriate documents, including the following policies and guidance.

Statute and Executive Policies

Executive Order 14019, “Promoting Access to Voting”
DoD Policy

DoD Instruction 1000.04, “Federal Voting Assistance Program (FVAP)”

DoD Instruction 4525.09, “Military Postal Service (MPS)”

Service Policies

Each Military Service published voting assistance program policies to implement the statute and DoD Instruction.

- Army Regulation 608-20, “Army Voting Assistance Program,” November 13, 2020
- Air Force Instruction 36-3107, “Voting Assistance Program,” July 1, 2021

Each Service supplements its voting assistance program with annual voting action plans, as reported in their voting action plan reports, and focus area checklists. These voting action plans guide commanders and voting assistance officers in implementing the law and DoD policy. The voting action plans also identify key dates for ordering and mailing voting material and reporting voting assistance metrics for each election year.

Use of Computer-Processed Data

We did not use computer-processed data to perform this evaluation.

Prior Coverage

The GAO issued one report in the last 5 years related to voting assistance. Unrestricted GAO reports can be accessed at http://www.gao.gov. As required by 10 U.S.C. § 1566, the DoD OIG reported on the effectiveness of DoD voting assistance programs and compliance with the voting assistance programs of the Military Services annually since 2001. These reports made appropriate recommendations to address program challenges and to improve program support for absent military personnel, their dependents, and other overseas voters. Only the reports for years 2021 and 2019 have open recommendations, as described below. Management took appropriate action on the recommendations in earlier reports. DoD OIG reports can be accessed at http://www.dodig.mil/reports.html/. The USPS OIG issued four reports discussing election mail. Unrestricted USPS OIG reports can be accessed at https://www.uspsoig.gov/reports.

GAO

According to the GAO, during the 2020 Federal elections, the Election Assistance Commission (EAC) administered $400 million in grant funds provided by the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act to help states prepare for and respond to the coronavirus disease–2019 (COVID-19) pandemic. The EAC shared information on a range of topics to help state and local election officials conduct elections during the COVID-19 pandemic. The EAC administered CARES Act grants by obligating funds and overseeing how states spent the funds, in part by reviewing states’ grant reports to check how states spent funds to respond to the pandemic. It also reported information to Congress on how states spent approximately $326 million in grant funds and to a committee overseeing the response to the pandemic on the specific activities undertaken by states using these funds.

The EAC and GAO identified and addressed issues with its administration of CARES Act grants. As a result, in the EAC’s annual grant expenditure report to Congress, states’ expenditures for similar or the same items or activities could be included under multiple categories, making it difficult to consistently determine, by category, how states spent the grant funds. However, the EAC has not yet assessed its administration of CARES Act grants and documented lessons learned. The GAO recommended that the EAC assess its administration of CARES Act grants to document any lessons learned and, to the extent practicable, implement applicable lessons. The EAC identified ongoing and planned steps to assess and implement lessons learned from its administration of CARES Act grants.

DoD OIG

The DoD OIG found that the FVAP Office provided effective outreach and assistance to eligible voters covered by UOCAVA and their family members, as well as stakeholder agencies. The FVAP Office coordinated with the Services, election officials, eligible voters, and Congress to promote awareness of the right to vote and the resources to exercise that right. Specifically, the FVAP Office met statutory and policy requirements regarding access and outreach through multiple actions. As a result of actions by the FVAP Office and its coordination with stakeholder agencies, eligible voters had access to the information necessary to participate in the voting process. DoD organizations and leaders also had the necessary tools to help ensure access to vote and comply with Federal law and DoDI 1000.04, “Federal Voting Assistance Program (FVAP).” This report did not contain recommendations.

The DoD OIG found that the FVAP Office generally provided effective outreach and assistance to eligible voters covered by UOCAVA and their family members, as well as stakeholder agencies, such as the Council of State Governments, USPS, MPSA, Election Assistance Commission, and Departments of Commerce, Health and Human Services, Justice, State, and Transportation. The FVAP Office coordinated with the Services, election officials, eligible voters, and Congress to ensure that Service members, their eligible family members, and other overseas citizens were aware of their right to vote and had the tools and resources to exercise that right. Specifically, the FVAP Office met the requirements of Executive Order 14019, “Promoting Access to Voting,” regarding access and performed outreach through multiple actions, as required by DoDI 1000.04. As a result of actions by the FVAP Office and its coordination with stakeholder agencies, eligible voters had the information necessary to participate in the voting process. DoD organizations and leaders also had the necessary tools to ensure access to vote and comply with Federal law and DoD 1000.04. This report did not contain recommendations.

The DoD OIG found that the FVAP Office generally provided effective outreach assistance to eligible UOCAVA voters and their family members, as well as external stakeholder agencies, such as the Election Assistance Commission and the Departments of Commerce, Health and Human Services, Justice, State, and Transportation. The FVAP Office coordinated with the Services, election officials, eligible voters, and Congress to ensure that Service members, their eligible family members, and overseas citizens were aware of their right to vote and had the tools and resources to successfully exercise that right. Specifically, the FVAP Office performed outreach through multiple actions, as required by DoD 1000.04. As a result of actions by the FVAP Office, eligible voters had the information necessary to participate in the voting process. DoD organizations and leaders also had the necessary tools to ensure access to and comply with Federal law and DoD 1000.04. However, the FVAP Office had not developed and implemented agreements, such as memorandums of understanding, with all external stakeholder agencies to enhance outreach and ensure a collaborative and efficient effort to support UOCAVA voters. Entering into memorandums of understanding with other Federal agencies would allow the FVAP Office to strengthen its communications by expanding its outreach through other Federal agencies. These efforts boost voter awareness, knowledge, and participation in upcoming election cycles.

The DoD OIG recommended that the FVAP Office Director develop and implement agreements, such as memorandums of understanding, with all external stakeholder agencies to enhance outreach efforts and ensure a collaborative and efficient effort to support UOCAVA voters and their eligible family members, including those in deployed, dispersed, and tenant organizations. The FVAP Office Director agreed with the recommendation, stating that entering into agreements such as memorandums of understanding with Federal agencies would allow the FVAP to standardize its approach for meeting the requirements of UOCAVA and leverage opportunities to increase the reach of its existing information awareness efforts. The FVAP Office Director stated that, to the extent practicable, the FVAP Office would adopt this recommendation for the 2022 election cycle. As of December 2023, this recommendation remains open.

While each Service OIG found their Service’s voting assistance program to be compliant and generally effective, we also reviewed compliance with DoDI 1000.04 by the Office of the Secretary of Defense and the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Additionally, the Office of the Secretary of Defense receives voting assistance support from the FVAP Office, whose processes and procedures generally provided eligible voters and their family members access to voting information. The Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness is responsible for voting support throughout the Office of the Secretary of Defense through the FVAP Office. The FVAP Office coordinates with the Services, election officials, eligible voters, and Congress to ensure that Service members, their eligible family members, and overseas citizens are aware of their right to vote and have the tools and resources to successfully exercise that right.

As a result of actions by the FVAP Office, eligible voters had the information necessary to participate in the voting process, and DoD organizations and leaders had the necessary tools to ensure access to and comply with Federal law and DoDI 1000.04.

However, the DoD OIG found that the Joint Staff did not have a written voting policy, as required by DoDI 1000.04. The absence of a written policy occurred because responsible Joint Staff officials believed that personnel assigned to the Joint Staff received voting assistance support from their respective Service voting assistance officers. However, the voting assistance support provided by their respective Service voting assistance officers only occurs when Service members initially arrive and are on-boarded. In addition, the Joint Staff voting assistance portfolio manager did not know who the Service voting representatives were and was unable to confirm that Service members assigned to the Joint Staff and their eligible family members had access to Federal voting information and assistance. As a result, the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff cannot ensure that the Joint Staff meets the intent of DoDI 1000.04.

The DoD OIG recommended that the Director of the Joint Staff develop and implement a written voting assistance policy to support Service personnel assigned to the Joint Staff and their family members, including those in deployed, dispersed, and tenant organizations. This recommendation is closed.

The DoD OIG determined that the Navy’s evaluation of its voting assistance program compliance with 10 U.S.C. 1566 and DoDI 1000.04 was incomplete. The Navy relied on a survey with a 49-percent response rate, counting all non-responsive commands as noncompliant, likely underreporting unit FVAP compliance. The DoD OIG also found that, over the past four years, the Naval OIG reported inspecting 18 of 31 total echelon-2 commands it planned to inspect on a five-year cycle. The DoD OIG stated that at this reported rate, the Navy may not achieve its stated goal. Additionally, the DoD OIG found that the Navy still did not have voting assistance officers in every echelon-2 command, region, and installation with more than 25 permanently assigned personnel. Based on these findings, the DoD OIG recommended that the Navy senior Service voting representative determine if the evaluation protocol is capturing Service compliance with the FVAP, coordinate to ensure that the goals established by the Navy for the frequency of unit FVAP inspections are met, and bring the Navy voting assistance program into compliance with 10 U.S.C. § 1566 and DoDI 1000.04 with regard to assigning unit voting assistance officers.

The DoD OIG also determined that only two of the ten combatant commands (U.S. Africa Command and U.S. Transportation Command) had a written FVAP policy as required by DoDI 1000.04. The remaining eight combatant commands gave various reasons for not having a policy, stating that they relied on the Service component or installation, were drafting a policy, or had none. Based on this finding, the DoD OIG recommended that the commanders of U.S. Central Command, U.S. Cyber Command, U.S. European Command, U.S. Indo-Pacific Command, U.S. Northern Command, U.S. Special Operations Command, U.S. Southern Command, and U.S. Strategic Command develop and implement written voting policies to support Uniformed Services personnel and their family members, including those in deployed, dispersed, and tenant organizations. As of December 2023, this recommendation remains open for the U.S. Southern Command.

U.S. Postal Service OIG

USPS Report No. 22-093-R22, “Election Mail Readiness for the 2022 Mid-Term Elections,” September 26, 2022

According to the USPS OIG, the USPS was generally ready for timely processing of election mail for the 2022 mid-term election. The USPS established the Election and Government Mail Services Organization, prioritized the timely processing and delivery of election mail during 2022 primary elections, implemented prior audit recommendations, and made progress in implementing election mail policies. The USPS processed nearly 10 million more election mail pieces from April 1 through June 30, 2022, than during the same period for the 2020 primaries. Even with the significant increase, the USPS delivered 97.6 percent of identifiable election mail on time, an increase of 1 percentage point from the same period in 2020.

However, the OIG found examples where the USPS was not in compliance with election mail policies; specifically, 3 of 6 processing and distribution centers and 1 of 10 delivery units did not complete required checklists, certifications, and postmarking in accordance with policy. The OIG found that the USPS was able to measure service performance for 83.3 percent of identifiable ballots. While the USPS has made progress reducing the number of ballots excluded from service measurement, it is important that it continues to identify root causes of ballots excluded from measurement.

According to the USPS OIG, the USPS successfully processed international election mail for the 2020 general election and 2021 Georgia runoff elections, including international military and diplomatic election ballots. The OIG did not observe any materially significant election mail delays and determined that the USPS took timely corrective actions related to short-term operational readiness and staffing availability at the Chicago International Service Center as recommended in its September 2020 report. For military and diplomatic ballots of international origin that qualify for tracking capabilities, the USPS data reported a delivery scan for over 98 percent of deliverable ballots for the general election and nearly 97 percent for the Georgia runoffs for Senate. Mail officials from the Departments of State and Defense stated that they were generally satisfied with the USPS's international election mail processing. The USPS also implemented a variety of monitoring and oversight mechanisms for international election mail across all International Service Centers. These controls and tools included dedicated election teams and daily self-audits, clearance checklists, and logs to ensure compliance with their election and political mail readiness procedures.

According to the USPS OIG, the USPS's preparedness for processing international election mail, including military and diplomatic mail, is at risk based on mail processing delays at the Chicago International Service Center. Operations at the Chicago International Service Center were significantly affected beginning in late March 2020 primarily due to the COVID-2019 pandemic, and delays remained into mid-August, the time of the OIG’s most recent observations at the facility. These delays threaten the facility's overall ability to process military, diplomatic, and other international election mail in a timely manner. The OIG’s analysis of USPS data for all international mail showed over 137,000 delayed pieces—both inbound to and outbound from—the Chicago International Service Center in mid-August 2020. These delays stemmed primarily from staffing shortages, outbound mail restrictions, presentation and screening delays, and transportation-related delays resulting from the pandemic.

The USPS OIG also determined that, as of mid-August, the USPS did not have an active system for tracking and reporting eligible military, diplomatic, and other international election ballots. USPS officials stated that they plan to leverage existing tracking and reporting capabilities in the Product Tracking and Reporting System using the Intelligent Mail barcodes. System modification testing to specifically track and report on election ballots, however, had not yet been completed. Testing was planned for early September 2020 at each International Service Center and other USPS facilities that could accept inbound ballots. Accurately tracking and reporting eligible international election ballots would provide the USPS with key visibility into the number of international election ballots it receives. These data would also provide insight on the respective flows and timing of each piece—information that would be valuable for visibility into ballot processing and handling.

While finalizing the report for publication, the USPS OIG observed operations at the Chicago International Service Center on September 29, 2020, as part of another ongoing project. International mail operations appeared significantly improved from the OIG’s August 2020 observations. Specifically, the workroom floor was visibly clearer of inbound and outbound mail, as was the holding area for mail going into and out of Customs and Border Protection.

USPS Report No. MS-AR-19-003, “Military and Diplomatic Mail Service,” July 31, 2019

According to the USPS OIG, the military and diplomatic outbound mail was delayed in 2018 and 2019, both going to and being processed at the Chicago International Military Service Center. These delayed mail issues were collectively caused by ineffective oversight of operations at the facility level and exacerbated by limited performance measurement (particularly at the Chicago International Military Service Center). Specifically, while the USPS measures timeliness from the point of origin at the retail unit to acceptance at the Chicago International Military Service Center, it does not measure the operational time between acceptance at the Chicago International Military Service Center and assignment to outbound transportation for its destination. The USPS is unable to measure these activities because it does not scan individual pieces to larger containers. As a result of the lack of scanning and measurement for these key processing activities, the USPS does not entirely know how long it takes to process this mail and to what extent these operations contribute to delays. These issues negatively affected mail service received by military and diplomatic mail customers and pushed related financial and customer service burdens onto the USPS, DoD, and Department of State.

FVAP Overview

The FVAP Office provides voting assistance to military personnel, their eligible family members, and other overseas U.S. citizens through a Federal mandate. The FVAP Office works to ensure that each of these groups is aware of the right to vote and has the tools and resources to do so from anywhere in the world.

According to 52 U.S.C. § 20301, the President must delegate to the head of an Executive department the primary responsibility for the functions related to the registration and voting by absent Uniformed Services voters and overseas voters in elections for Federal office. Specifically, the presidential designee must do the following.

- Consult state and local election officials in carrying out this chapter and ensure that such officials are aware of the requirements of UOCAVA.
- Prescribe an official postcard form, containing both an absentee voter registration application and an absentee-ballot application, for use by the states, as required under 52 U.S.C. § 20302(a)(4).
- Prescribe a suggested design for absentee-ballot mailing envelopes.
- Compile and distribute descriptive material on state absentee registration and voting procedures and, to the extent practicable, facts relating to specific elections, including dates, offices involved, and the text of ballot questions.
- Not later than the end of each year after a presidential election year, transmit to the President and Congress a report on the effectiveness of assistance under this chapter, including a statistical analysis of Uniformed Services voter participation, a separate statistical analysis of overseas nonmilitary participation, and a description of state-Federal cooperation.
- Prescribe a standard oath for use with any document under this chapter affirming that a material misstatement of fact in the completion of such a document may constitute grounds for a conviction for perjury.
- Carry out 52 U.S.C. § 20304 with respect to the collection and delivery of marked absentee ballots of absent overseas Uniformed Services voters in elections for Federal office.
• To the greatest extent practicable, take such actions as may be necessary to:
  ○ ensure that absent Uniformed Services voters who cast absentee ballots at locations or facilities under the jurisdiction of the presidential designee can do so in a private and independent manner, and ○ protect the privacy of the contents of absentee ballots cast by absentee Uniformed Services voters and overseas voters while such ballots are in the possession or control of the presidential designee.

• Carry out 52 U.S.C. § 20305 with respect to FVAP improvements.

• Work with the Election Assistance Commission and the chief state election official of each state to develop standards for:
  ○ states to report data on the number of absentee ballots transmitted and received under 52 U.S.C. § 20302(c) and such other data as the presidential designee determines appropriate, and
  ○ the presidential designee to store the reported data.

Executive Order 12642 identified the Secretary of Defense as the presidential designee. The Secretary of Defense delegated this authority and the reporting requirement to the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness. DoDI 1000.04 states that, under the authority, direction, and control of the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness, the Assistant Secretary of Defense (Manpower and Reserve Affairs) provides policy guidance, direction, and oversight of FVAP. The Director of the Defense Support Services Center is assigned policy support and operational responsibilities.

The FVAP Office Director is under the Director of the Defense Support Services Center. To carry out these duties, the FVAP Office coordinates with the Election Assistance Commission and the Departments of Commerce, Defense, Health and Human Services, Justice, State, Homeland Security, and Transportation. DoDI 1000.04 also assigns responsibilities to the DoD Components to develop written, voting-related policies to support all eligible Uniformed Services personnel and their family members, including those in deployed, dispersed, and tenant organizations.

The FVAP Office is required to report the information specified within UOCAVA to the President and Congress no later than September 30 of each odd-numbered year. Its report must include descriptions of Military Department voter registration assistance programs and their use, absentee ballot collection and delivery, cooperation between states and the Federal Government, and assessments of absent Uniformed Services and overseas voter registration and participation.
The FVAP Office, in accordance with 52 U.S.C. § 20305, provides an online portal to inform absent Uniformed Service members, their families, and overseas citizens about voter registration and absentee ballot procedures. Military Service officials, election officials, and other stakeholders use data from the portal for dissemination, analysis, and program improvements.
MEMORANDUM FOR SENIOR SERVICE VOTING REPRESENTATIVES OF THE MILITARY DEPARTMENTS

SUBJECT: Voting Assistance Program Metrics

The Federal Voting Assistance Program (FVAP) coordinated with each Service on the voting assistance program performance metrics and reporting requirements, as required by the Department of Defense Instruction (DoDI) 1000.04. The attached Measures of Effect and Performance reflect the adjustments to FVAP’s current measures of effectiveness based on research provided by the RAND Institute combined with the ongoing assessment FVAP applies to voting assistance.

FVAP prescribes the collection of the following data elements to commence January 1, 2015, via the FVAP portal, with quarterly entries to be provided no later than 15 days after the end of each quarter within CY 15. This guidance supersedes the FVAP memo dated 18 May 2011.

FVAP Estimated Number of Locations Outside the U.S. with the Largest Numbers of Adult U.S. Citizens

Since there is no list of all U.S. citizens living abroad, FVAP compiles foreign and domestic data to estimate the number of voting-age U.S. citizens living in nearly 200 countries around the world. Not every individual in the overseas citizen population is 18 years of age or older and old enough to vote. Of the estimated 4.4 million overseas citizens in 2022, about 2.8 million were of voting age.
